William Boyle Quits Top Democratic Post

Washington, Oct. 13.—(AP)—William M. Boyle, Jr., nder fire in the capital's "influence" probes, today announced is decision to resign as chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Boyle told President Truman in a letter dated October 9 that he did not feel physically able to carry the load of directing the coming national election campaign.

Boyle continued to protest his innocence of any wrongdoing in connection with introducing a prospective borrower to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and told President Truman:

"A Republican member of the senate investigating committee stated yesterday that the record contains 'no evidence of illegality or moral turpitude' on my part. I should add to that I have at all times conducted myself with honor and propriety."

One Killed, Another Hurt In Car Crash

Jena, Oct. 13. —(Special) — One person was killed and another critically injured today when an automobile plunged off highway 19 ten miles southwest of here and traveled 200 yards before crashing into a pine tree.

Alvin Hatfield, 30, of Nebo, La. was killed in the crash. Lavoid Lively, who was also in the car, was still alive when the accident was discovered later by two unidentified persons, and was taken to the Baptist Hospital in Alexandria. His condition was described as critical by the attending physician upon arrival, and there was no change late last night.

Lively is a resident of Baton Rouge, is married, and is the father of two children.

The accident occurred at approximately 4:45 a.m. today, but as there were no witnesses to the crash, the exact time of the wreck could not be determined.

Funeral services for Hatfield will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Nebo Baptist Church, with the Rev. Tom Ratcliffe officiating. There will be a military service for Hatfield, a World War II veteran, by the Whatley-Flaherty Post of the V. F. W. organization. Interment will be in the Graham Cemetery in Nebo under the direction of the Kinner and Stevens Funeral Home of Jena.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Hatfield, of Nebo, and several brothers whose names were not known here today.

Auto Collision Kills La. VFW Commander

Clarence Cash, 34-year-old state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was killed shortly before 7 a.m. Saturday in a highway accident one mile west of Archibald on Louisiana highway 15.

State police said Cash was thrown from the automobile by the impact and died instantly.

Cash's automobile was reported by state police to have collided with a truck driven by Shelly Wilhite, a 31-year-old Richland parish Negro, who is being held in the parish jail at Rayville pending charges of negligent homicide.

Cash was en route to Baton Rouge for a V. F. W. meeting at the time of the fatal accident.

Investigating officers said the Negro attempted to make a left turn off the highway into a private drive when the accident occurred. Cash, traveling east, pulled to the right, officers said, striking the left front side of the truck.

The V. F. W. commander's car turned over and was demolished by the crash.

The driver of the truck is reported by state police to have been under bond from charges of hit and run driving.

Cash's body was taken to the U. N. Trying To Settle Dispute

United Nations, N. Y., Oct. 13.—(AP)— Behind - scenes efforts for conciliation of the Iranian - British oil dispute continued today. But spokesmen said they have little hope either side will change positions before Monday's security council meeting.

"There is no change in our attitude," said Iranian spokesman Hossein Fatemi.

The Iranians opose any formal security council action calling for Iran and Britain to renew their talks.

Allies, Reds Move To Settle Truce Dispute

By Nate Polowetzky

Munsan, Korea, Sunday, Oct. 14 —(AP)— Allied and Red liaison officers met again today at Panmunjom in efforts to settle the last technical difference barring resumption of the Korean cease-fire talks.

The meeting opened about 10 a. m. (8 p. m. EST Saturday).

The meeting lasted only a half hour, adjourning at 10:30 a. m.

Despite the latest Red allegation that Allied planes had strafed the Kaesong - Panmunjom conference area, the Reds appeared eager to get the talks going again.

The one question was definition of a "security area" around Red - held Kaesong, site of the talks which were suspended Aug. 23.

U. N. officers meanwhile sent to Tokyo their secret findings on the latest Red complaint — that three American jet planes strafed the conference area late Friday, killing one Korean boy and wounding another.

There was a growing feeling among correspondents that the inquiry supported the Red complaint:

"Correspondents at Panmunjom generally felt the Communists had presented enough tangible evidence to back up their case—although there still were enough unknown factors to make a clear-cut opinion impossible," reported Robert B. Tuckman, AP correspondent who accompanied the liaison officers.

The investigators talked to a 15 - year-old boy, saw the body of a 12 - year-old boy and a wounded 2 - year-old, and were shown slugs and bullet marks.

Asked by a Chinese officer if he had seen enough evidence of a strafing, Col. Don Darrow replied, "yes," but added that he could not tell how old the slugs were.

A U. N. command spokesman noted, however, that the Reds had made only a verbal protest and requested a speedy inquiry.

In the past they have followed up such protests with violently-worded formal complaints from the top Chinese Red and North Korean commanders. The fact that they had not done so in this in-

Egypt Invited To Join Middle East Alliance

By Edward Curtis

London, Oct. 13. —(AP)— The United States, Britain, France and Turkey today asked Egypt, the touchy leader of the awakening Arab world, to become the pivot of a new Middle East Alliance against communism.

They offered her full partnership in the regional defense setup agreed upon by foreign ministers of the North Atlantic treaty powers in Ottawa last month.

Rushing legislation to throw the British out of Sudan and strategic Suez, Egypt received the offer cooly.

King Farouk's government appeared to regard with reserve any arrangement which would lead to establishment on the Suez canal of an international force, including British, to replace the British troops on guard there under the 1936 treaty of Alliance.

Ambassadors of the four powers delivered the invitation to Foreign Minister Mohammed Salah El Din at Alexandria.

Salah El Din stressed that Egypt will go ahead, nevertheless, with cancellation of the Alliance and the treaty of 1899 which provides for joint Anglo - Egyptian rule of Sudan. Egypt's parliament is expected to complete Monday night the abrogation of those treaties, despite a warning by British Foreign Minister Herbert Morrison that Britain will use force if necessary to maintain her full treaty rights.

Dispatches from the Mediterranean Island of Cyprus said all leaves have been cancelled for officers and men of Britain's 16th independent parachute group, a trouble - shooting force about 4,000 strong, amid reports they might be sent to Suez to reinforce the 10,000 - man garrison. Military sources declined comment. The group was dispatched from London to Cyprus last May soon after the Anglo - Iranian oil row boiled up.

Salah El Din announced that, in talking with the invoys, "I made it clear that I received these proposals according to diplomatic custom and that the fact of receiving them meant nothing more."

In addition to the proposals by the four powers, Britain alone sought a settlement of Egypt's demands for placing the cotton-growing Sudan, a region of 8,000,000 population, under Farouk's crown.

The defense move is a tacit admission by Britain that she can no longer single - handedly carry on as the traditional guardian of the Middle East.

U. S. 24th Division, South Koreans Punch Out Longest Gains On Approaches To Oumsong; U. N. Armies Seize 17 Heights

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sunday, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Allied forces rammed nearly two miles deeper into Red Korea Saturday in the fiercest fighting since last spring.

Most of the action was reported on a 22 - mile stretch of the central front — a section of rolling hills checkered with rice paddies —which once was the Communist "Iron Triangle" buildup area.

The U. S. 24th division and the Republic of Korea (R. O. K.) second and sixth divisions punched out the longest gains on the approaches to Kumsong, 30 air miles north of parallel 38.

Seventeen hills in the area were seized, the biggest some 2,000 feet high.

On the eastern front, American and attached French troops of the U. S. second division still were rubbing out Red bunkers on the northern slopes of "Heartbreak Ridge" — an operation described as among the bitterest mopping-up battles of the war.

On the western front, U. S. first cavalry troops moved unopposed on a ridgeline northwest of Yonchon, a ruined village eight miles north of parallel 38. The easy advance followed a costly setback. The first battalion of the division's seventh regiment was badly cut up by counter - attacking Chinese Reds Friday. Survivors were rescued by the eighth cavalry regiment.

The Allied stabs on the central front dominated the war scene Saturday, however. Frontline officers expressed belief that the assaults so far had hit only outlying defenses manned by second-rate Chinese troops.

Most of the resistance came from Red artillery behind the bunkered hills. One officer called it the worst shelling since the war broke out June 25, 1950, with

Princess 'Beth' Visits Toronto

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 13. — (AP) —The royal team—Princess Elizabeth and her husband the Duke of Edinburgh—split up today for the first time since their arrival in Canada.

Princess Elizabeth was guest of honor at an all-woman buffet luncheon given by the Lieutenant Governor's wife. The Duke was honored—and spoke—at a $5 all-male luncheon given by the Toronto Board of Trade.

Philip, reported to have stayed up past 2 a. m. writing his first, and only, address in Canada, complimented Canadians for having progressed "alongside the parallel development and the powerful influence of the friendly giant at the south door."

REV. OLDSEN ON LUTHERAN HOUR

Former Professor Of Religion At Valparaiso To Be Heard On Radio

The Rev. Armin C. Oldsen, formerly professor of religion at Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., has succeeded the late Dr. Walter A. Maier as permanent speaker on "Bringing Christ to the Nations," the International Lutheran Hour radio program.

Pastor Oldsen was born March 14, 1910 at Addison, Ill. He attended parochial school at Addison, Ill., and Hinsdale, Ill., and public school at Hubbard, Ia. He graduated from Concordia College, Milwaukee, in 1930 and Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, in 1934.

The Lutheran Hour's new speaker opened the nineteenth season of the Lutheran Hour broadcasting with a gigantic rally in Chicago Stadium with a capacity audience in attendance.

Speaking from Mutual's studios in Chicago, he related his first reactions to his assignment to one of the most important preaching posts in the world today.

Pastor, pulpit orator, personal counsellor, and author, Reverend Oldsen will draw on a wealth of personal experiences in preparing his weekly radio addresses. Each broadcast will also include a brief special message, usually addressed to the audience as individuals.

In his first address "A Message from God," Reverend Oldsen said "I'd like to nail it (the text from Judges 3, 20) to the masthead of our program and let it float like an excited banner over all the clouds of uncertainty that surround us and above any storm that may sweep over us out of the future: "Friend of mine, I have a message from God for you.' "

"The Foundation for Life" is the topic chosen by the new speaker of the Lutheran Hour for his third broadcast on October 14. This program can be heard in this area over radio station KLIC 1230 every Sunday afternoon at 12:30 p. m.

TO THE DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS OF THE CENTRAL SAVINGS BANK

Please accept my sincere wishes for your continued success. The opening of the Louisville Branch is another step in the progress of Monroe and we join your many friends in saying

SCHOOL BOARD RACES NOT UP

New Members To Be Named At Time Of Congressional

Because of the fact that Ouachita parish is entitled to three additional school board members as a result of increased population, shown by the 1950 census, there has been considerable speculation on whether any school board members will be voted on in the big first primary election in January. It was stated at the office of the parish superintendent of education that voting on these offices will not take place until late in 1952.

Members of the parish school board are elected at the same time as congressmen and are elected for a six-year term. One-third of the total membership of the board is elected every two years, the terms being staggered so that the board is never made up entirely of newly elected members. In recent years there have been 13 school board members and, of this number, four have been elected at one congressional election, five at the next and four at the next. With an increase of three members it would mean that the number to be elected each time would be increased by one.

According to the present interpretation, three new members will be elected at the time of the next congressional election. One will serve a two-year term, one a four-year term and one a six-year term. In this way vacancies will occur so that the proper number of new members of the board will be elected each two years.

It is believed that when races are made for the three new places, each candidate will run as usual and it will be determined after the election which is to serve a two-year term, four-year term and six-year term.

BAPTISTS SHOW BIG YEAR'S GAIN

Parish Membership 16,645 Sum Raised Over $702,000

Baptists in Ouachita parish are grown to formidable numbers and their annual sums raised for the cause in the course of a year may surprise. Figures shown at the report for the year of the Ouachita Parish Baptist Association held the past week at Peniel Baptist Church disclosed a total parish membership of 16,645 and the total money collected at all the churches of this denomination in the parish for the year was given as $702,659.

Rev. C. C. Martin was elected moderator and Rev. C. Roger Johnson was named vice-moderator; H. M. Roach, Swartz, clerk and H. K. Litton, treasurer.

The entire work of the past year was given in review and it was shown that total membership has gained 905 and that there were received into church membership a total of 1422 in the past year.

The U. S. department of commerce estimates that foreign showings return $100,000,000 a year to U. S. movie studios.

OIL PROGRESS WEEK PLANNED

Importance Of Industry Locally To Be Stressed This Week

Mayor John Coon yesterday proclaimed Oct. 14 to 20, inclusive, as Oil Progress Week in Monroe.

The local observance will be directed by a committee headed by Matt Rice as chairman and James W. Moore, vice - chairman. Several events will be planned to acquaint the public with the importance of the retail and wholesale oil business locally.

The proclamation is as follows:

Whereas America's growing defense program is straining the production facilities of our nation, our state and our community and

Whereas many people are asking whether those facilities, and the natural resources upon which they depend, are equal to the demands being placed upon them, and

Whereas it has been brought to the attention of this office that October 14 to 20 has been designated as Oil Progress Week, when members of the American petroleum industry strive to inform the public regarding what they are doing to produce more and better petroleum products to meet the growing civilian and military needs of the United States, and

Whereas residents of our community who are engaged in this important industry are desirous of participating in the observance of Oil progress Week by arranging various exhibits and engaging in other activities which showhow they, and their competitive progressive companies contribute to our high standards of living which must be preserved along with our democratic freedoms.

Now, therefore, 1, John Coon, mayor of Monroe do hereby proclaim the week of October 14 to 20, inclusive, to be Northeast Louisiana Oil Progress Week and do call to the serious consideration of all citizens the many services and contributions which the oil men who work and live amongst us have made and are making to the betterment of our public, social, business and private lives, as well as to the security of our beloved country.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of Monroe to be affixed.

John E. Coon,
Mayor of Monroe

National Bible Week

National Bible Week will be observed from October 15 to 21 this year. It is sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, a non-sectarian and non-profit organization, whose mission is to encourage belief and faith in God, daily reading of the Bible and religious education for all. The work of the committee has been endorsed by the president, governors, members of congress, and leaders in industry, labor, and the professions.

Today, in a world which has been corrupted by cynicism and fear, a thorough knowledge of the teachings of the Bible is more important than ever before. The world's most terrible problems have resulted from the loss and destruction of those spiritual values which our ancestors held to be preeminent. As Walter H. Judd, national chairman for the week has said, "Because American pioneers had a firm belief in the spiritual fatherhood of God, they put first in their scale of values the freedom and dignity of individual man as a spiritual being. As a result their political system released, for the first time, the creative capacities inherent in men everywhere..... We shall not live victoriously, either as individuals or as a nation, except as we come to know God and His eternal laws and love through eternal searching of the Scriptures."

The greatest strength of a people lies in the realm of the spirit.

Beacon Of Light – B'nai B'rith

In this day of atom-bomb insecurity and cold war concern, it is good for the soul to rediscover an organization dedicated to the principle of service to mankind. We note that B'nai B'rith, the oldest and largest Jewish service body in the world celebrated its 108th anniversary in Monroe. Against today's stormy world background, the deeds of B'nai B'rith shine with a warm and comforting light.

Founded on October 13, 1843 by a handful of 12 idealists, this organization has grown steadily until today it is a huge army of volunteers for democracy numbering some 350,000 men and women.

What has kept this vast order running? A simple motto: help the other fellow! With this principal in mind, its networks of philanthropic agencies, welfare organizations, and religious and cultural departments have contributed greatly to the democratic heritage of America. B'nai B'rith has put the principle of "love thy neighbor" to work. How? By educating the young; by bringing succor to victims of war and disaster, regardless of creed; by supporting philanthropic institutions; by promoting religious and cultural activities on the college campuses; by encouraging a healthy integration of all peoples of whatever race or creed into the fabric of American society; by fighting bigotry and furthering the cause of democracy and intergroup understanding. In short, B'nai B'rith, rich in tradition and rich in achievement, has sought to do what is right, what is good, what is ethical for many people and many faiths.

We salute B'nai B'rith — it's Hillel Foundations, its Anti-Defamation League, its youth organizations, its Vocational Service Bureau, Its Americanism Commission, its special projects and special causes too numerous to catalogue.

B'nai B'rith has been a beacon of light in a world that sometimes looks too dark for comfort!

Socialism In Action

Do we want to create severe shortages of essential goods and services? There seems to be one certain way to do that —socialize enterprise.

England's current electric power situation is a perfect case in point. In Britain, the power industry, along with most other basic enterprise, is totally socialized, and is run by civil servants who may or may not know anything about power production.

Now, in the words of a news story from London which recently appeared in the Wall Street Journal, "The blackout is coming in Britian.

"Its return promises an industrial production crisis here this winter, delayed defense timetables and misery for the average Briton—in short, one more blow at this country's sagging economy.

"Unannounced power cuts have been suddenly dousing lights, slowing factory production schedules and causing kitchen stoves to grow cold in some parts of England all summer. But this is only a mild foretaste of what's in store for Britons when winter arrives."

The story quotes the chairman of the British Electricity Authority as saying winter prospects are "grim." Another British expert said the outlook "is very serious indeed." Still another said, "Unless stern measures are taken there's every indication of a serious industrial shutdown this coming winter, even in normal weather conditions." The "stern measures," apparently, will take the form of iron-handed power rationing.

When the labor government socialized the power industry, the people were promised abundant service, better service and low-cost service. Not one of these goals has been attained or is in sight. The situation has simply gotten worse and worse, with the pending crisis as the culmination.

You can't beat socialism when it comes to creating scarcity!

Publishing Relief Rolls

A few years ago authorities in New York were startled to discover that two relief clients had been touring France and Switzerland. They hadn't been quite able to have their relief checks follow them abroad, but as soon as their ship docked they were off to the relief office to get back on the rolls. An extreme case, perhaps, and not all relief chiseling has been so bald or so bad. Nevertheless, relief frauds continue to harass authorities in many states. These frauds rob taxpayers of millions annually.

In New York it was once suggested that the names of all persons on relief should be made a public record. Indiana has tried it as an antidote for chiseling. But the Indiana legislature is now in process of suspending the law's effective date until July 4, 1953, because the federal government makes secrecy a condition of continued welfare aid. In the case of Indiana this amounts to $20,000,000 annually, and after adoption of the law federal funds were terminated.

Partly as a result of Indiana's controversy, the relief issue came on for discussion before the recent governors' conference at Gatlinburg, Tenn. Projected changes in administration and the civil service status of relief personnel found the governors divided. But the question of publishing the relief rolls was resolved unanimously in favor of leaving publicity to the discretion of the individual states. Indignation of governors with relief chiselers is shared by their constituents.

It is significant that professional relief workers and plain bureaucrats, who have charge of making relief policy at Washington, bitterly oppose making relief rolls public. They seem to feel that what they do with the billions provided for their activities by the taxpayers is the business of nobody but themselves.

The suggestion of letting states decide whether to make the rolls public is anathema to them. States, they seem to think, are an anachronism that should be abolished.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

CASE OF HAROLD STASSEN

Harold Stassen was appointed by the state department to serve on the American delegation at the San Francisco conference, which was managed by Alger Hiss. Stassen was a strong supporter of the bipartisan foreign policy to which Senator Vandenberg devoted the last years of his life. Otherwise, he would not have been acceptable for this position.

Stassen had been governor of Minnesota and on Admiral Halsey's staff in the Pacific during the war. More than any other Republican, his appeal was to youth. When he was invited to attend the secret state department conferences in October, 1949 to discuss the China policy, he was no tyro. The personnel of that conference was such that 17 out of 25 persons attending were drawn from the Institute of Pacific Relations. Stassen could not have represented the Republican party; he was there in his own right as a citizen of considerable experience.

The state department cannot smear Harold Stassen as, for instance, they smear Joe McCarthy because Stassen's career does not lend itself to that kind of an attack. If anything, he has weakened his political prospects by too constant a support of the administration's position in foreign affairs. Therefore, they accuse him of faulty memory with the implication of falsehood.

Particularly on the subject of withholding supplies from the Chinese Nationalists do they totally deny Stassen's statements. He has challenged them to produce documents which he claims will corroborate his position in the diaries of Senator Arthur Vandenberg and Secretary of Defense James Forrestal. He has apparently forgotten that his general statements have already been fully substantiated by testimony before the Russell committee investigating the dismissal of General MacArthur. Louis Johnson, secretary of defense at the time (1949), testified:

"Senator Green. Now, in answer to one other question that was asked you, you were asked did the administration continue to give support to the Nationalist government, and you hesitated and then you said they did not give support, but did they give any opposition?

"Mr. Johnson. Yes, sir.

"Senator Green. Active opposition?

"Mr. Johnson. I don't know what you mean by 'active' quite, but there were efforts from my office at the insistance of the military, of the defense department, to speed up the doing of the things they wanted to do in the line of acquisition and material that it seemed they were asked to get, and without being able to give you details, the definite feeling I had, there was a dragging of feet, an effort to delay."

Vice - Admiral Oscar C. Badger also testified:

"To make a long story short, nothing happened. Questions as to even the prices, what it was going to cost those people (Chiang Kai-shek), were not forthcoming, and remembering that that was approved by the joint chiefs, had the authority of the act of congress and had the approval of the president, a period of five months went by before we could actually get any acion.

"Senator Hickenlooper. Action where?

"Admiral Badger. Action toward the shipment or knowledge of what was going to come, and you can't build a house, you can't fight a campaign unless you know what is coming and when it is coming, and therefore all the planning, the whole thing was stopped."

Admiral Badger testified concerning one shipment:

" . . . I received word that a ship was entering, was about to go into Tientsin and it had about ten per cent of this shipment that we had recommended on board. I said, 'Well, that's pretty bad. It's too bad that it isn't the full business, but maybe it will still have a morale effect.' . . ."

General Fu Tso-Yi, who was holding out against the Communists, assuming that American aid would come, reported to Admiral Badger:

"The above - mentioned weapons are not in good condition, and for the most part cannot be used. I do not know how or why these weapons were forwarded in an incomplete state."

The admiral's conclusion is:

"The result was that General Fu Tso-Yi, who had his back to the wall at that time at Tientsin and Peiping in effect had his generals say 'Is this what we have been waiting for?' and they collapsed within two days."

This collapse gave Peking (Peiping) to the Communists.

I could go on quoting substantiation of Harold Stassen' statements from the record, and may still do so if the situation warrants it. The record is enormous and all in one direction, except the testimony of General David G. Barr, who was as much opposed to Nationalist China as the state department.

BIBLE THOUGHTS:

And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand.—Rev. 22:10.

The word unto the prophet spoken
Was writ on tablets yet unbroken:
The word by seers or sibyls told,
In groves of oak or fanes of gold,
Still floats upon the morning wind,
Still whispers to the willing mind.

Editors Roundtable

To a substantial majority of editors the British withdrawal from Iran was a wise move, continuing the possibility of a settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute and avoiding the possibility of Russian intervention, under treaty, in Iran. A small minority considers the withdrawal appeasement, largely caused by America's failure to support the British position and boding ill for western interests throughout the middle east. For a larger minority of editors only time can show whether the withdrawal, as the U. N. security council considers the case, was a wise act for peace or an unwise act of appeasement.

Norfolk (Va.) Ledger-Dispatch (Ind.-Dem.): "Britain's evacuation of all British oil men from Abadan has served to relieve some of the pressure of the Iranian oil dispute. This action should create a better atmopshere for consideration of the controversy by the United Nations, and for efforts of the United States to bring Britain and Iran to a settlement that will lift the tension that has been building up in Iran. . . . There is a possibility Iran's position may be modified and the way opened for negotiations for a solution of the problem of Iranian oil."

San Francisco (Calif.) Chronicle (Ind.-Rep.): "When Britain bowed to Premier Mossadegh's shrill ultimatum and humbly pulled her 350 technicians out of the Abadan refinery there was a strong smell of Munich in the air—with, however, this important difference: It wasn't Britain alone that did the folding this time. The United States was a full co-partner in the folly. As a matter of fact, Britain mignt conceivably have had the courage to follow through with her threatened use of force in defense of her rights if the United States hadn't backed away in the security council."

Miami (Fla.) News (Dem.): "To be sure, evacuation under fire may be thought of as a form of 'appeasement.' Yet here Britain was not appeasing the major enemy, which is Russia. Russia would doubtless have liked nothing better than for Britain tsotecihkr ter than for Britain to stick her neck out in Iran. . . With or without war, use of force by Britain would probably have thrown Iran into the arms of Russia. . . . Britain, apparently under restraining advice from Washington, has kept its head and kept its eye on the major enemy. Clearly, this was a wise and responsible decision."

New York Times (Ind.-Dem.): "It will be for the state department to see in the coming months whether this was a wise policy. . . . This meant a willingness to face what would amount to confiscation of foreign property . . . the flouting of the International Court of Justice, the triumph of fanatical nationalism over the international rule of law, a loss of western prestige in the near east, and a blow to the whole system of foreign investments in backward countries. . . . All this has come to pass, and there is only a slim chance of partially retrieving the situation through the United Nations."

Nashville (Tenn.) Tennessean (Dem.): "In challenging Iran's nationalization program, England also would have been challenging most of the middle east, with the strong possibility that Russia would intervene under her mutual assistance pact with Iran. . . . In the course of time, there is always the possibility that nationalistic hysteria will abate to an extent that some acceptable agreement can be worked out with Iran, but it is futile to think that the application of force at this time holds the answer."

Cincinnati (Ohio) Times - Star (Rep.): "Iran's victory, thus far, is heady wine for the entire middle east. When they sensed how the international wind was blowing, Mossadegh's bitterest critics at home jumped on his bandwagon. . . . Will this encourage Iraq to 'nationalize'—meaning to seize—the British-owned and operated oil properties on her soil? And how will it affect the agreeable relations between the U. S. and Ibn Saud in oil-rich Saudi Arabia? The turbulent, and now jubilant, middle east contains roughly half the world's supply of oil—a fuel vital to western defense as well as industry."

Chicago Sun-Times (Ind.): "The British must bear a large measure of blame for what happened in Iran. If the British had been truly generous in sharing their profits with Iran . . . Britain would at least have been on sounder moral ground in appealing to the free nations for support of her position. Since that wasn't . . . the case, the United States could only assume the role of impartial mediator. The onus for the failure of the mediation effort does not rest on Britain alone. The Iranians showed no disposition to be reasonable on several important points, including fair compensation for the seized British oil facilities."

DOWN SOUTH

ECONOMIC SUICIDE?

We have poured out billions of dollars to our Allies during two world wars, and we have continued to pour out these billions to them after the wars ended.

More than that, we have also poured out billions of dollars to our defeated enemies following these wars. Following the first world war, this aid was mainly through private capital furnished by American investors—which was not protected and which has been lost. Following the second world war, our government has taken over this aid—which means it is furnished by the American taxpayers.

It is hardly possible to estimate how much these two world wars have cost the American people. We do know that they have left us with a national debt as of this time of approximately $260,000,000,000. We know that foreign aid since the end of World War II has cost us about $35,000,000,000. We know that foreign aid requested for the current fiscal year is $8,500,000,000 and that the request will be increased next year. We know that we are now spending $60,000,000,000 a year for rearmament and that this expenditure will increase to about the rate of $80,000,000,000 per year next year and the year after.

We are rebuilding the defeated nations of Germany and Italy and Japan and the others at enormous expense to the American taxpayers. In doing so, we are providing serious competition for these same taxpayers. The British workers have for some time been worried about the competition from Japan in the field of cheap cotton goods; they are now worried about the competition from Germany in the heavy industries.

This competition is now coming to our own shores. A serious depression has hit the pottery manufacturers of this country, for instance, causing layoffs and shorter work weeks for their employes. A dispatch from the Wall Street Journal states, "A flood of dinnerware imports from Japan is pounding them. Due to low labor costs, the Jap merchandise, even after payment of tariffs, is being offered at prices American producers cannot meet."

In explaining this situation, the correspondent has this to say, "One thing Washington has in mind, of course, is that if the Japanese aren't allowed to earn dollars through exports they will have to stay on the American taxpayer's dole." One could quite easily ques-

Memos of a Girl Friday

Dear Mr. W.: Our Billy Rose-Eleanor Holm flash to the City Desks didn't last long. . . . These sidelights may nold for a few editions tonight. Mr. Rose asked Eleanor for a divorce shortly after the Joyce Mathews incident of mid-July. . . . She told intimates she refused to consider it because "I love the guy." . . . Then someone (who enjoys wrecking marriages) kept phoning Eleanor with anonymous phone calls that they were seeing each other. Eleanor hired sleuths and the raid followed. That was last Sunday night and with all the miserable excitement of that raid Eleanor was calm enough to take the flashlight photos!

Their 300-acre million dollar estate almost became the new home of King Zog of Albania. Rose owns the adjacent estate, "Roseholm," so named when they were happy. . . . But the King didn't want to pay that much. . . . Billy sold the 2nd estate to an Order of Nuns, who just moved in.

Winthrop Rockefeller's new serious interest (hold onto yer millinery!) is Joan Blondell, bleeve-it-or-don't! . . . Joan isn't seeing Mike Todd anymore. Rockefeller and Joany make the quietier spots via a Carey caddy, the plate of which was (until just now) 8Z30-05 NY. (I hate gossip, don't-choo?) . . . That handsome young actor (Wolfe) held for shooting a man (he never met or saw before in that bar) seemed familiar. I recalled that he was employed as an all - around helper-outter (bits, stooge-jobs and such) up at CBS. You've seen him on several teevy things. Charming guy, pleasant, etc. I can't figger it. His victim died, so Wolfe will cook or go to some Silly Factory.

I hear only 18 pipple will get invites (including the honored guests) to the Blair House dinner for Princess Liz and Prince Farvel on the 24th. Many Senators (who aren't invited) are raising Old Harry with the President of the Same Name. . . . You know I hang up on anonymous callers, but this one gave me the willies. Said when the Mafia get rid of anyone they never let any male kin linger to make with the revenge. Therefore, said the caller, when the late Willie Moretti's brother gets out of jail—he will suddenly die, too.

Did you notice that the new plays, "Twilight Walk" and "Remains to Be Seen," both mentioned the N. Y. Times, the critic of which massacred them—one into a quick tomb? The latter is playing to standees. . . . Marcia Henderson was just in. Said the discouraging thing about some folks is that they are Here Today—and Tomorrow. . . . Robert Sinclair, the director, is back from H'wood to stage "Never Say Never," a first play by Carl Leo, an editor at "News of the Day," the MGM newsreel. The plot's about an unwed lad and lass who dwell together. Wonder what the Boston censor is going to do about that when the play opens there Nov. 5th?

Denise Darcel, at a party last night, was being helped on with her cape. The lad had difficulty with the hookeye. . . . "Oh, you men," Denise declared. BASCOM TIMMONS

The United States fifty years ago this fall was getting its first impression of a new, vigorous and aggressive president named Theodore Roosevelt. In the light of history, it can be said that T. R. began to feel his oats at about the same time as the "young" country — as Europeans patronizingly called it — of which he was to be chief executive for the better part of two terms.

Theodore Roosevelt's foreign problems were not complex, but he put other nations on notice that the U. S. would not tolerate violation of its foreign policy commitments, and especially the Monroe doctrine. An expression which recurred in American political discussions for years originated in a speech which T. R. made in Chicago on April 2, 1903, discussing the Monroe doctrine.

"There is a homely old adage which runs 'Speak softly and carry a big stick; you will go far.' If the American nation will speak softly and yet build and keep at the highest pitch of training a thoroughly efficient navy, the Monroe doctrine will go far. I ask you to think this over."

Nobody seemed to know the origin of the adage, and with passing years T. R. has been credited with originating it himself, crediting it to antiquity to take away any touch of brashness.

One of Roosevelt's first declarations was that he would appoint to office "only the best qualified men of high integrity," and he stuck to that purpose so well that his administration had no major scandal. For all of his apparent warmth, Theodore Roosevelt had an aloof nature, which did not encourage familiarity, and he did not surround himself with a group of intimates, of whom he had very few.

The country liked that attitude, for the close of the 19th century had been a spread of venality in politics comparable to the present era and it had become the usual thing for presidents to name to important government jobs their close friends, and their relatives and friends. But that had gone on, more or less, since the Civil War and most everybody had become resigned to it.

A great British ambassador to the U. S., Lord Bryce, wrote in a British publication in 1908, near the end of T. R.'s term:

"Mr. Roosevelt has gathered about him a body of public servants who are nowhere surpassed. I question whether they are anywhere equally for efficiency, self-sacrifice and absolute devotion to their country's interest . . . sustained by their own native impulse to make of patriotism an efficient instrument for public betterment."

Roosevelt was not confronted by a world situation resembling even slightly that which exists today. No country threatened the United States, and he had no United Nations to restrict his moves as part of world cooperation. But his foreign policy was aggressive to the point of belligerency. He sent a great navy fleet — for that day— around the world over the protests of congress, which first declined to appropriate money to pay for the cruise. T. R. adroitly appealed to the west coast which had never seen the fleet and the demand he stirred up there got the appropriation, but only for the hemispherical part of the tour.

When the fleet reached the west coast, national interest and pride had been aroused o a point where congress had to vote enough more to complete the world tour, of which the private purpose was to warn Japan not to try any grabbing of territory in Asia or the Pacific.

Recently William Loeb, editor of the Manchaster (N. H.) Union-Leader, whose father was T. R.'s secretary recalled an almost forgotten story of the way T. R. used his big stick.

A German fleet had sailed into a Venezuelan harbor, on the excuse that it proposed to enforce some debt collections from Venezuelan nationals. T. R. immediately summoned the German ambassador, Speck von Sternberg, and asked him to request withdrawal of the German ships, on the ground they were violating the Monroe doctrine.

The German made excuses, said he could not send his government such a request.

"Very well," said T. R., "if there is no word from your government within four hours, Admiral Dewey will be ordered to strip the Atlantic fleet for action and sail from Guantanamo bay for Venezuela, and take whatever section is necessary."

The German fleet got out on time. The United States was a tough and cocky country fifty years ago.

IN HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, Oct. 13 -For the past three or four years I've been predicting professional disaster for many of our established stars unless they should see the light and voluntarily reduce their salary demands. I think that that prediction (for which I can take no credit since the financial plight of the motion picture industry made it as obvious as the nose on Jimmy Durante's face) is now being borne out. More and more, the studio czars are entrusting big roles in big pictures to newcomers; less and less the overpaid top-flighters of yesterday are finding work. At no time during the nearly thirty years that I have known Hollywood has there been such a promising array of new personalities.

Even MGM, always the No. 1 stronghold of the "big star system," is working overtime to recruit new players, and, what's more, is pushing them up the ladder, post haste, into roles which, a few years ago, would have been reserved for none but the biggest stars. In all of the other major studios - RKO, 20th Century-Fox, Universal - International, Paramount, Warner Brothers, Columbia - still greater emphasis is being placed on the newcomers. Surveying the industry at large it would be easy, I think, to list a minimum of 100 new actors and actresses who are already well on the road to full-fledged stardom.

Since the movie industry can market only a certain number of pictures per year, and since those pictures can provide only a certain number of leading roles, there simply are not jobs enough to keep both the old-timers and the newcomers busy. As I said before, it was obvious, when this great tide of new blood began to roll into Hollywood, that something would have to give way. The something, it's now evident, is that group of established, high - salaried stars who have been unrealistic enough to insist on wages so high that they would have to be entered, nine times out of ten, on the studio ledgers in red ink.

A trade paper report, published the other day, that Patricia Neal was flying back to Hollywood from a New York visit, leaves me convinced that she must cover a lot of territory in remarkably fast time. Only a few days before that item appeared, I saw her in the little northern California town of Sonora, where she'd gone to visit Gary Cooper who was working there on location. And the circumstances of her visit to Sonora left me convinced of something else, to wit, that she must be genuinely in love with Gary Cooper. To reach Sonora, she'd ridden about 250 miles on a none-too-comfortable train, and another sixty miles or so on a not-comfortable-at-all bus. When a girl like Pat Neal submits to that sort of discomfort, it's love!

With the World Series fresh in mind, I want to pass along a little story told by Dan Dailey, who got it from Dizzy Dean, the baseball immortal he's portraying in 20th Century's "The Pride of St. Louis." Seems that Diz was pitching against Cincinnati in 1933 when a peagreen rookie came to bat. Noting the youngster's nervous stance, Dean went into a conference with the St. Louis catcher, W. P. DeLancey, and cooked up a gag. After working the count up to two balls and two strikes, Diz went through the motions of winding up and throwing the ball. De Lancey smacked his fist into his mitt and yelled "Strike!," imitating the plate umpire to the best of his vocal ability. And the jittery rookie looked around and screamed, indignantly, "Strike, hell! That pitch was a foot outside!"

Speaking of Dizzy Dean, I'm reminded of another flamboyant personality named Victor Mature who rode to the top in Hollywood on a wave of sensational publicity, most of which he devised himself. The other day, Vic, playing a centurion of the Guard in "Androcles and the Lion," was posing for publicity stills, and the photographer kiddingly suggested a shot showing Mature with his head in the lion's mouth."Okay," shrugged Vic, "but isn't that sorta pamby-pamby? It would make a more exciting picture if we'd have the lion stick his head in my mouth!"

MGM wants the world to know that Fernando Lamas, in "The Merry Widow," wears the same sword John Gilbert wore in the first screen version of that classic. I hope the duplication ends with the costuming; I'd hate to see Fernando's career end as tragically as did Gilbert's.

Ial Boyle's Notebook

New York, —(AP)— The flickers re 50 years old.

Celebrating its Golden Wedding the American public, the movie ndustry prefers to point with pride o its past rather than view its uture with alarm. And it has a ot to be proud about.

In half a century of good clean ving (let's forget the lapses of ts gods) everything about the film usiness has changed except the lavor of the corn—popcorn, I mean.

Perhaps no other entertainment medium in history ever touched its timer more quickly or deeply, for both good and bad. Its critics said for years the movies were ruining the morals of the nation by holding up a false and shallow sense of values. However, in 35 years of movie-going, I personally have never met anyone whose life had been wrecked by a bad movie. The worst effect I have ever seen a film produce is an occasional attack of indignant indigestion.

The movies have survived and thrived because, by and large, they gave more people more fun for less money than anything the human race had stumbled on before.

Sometimes I feel sorry for the kids today who know the movies only as a fairly full-blown art. Most middle-aged people had a lot of pleasure growing up with the industry.

They still get a chuckle recalling the old days of the silent film, when William S. Hart flickered across the screen in a mad gallop to head the rustler's off at Eagle Gulch, as the lady piano player down front chewed her gum frantically and pounded wildly on her out-of-tune keys.

Who was William S. Hart, a youngster asks? Why, pardner, he was just the greatest western star that ever was. He could take Hopalong Cassidy in one hand and Roy Rogers in the other and—well, there was nothing old Bill Hart couldn't do. The deadliest man who ever fanned a gun, he was.

Remember the old colored slide they used to flash on at the start of the program? It showed a big fat woman wearing a toppiece like a tent, and it said:

"Will the ladies kindly remove their hats?"

Half America was crazy in love with Mary Pickford, and even the other half — the women — had to admit there was nobody ever prettier. And Charlie Chaplin, the gayfooted, sad-faced little tramp—he was just the funniest thing ever. He still is, except that now they've decided he's a great artist, too.

The money flowed in a golden tide. It made millionaires out of a few bums, and some went on acting like bums. Hollywood became a world symbol for screwball living, where anybody making less than $5,000 a week was a pauper.

But for all the tirades against it, Hollywood did something tremendous. It made pictures that took life-starved people out of their own monotony into a world of wonderful make-believe. And that is why the industry grew—it gave something back for the money it took in at the boxoffice.

The intellectuals rant against Hollywood because it doesn't make more "good pictures." But high talent is the rarest commodity on this earth. There are only a few hundred movies produced each year, but there are about 10,000 new books printed. If you find 15 pictures a year that lighten your heart, or make you think, isn't that enough? Can you find 15 new books a year that will do it?

Despite radio and television, the film industry can look forward to at least another 50 golden years, no matter what they throw on the screen.

The reason: A movie house is still the best place for the young folks to go to get away from the old folks — and hold hands in the dark.

was named after a great Indian tribe. His Honor urges you to help him erase the wrong impression. The city did not refuse to bury the hero, a private cemetery biz group did. Mayor Conley also said Indians (heroes and otherwise) are resting in various places in Sioux City — so please help keep your rooters in Iowa keep rooting for you by making all this clear to your readers in the 48?

Ted Collins (Kate Smith's podnah) offered to give the Yankees Football team to the Runyon Cancer Fund, no strings . . . But who'd pay the operating cost? Pres. Dan Parker said no, thanks — we never spend a penny of the contributor's donations for expenses, etc., and if anybody wanted to pay the annual cost of $100,000, we'd spend it on research . . . Morris Ernst, the Fund lawyer, wrote to the Runyon Committee not to confuse the public by calling it The Runyon Awards (for bests in journalism, etc.) Thinks it unwise. Personally, I think he's right. Why not spend your $10,000 on cancer research, instead of cash prizes?

That reminds me. The trial of the repulsive Joseph Brandt (charged with finagling monies for cancer fighting into his and other pockets) started yesterday at the U. S. Courthouse. Brandt allegedly took in $121,000 but only $7,000 of it got to cancer victims . . . Albert Levien, head of De Hahn & Co. (action against him and his Co. comes up at the end of the month), sent Brandt to the National Cancer Foundation which later dumped him. So he set up the Cancer Welfare Fund — another hitch - hiker on the wide publicity enjoyed by the Runyon Fund.

I hear Hollywood is having the biggest purge yet of coast colyumists and news scribes. Switches and firings every day out there. Many of the losers are en route to N. Y. . . . Also that the newest fad with H'wood young men is to wear their hair like Gorgeous Geo. — golden marcels with the hair falling ringlets. (Oh, nohhhh!) . . . But this item is no foolin': The swish - set back here is giggling about a cop in Yonkers, who makes the rounds of the gay bars out there — not in line of duty—but as one of the "girls" . . . What kinda people is that???

Bugs Baer, the humorist, is being evicted (after 17 years as a non co - op tenant) from his Park Ave. apt by, of all persons, a doctor. And after all he and his late wife Louise did for medical research. . . . Janis Paige and Jackie Cooper of "Remains To Be Seen" are togethering between shows . . . Here's one for the Washington Post: Senator Dirksen's daughter will marry the son of Tennessee's Rep. Baker in Dec. . . . That epidemic which killed so many pet dogs in town is called hepatitis. It is not distemper and is not confined to cockers and poodles.

Joy DiMaggio (There's No Business Like Joe Business!) leaves tonight. To visit his 10 - year - old image in a Midwest school . . . Songwriter Mack Gordon is sitting up after that accident in which he was thrown out of a speeding car . . . Haven't seen any confirmation yet about Mrs. Anthony Farrell being in Reno, but she's there. The millionaire - backer of shows will then marry Kathryn Mylroie, who quit his hit, "Two On the Aisle," to prepare for the nuptials. He met her in his first costly flop, "Hold It!" where she chorus'd . . . This just came in from the Roger Folwells of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.: "Your quick action to your editor at the Miami Herald resulted in the apprehension of the murderer of our 10-year-old son. Sincere thanks." — Your Girl Friday.

tion the validity of this Washington viewpoint, but if it is accepted, then it is quite clear that it means we must continue to support our enemies with our earnings or let them take away our business and support themselves. It would seem that somewhere along about this point common sense steps out and imbecility steps in.

Suppose we fight World War III —and those who are in position to know the facts and study the probabilities say that while war with Russia is not inevitable, it is probable. They base this conclusion on the fact that the Russian Communist philosophy teaches that capitalism must be overthrown—by violence and war if necessary. They base it also on the fact that armament races such as we are engaged in at present have always led to war in the end. They base it on the fact that regardless of Russia's current output of peace and the various Russian satellites, talk, her acts are all warlike.

Suppose we get into war with Russia—which also means China It is when we take over the rebuilding of these countries, with their hundreds of millions of people, after World War III, that the American taxpayers will really learn what it means to wet-nurse the world!

Is it too soon to start thinking about this? It was apparently too late to start thinking about it after World War II ended. And thinking about this prospect now might help us rationalize our thinking in connection with the current situation.

Some day we are going to reach the point where we must decide between continuing to follow along after so-called humanitarian impulses and committing economic suicide. This day may be closer than we think.

WHY TRY TO FIGHT YOUR WAY TO HIGHER COTTON PRICES ALONE?

TEAM UP with the thousands of cotton producers who are ON STRIKE and holding for higher prices.

Last Spring the government placed a price control ceiling on cotton at 45 cents per pound to keep the price of cotton from running away. THE COTTON FARMER DID NOT ASK FOR CEILINGS, but accepted them in the spirit of a national emergency . . . following this, when asked to produce 16,000,000 bales for defense, they patriotically responded as farmers have always responded when our country needs help.

LAST SPRING, ceiling prices were functioning when the farmers had no cotton to sell. WILL IT HAPPEN AGAIN?

This 1951 crop represents the highest production cost in history . . . $300 per ton for planting seed. $4 to $10 a day for chopping. High fertilizer and poison costs . . . not to mention picking, ginning and other items.

THERE ARE TWO MEASUREMENTS OF PRICE . . . SELL ABOVE THE FLOOR (loan) OR SELL BELOW THE CEILING (top).

All advice directed to farmers has been on "selling above the loan (floor)," the lowest price, rather than, "Selling near the ceiling (top)," the highest price. The Mid-South Cotton Growers Association with thousands of farmers are using the full loan advance and HOLDING FOR HIGHER PRICES. WE WILL STRIVE TO HELP YOU SELL AS NEAR THE CEILING TOP AS POSSIBLE. There's no other way to even the score.

WITH THESE FACTS BEFORE YOU, will you join us in our efforts! Don't delay, go to the Mid-South office or contact the Mid-South representative near you, as others are doing. Place your cotton in the loan and hold on!

IN NEW POST

MARVIN DUBOS

After four and one - half years with the Monroe News - Star—World as a staff photographer, Marvin DuBos will start work Monday for his father's furniture firm, Clarence J. DuBos and Sons of New Orleans, and will be engaged in selling school supplies and equipment.

Marvin will take a month's training in New Orleans and then will return to Monroe, where he will be located, with all north Louisiana as his working territory.

During his employment with the News - Star — World, Marvin has made many friends, not only in Monroe and West Monroe but in Ouachita and surrounding parishes and is widely known in this part of the state. His resignation from the News - Star — World photographic staff was accepted with regret.

While in the employ of these newspapers, DuBos has won a number of photograhic honors, including having three of his pictures chosen as best in the 100 News Pictures of the Year (1950) by the National Press Photographers Association. He also took first prize in the sports division in the six - state regional photo competition of the N. P. P. A. One of his photos was accepted for exhibit in a number of international photo salons, with one picture being picked as an honor print of the First Hawaiian International Salon of Photography.

When asked about leaving the photographic field, DuBos replied: "Well, photo really has been my "first love" and I'll never give it up entirely. I intend keeping up my photo work as a hobby. I've really enjoyed working for the News - Star — World and meeting the fine people with whom I have been associated.

WORLEY IN RACE FOR POLICE JURY

Announces He Favors Benefitting Masses Instead Of Few

W. G. Worley has qualified for juror from ward 3.

Worley, a resident of Monroe since 1920, was born in Morehouse parish, but has spent most of his adult life in Monroe in the employment of railroads.

He stated that he is making the juror race as an independent candidate and that he is in favor of ordinances which have for their purpose the betterment of the masses of the people and that he is opposed to ordinances for the benefit of the privileged few.

"I will represent the people as their police juror with efficiency, vigor, and dignity," said Worley.

He is a member of the Big Four Brotherhood, Masonic Lodge, and has taken an active part in labor affairs. He lives at 106 Dooley lane with his wife and two children.

WRITE HOME TO LONELY MOTHER

This Week Set Aside To Send Missives Through The Mails To Kindred

A week set aside for a particular purpose can be of great advantage in this busy world. Makes us pull up and take stock. Makes us give more earnest thought to the special subject for which the week has been selected. Like, for instance, the post office department's observance of Letter - Writing Week, this year designated as October 14 to 20.

Letter writing is an activity which concerns everybody, from the infant who scrawls his devious line to the great-great-grandparent who probably has no larger interest in life than the bits of news which come in from "the family." Hearts are poured out in the written line, confidences made, friendships kept alive and renewed, the whole round of intimate, casual, dutiful, social and business life encompassed in this one activity.

Is there someone who wonders where you are and how you are? Write and tell him. Have you let the thread of some fine friendship ravel to the breaking point because you "just hate to write?" Take yourself firmly in hand this special week and write that letter, anyway. Are there a dozen or more little notes you had intended to send, but haven't come around to? A word of comfort to someone? An encouraging line? A "thank you" which is not expected but which would bring happiness to the recipient? A chatty page to the loved one who feels that a letter from you is almost as good as a visit. This is the week for clearing the pigeon holes. During this specially - designated week, put the neglected writing first instead of last. This is the time to get that "freshly - cleaned - up" feeling you have when your correspondence is all caught up. Nothing can make you feel more right with the world.

Take this week to heart. Let at least one week in the year, Letter-Writing - Week, be the means of strengthening and renewing for you the ties of kinship and friendly feeling through the written word. "Don't delay — Write today!"

WILLIAM BOYLE

senate committee looked into were that Boyle accepted fees to obtain $565,000 in loans from the RFC for the American Lithofold Corporation of St. Louis.

Boyle contended that he accepted $1,250 from the company in legal fees, but that he did nothing to obtain the loan from the government agency.

Boyle said today he expects to take a rest of about three months before announcing any personal plans for the future.

He said he would call an early meeting of the national committee to act on his resignation.

Boyle, a 48 - year - old Kansas City lawyer, who has been active in politics since he was a youngster, became a full-time salaried executive vice-chairman of the national committee on April 21, 1949. He was elected chairman to succeed J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island on August 24, 1949.

Text of Boyle's letter, written under date of last Tuesday:

"Dear Mr. President:

"As you know from our conversations, I have for some time wanted to give up the heavy duties entailed by the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee. The operation which I underwent last year made it necessary for me to conserve my strength and has to some extent limited my activity. While this has not been a major consideration up u til now, I do feel that with the 24 - hour - a - day, seven - days - a - week activity that will be required of the national committee chairman would put too much of a tax on my physical endurance.

"I have, of course, been unwilling to act on this matter while the senate investigating committee was inquiring into my personal affairs. This committee has now made a thorough inquiry, including a most thorough examination of all my books and records, which I was glad to make available to it. A Republican member of the committee stated yesterday that the record contains 'no evidence of illegality or moral turpitude' on my part. I should add to that I have at all times conducted myself with honor and propriety.

"I am accordingly calling the Democratic National Committee to meet at an early date, and at the meeting I shall ask the members of the national committee to accept my resignation.

"I am pleased to inform you as I shall report to the national committee that the affairs of the Democratic National Committee are in excellent condition. The party organization throughout the country is strong and imbued with confidence in the rightness of our program. Under a new chairman, whom the committee will elect, we will go forward with enthusiasm and confidence in preparations for the coming campaign.

"I do not need to tell you that, so far as I am concerned, I will continue to do everything in my power to promote the principles for which you and I and the Democratic Party stand. In giving up the chairmanship, I will become a worker in the ranks, along with countless other devoted and loyal men and women who believe with me that the welfare of our country requires a continuance of the progressive and enlightened government which we have had since 1933.

"I cannot close this letter without adding a personal note. Throughout our relationship, which long pre-dates my connection with the Democratic National Committee, your confidence in me has been something that I have prized most highly. I cannot adequately express to you how much I have appreciated that confidence and the loyalty which we have always felt toward each other. I am happy in the knowledge that nothing has ever altered, or can ever alter, that personal relationship."

firm's plant at Sterlington, and to hold a meeting of their board of directors. For most of them, it will be their first visit to the Twin Cities.

General Middleton is a man well known to many thousands of Louisianans because of his long connection with L. S. U. He was born in Hazelhurst, Miss., in October 1889, and graduated from Mississippi State College in 1909. He entered the regular army in 1912, and in 1922 graduated from the infantry school, and became an honor graduate of the command and general staff school in 1924. He graduated from the Army War College in 1929, and in 1930 arrived at L. S. U. as commandant of the R. O. T. C. unit. During his long period of service at the university, which was broken only by military duty in World War II, he has served successively as dean of men, dean of administration, acting vice-president, comptroller of the university and, beginning February 1 of this year as president of the university.

During World War II, General Middleton gained prominence as commanding general of the famous 45th division in the invasion of Sicily and Italy. Later he commanded the eighth army corps in the invasion of Europe, leading it through operations in France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany.

General Middleton is the holder of the nine major U. S. decorations, including two Distinguished Service Medals, and has been decorated by France, Belgium and Italy. General Patton, in presenting the Oak Leaf Cluster in lieu of the second DSM, said of General Middleton, "I consider him one of the great soldiers of World War II." General Middleton has just recently been appointed to the board of visitors at the United States Military Academy, a body which annually inspects the academy at West Point and makes recommendations regarding its policy and operations.

In commenting upon the arrangements for the Chamber's annual banquet, President Jordan said, "This will be one of the most auspicious occasions of its kind our Chamber has ever undertaken. We are deeply flattered that the officers and directors of Commercial Solvents Corporation have accepted the invitation to be our honored guests. It will bring to the Twin Cities at one time perhaps the most distinguished group of financiers and industrialists we have ever entertained. These twenty men represent, among themselves, probably 50 to 75 directorships among some of the largest corporations of our nation. They are men who have much to say about where new industry will locate.

"We intend to show them how much we in our community appreciate the tremendous expansion program they have currently begun at Sterlington. We also intend to show them that Louisiana is a good home for new industry. In securing General Middleton as our speaker, we have found a man eminently well qualified to expound the advantages Louisiana has to offer new industry. The Chamber's officers and directors hope that the people of the Twin Cities will turn out in large numbers for this occasion, both to give a welcome to the Commercial Solvents officers and directors, and to hear General Middleton in his first public appearance in the Twin Cities."

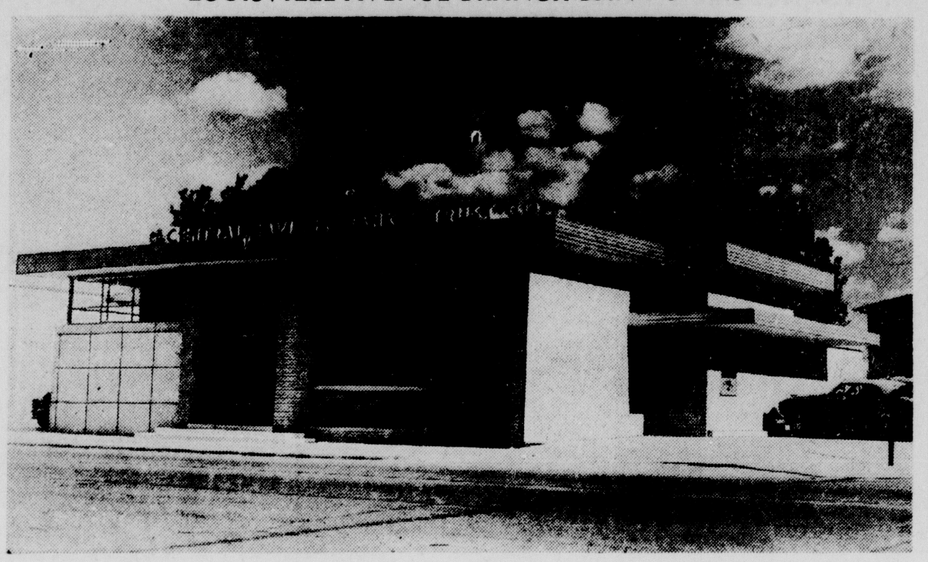
LOUISVILLE AVENUE BRANCH BANK OPENS



Northeast Louisiana's most modern and complete drive-in bank, the Louisville Avenue Branch Bank of the Central Savings Bank and Trust Company opens for business at 9 a.m. Wednesday. Constructed at an estimated cost of $125,000, the bank was designed by Architect H. H. Land and built by Contractor W. C. Salley. (Staff Photo by Leon Noland, Jr.)

CENTRAL BANK

ly constructed with stone and brick with aluminum trim and large plate glass windows which provide for plenty of outside lighting along with neon lighting from the interior.

The Louisville Avenue Branch Bank was designed by Architect H. H. Land and constructed by W. C. Salley, a local contractor.

Teller's cages are made of white Vermont marble and the bank's vault is one of the largest and safest to be found in any bank in the country.

The vault has a large circular time lock door made of seven inches of chilled steel. In addition, the bank features safe - deposit boxes for its customers, along with a night chute for making deposits after banking hours.

Construction of the bank has been underway for approximately a year, Mr. Washburn asserted, due to the thoroughness of construction and certain delays in getting materials.

Mr. Washburn said the Louisville Avenue branch was constructed in order to better accommodate customers and eliminate some of the inconvenience of downtown parking. There will be plenty of free parking space at the Louisville avenue branch, declared Mr. Washburn.

The Central Savings Bank, Mr. Washburn, asserted, will eventually, as Monroe grows, establish other branches near the outskirts of the city.

The Central Savings Bank and Trust Company located at the corner of DeSiard and Jackson street received its charter in 1905 and opened January 15, 1906. It has operated under the same charter since it opened except for the increase in stock.

Travis Oliver, president of the bank has been associated with the Central Savings Bank and Trust Company since it opened in 1906. The bank has several officers who have been with the bank for more than 30 years.

The West Monroe Branch of the Central Savings Bank and Trust Company was opened in 1919 and enjoys a substantial value of business in West Monroe and the surrounding area.

Mr. Washburn invites the public to drop by and visit the bank during its formal opening.

stance and that they still were going along with liaison talks, bolstered speculation that the Communists actually want to resume truce negotiations.

Communist correspondents at Panmunjom contented themselves with tear - jerking accounts of the incident, but said the Reds "reserved the right to make further demands." They also repeated the standard Communist charges that the Allies were "insincere" in the effort to arrange an armistice.

Up to the time of the strafing complaint, the U. N. and Red officers apparently were separated on only one point — whether to establish a 3,000 - yard "security area" around Kaesong. They had agreed on a 1,000-yard area around the conference tent at Panmunjom, six miles southeast of Kaesong, and on a 3,000 - yard area around the Allied camp at Munsan, 13 miles farther southeast.

the Korean Red invasion of the republic.

The 24th division — the first American outfit to resist the invasion — moved ahead despite the barrage. In the opening stages of the assault nearly 100 Chinese were killed, 75 or more wounded and a number of prisoners taken.

Headquarters briefing officers considered the type of prisoners significant. They were either 'teen - aged or approaching middle age. AP Photographer Bob Schutz reported the Reds seemed to be poorly trained and of low morale. He reported that all wore the traditional quilted Chinese winter jackets.

That appeared to indicate the Reds were fitting their troops for a continuing struggle in the event that nothing comes of the armistice negotiations. Liaison officers had another meeting scheduled at Panmunjom Sunday to try to arrange a resumption of the truce talks.

In desperation he came to the News - Star Saturday to get information. He was told by Jes' Ramblin' that Dean Farr would see to it if he importuned him correctly. He departed toward the courthouse in a happier mood.

Called upon suddenly to produce his car license number when pounced upon when at a filling station, a druggist down state rattled off the license number. Later he realized he had given his pharmacy license number.

Dr. F. P. Cerniglia, owner of local radio station KLIC, was quite delighted when he received an air mail letter from New Zealand from Radio DX League which reported, through Ken A. Markey that the Monroe program was heard with excellent reception despite the thousands of miles between Monroe and New Zealand. It was also noted in the formal report that the weather was "good mild spring evening." How wonderful to have spring somewhere on the globe as we go toward rough wintry weather!

Neville High School seems to carry with it a charm. One boy now student in Neville High school entered this fall after having had three years in a big Memphis, Tenn., high. He said he wanted to come to a real school so he is now entered here where he will graduate in June. But here is the latest honor:

In a national contest, sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in New York the yearbook published by the students of Neville High School, Monroe, captured high honors in its division Friday.

Entered in the competition were 948 yearbooks, representing public and private high schools, vocational schools and teachers' colleges in 44 states, Hawaii, Alaska and Canada, the largest number ever entered.

The Monroe publication, Monroyan, received first place rating in the class for lithographed yearbooks for junior - senior high schools.

Judging was based on such criteria as typography, content, make-up and art work. The winning publications have been placed on exhibition at Columbia University.

Miss Mary Rodriguez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. H. Rodriguez, of 507 Park Avenue, was elected treasurer of the Spanish Club, at Southwestern, in Memphis, Tenn. This club is made up of students with two or more years of Spanish.

Miss Rodriguez is a freshman and a member of the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority.

and lacerations. Attendants at the clinic refused to comment on the condition of any of the injured.

The accident occurred when the jeep, which was owned by Smith, rammed into the back of a two - ton bob truck filled with cotton enroute to a local gin. George Sanders, Negro of DeSona plantation, and driver of the truck, was said to have felt the impact and drew to the side of the road. After parking the truck, he got out and went around to investigate.

According to W. B. Ragland, deputy sheriff, who investigated the accident, both the truck tail and clearance lights were reported burning when the impact occurred.

The four were taken to Bastrop in a Catron-Gay Funeral Home ambulance which had a wreck at Red Hill between Bastrop and Mer Rouge. The front lights and grill work of the ambulance were damaged slightly, it was reported.

All were employees of the International Paper company which operates two mills at Bastrop.

NATIONAL GUARD

The present National Guard consists primarily of troops of the 39th infantry division.

Louisiana units of the division, which consist of Louisiana and Arkansas troops, are located in the following cities and towns: New Orleans, Alexandria, New Roads, Eunice, Lafayette, Marksville, Jeanerette, Franklin, Morgan City, Houma, Thibodaux, St. Martinville, DeQuincy, Jennings, Shreveport, Vivian, Homer, Jonesboro, Minden, Many, Natchitoches, Pineville, Winnfield, Monroe, Ruston, Bastrop, Franklinton, Hammond, Covington, and Bogalusa.

Members of these units include several thousand fully armed and equipped officers and men. The entire Louisiana National Guard, of which Governor Earl K. Long is commander-in-chief and Brig. Gen. Raymond F. Hufft, the adjutant general, is the directing head, unlike all other reserve components, is both a state and a federal force and thus has a dual status. However, the structure of the National Guard is the same as the regular army, with the same uniform, equipment, and training standards.

The federal government is responsible for training, equipping and paying members of the National Guard. The state government is responsible for providing the manpower and the armories for the unit.

The basic principle of the National Guard remains the same as when America's early settlers held it a right and a privilege to form local militia units for the protection of their homes and countryside. The governor can order out the National Guard whenever it is required to protect the security of persons or of property within his state. The president can order out the Guard for active duty with the army when the national security is threatened, with the consent of the governor.

Russell Running For Police Jury

Jack M. Russell, operator of several bus lines and cab companies in West Monroe, Saturday afternoon announced his candidacy for police juror in ward five.

Mr. Russell, who has been in business in West Monroe for the last 16 years, stated that he was not running against anyone but merely seeking one of the three police jury seats in ward five. He stated that, if he is elected, he is willing to work with any two other police jurors the people of ward five may see fit to elect. His only purpose in running, he said, is in the interest of serving the people of ward five.

The candidate said he would qualify Monday with the parish Democratic executive committee.

LANDRY PASSES, JONES' RUNNING WITHER INDIANS

Carter, Zappone Score For Tribe In Hard Fought Duel

The double barreled attack of ester Landry's passing and Desmond Jones' running fired the McNeese State Cowboys of Lake Charles to a 25 to 13 victory over he Northeast State College Indians in a hard fought battle here ast night that saw the Pokes come rom behind in the last half to win.

Jones thrilled the crowd of about ,000 when he scored the first McNeese touchdown in the second quarter on a 99-yard gain after aking a pass from Landry who vas standing deep in his own end zone. Jones scored twice more before the show was over, once on a 32-yard Landry pass to the goal line, and again in the final quarter on a 48 yard dash through the Redskin line.

Jules Derouen accounted for one McNeese touchdown on a four-yard line plunge. Lester Landry kicked the point behind the final Cowboy touchdown to account for the last of McNeese's points.

Bob Carter, Ed Plonsky, and Vince Zappone played outstanding ball in the Indian backfield, with Carter a particular threat to the Pokes all night with repeatedly long gains. Zappone and Carter counted the Redskin touchdowns, both plunging over from inside the McNeese five. End Francis Baker booted the lone Northeast point.

The Tribe led 7-6 at the half, but the Northeast defense, while playing a whale of a game, just wasn't up to keeping Jones and Landry bottled.

Pass completions, with Lloyd Ray throwing for Northeast, were even with six apiece. But Landry's connections totalled 179 yards, while Northeast counted only 55 yards on their tosses. Northeast showed well on the ground however, rolling for 15 firsts to against 14 for McNeese.

The Cowboys took the opening kickoff and promptly fumbled the ball away. Northeast couldn't show and McNeese took over again only to fumble its second chance, "Buster" Crowley recovering for the Tribe on the Northeast 46. Carter, Zappone, and Plonsky promptly began ramming the ball right down the Pokes' throat, driving for three firsts to the McNeese three. Zappone rammed right tackle to score, and Baker came in to kick the point.

Northeast dominated the play through the rest of the first half, but the Cowboys put up a valiant goal-line stand with three minutes left to go in the second period, stopping a Redskin march on the one.

Landry, the McNeese passing wizard, then pulled a long gamble as he drifted deep into his own end zone to pass with Indian linemen swarming in for the tackle. But Landry got his long throw off to Jones in the clear, and the classy McNeese back outran a pair of Redskins for the 99-yard gain and paydirt. Maglitto missed the all important conversion kick that would have tied the score, so the Tribe led just 7-6 at the half.

Downing a Northeast punt on the Tribe 41, the Cowboys generated a drive that sent the invaders ahead. Jones sparked the McNeese drive to the Tribe nine. A five-yard offsides penalty put the ball on the four from where Derouen skirted right end the distance. L. Landry missed the kick for the point.

Landry's passing and costly penalties against the Tribe brought a third McNeese touchdown early in the last quarter. The penalties of five and 15 yards each helped the Pokes to a pair of first downs to the Indian 27. The Cowboys got a five-yard penalty for delay of the game, but Landry fired a touchdown pass to Jones at the goal. L. Landry missed his conversion try.

The Indians bounced back midway of the quarter when Rex Pensinger covered a Cowboy fumble on the McNeese 18. Carter and Rush ran to the ten. McNeese drew a penalty to the one for roughness Carter rammed the middle for the score. Baker missed the kick for the point.

The Cowboys covered a Northeast fumble on their own 29. Jones and Efferson ran four times to the Tribe 48. Then Jones broke free through the line to go the distance. Lester Landry finally kicked good for the point on his fourth try.

KENTUCKY DROPS MAROONS, 27 TO 0

Wildcats Finally Find Scoring Punch Against Mississippians

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 13. —(AP)— End Bob Fry blocked a Mississippi State punt in the first quarter to set up a touchdown and erupt Kentucky's long dormant scoring punch in a 27-0 football victory here tonight.

Kentucky, loser of three straight games by a total 11 points, found its punch against the defensive-minded Mississippians and scored its other touchdown on drives of 59, 76 and 44 yards.

Mississippi State, on the other hand, mustered only one serious threat, but it fizzled against a stout Kentucky defense at the Kentucky nine after a 39 - yard advance in the opening minutes.

Babe Parilli, Kentucky's All-America quarterback candidate, pitched two touchdown passes as Kentucky vacated the Southeastern conference cellar with its victory.

The cagey Parilli used a mixture of straight "T" and a spread single wing offense in directing Kentucky to a touchdown in each quarter.

Fry, a junior tackle who also plays defensive end, slashed through untouched to block Freshman Bobby Collin's punt from the Mississippi State 39, scoop up the free ball and ran it to the three.

Halfback Ed Hamilton plunged a yard and a half for the first touchdown after 10:35 of the first period.

Kentucky scored again two minutes before the half with Fullback Tom Fillion bulling the last yard to cap a 59 - yard drive.

Two Parilli passes and a 12-yard hike by the Kentucky Babe with a fake pass featured the advance.

A Collins punt that little Emory Clark hauled back 14 yards to the Kentucky 24 started the Wildcats winging to another tally in the third.

Halfback Harold Gruner carried the brunt of the ground thrust and Parilli added a pair of vital passes to take the ball to the eight. Parilli then pitched to Fillion at the goal line.

Tackle Frank Fuller pounced on Willis Robertson's fumble at the Mississippi State 44 to start the last Kentucky scoring drive. Two minutes after the last period started, Parilli hit end Jim Proffitt over the goal line.

Halfback Harry Jones, who had converted after the first three touchdowns, missed the extra point try after the final one.

Hugh Poland Named Pelicans' Manager

New Orleans, Oct. 13. —(AP)— Hugh Poland, 1951 Ottawa manager and former major league catcher, is the new pilot of the Southern Association Nashville Vols.

Vol General Manager Larry Gilbert announced from his home here tonight the signing of Poland, whose team finished seventh in the international league this year.

Gilbert said Poland was recommended highly by Carl Hubbell, farm club director for the New York Giants with whom Nashville last week signed a working agreement.

Poland became a Giant chain manager in 1949. His Trenton, N. J., team finished fourth in the inter - state league and won the playoffs. He was at Sioux City of the western league in 1950, when his club ended second and won the playoffs.

Poland spent his major league career with the Giants, Boston Braves, Philadelphia Phillies and Cincinnati Reds, with whom he played in 1947-48.

Neville's Junior High Eleven Beats Bastrop

Neville's junior high gridders journeyed to Bastrop yesterday to take a Bastrop team of seventh and eighth graders in tow, 13 to 6.

Bobby Johnson went five yards for the first Neville touchdown in the opening period. Bastrop knotted the score with its lone TD in the second period, but Neville pulled ahead to win when Mickey Yerger hit Bill Ledoux with a five-yard pass in the final quarter, and Ledoux ran 15 more yards to score. Yerger ran for the point.

Neville next plays Millsaps of West Monroe Tuesday.

U. S. Champ Upset In Willard Golf

Fort Smith, Ark., Oct. 13.—(AP)— George Bigham, an unheralded Oklahoma A. & M. College student, upset national amateur Champion Billy Maxwell and Medalist Dale Morey in successive rounds today to advance to the finals of the 10th Willard Memorial golf tournament.

He'll face Frank Stranahan of Toledo tomorrow in the 36 - hole title match over the Hardscrabble Country club course, a 6,740-yard, par 72 layout noted for its difficult dogleg fairways.

Bigham, a 23 - year - old senior from Kansas City, Kas., who has never won a big tournament, clipped Maxwell, of Odessa, Tex., 3 and 2, in the quarter-finals this morning. Then he came back in the afternoon to defeat Morey, the Dallas, Tex., ace, 2 and 1, with the help of an eagle 2 on the 15th hole.

Stranahan, meanwhile, was having a relatively easy time, plastering Hillman Robbins, Memphis, 7 and 5, in the quarter-finals and L. M. Crannell, Denton, Tex., 3 and 1, this afternoon.

Crannell had beaten Don January, North Texas State College, 4 and 2, in the quarter-finals, and Morey had eliminated January's NTSC teammate, Monte Sanders, 2 and 1.

Bigham, a 170-pound six-footer, has competed in two NCAA and two national amateur tourneys but his only championships in six years of tournament golf have been in smaller meets in the Kansas City area.

AGGIES WIN EASILY

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The mighty Texas Aggies, No. 4 team in the country, steamrollered Trinity University tonight, 53 - 14. It was no contest from the opening gun as the Aggies scored four touchdowns in the first period, two in the second, one in the third and a single in the fourth.

Zaharias, Hanson In Texas Finals

Fort Worth, Oct. 13. —(AP)— Mrs. Mildred Zaharias fired a 140-yard eight iron into the cup today as she nipped Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., 1 up in the women's Texas open at River Crest Country club.

Mrs. Zaharias meets the defending champion, Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., in tomorrow's championship round.

Miss Hanson, shooting for her third straight crown, survived a gallant rally by Pro Marilynn Smith of Wichita, Kas., to score a 2-up victory with a three-foot birdie putt on the final hole.

Mrs. Zaharias was three up on her 18-year-old opponent through 12-holes when she made her startling shot on the 347-yard 13th.

The ball was so tightly wedged against the pin, the cup had to be taken from the hole and the ball broken loose with a hammer.

But Barbara came back to capture the next four holes with three birdies and a par to square the match. Babe belted two long woods to the 18th green and got down in two putts to win when Romack's attempt for a birdie halve slid by.

Miss Hanson had to so some rallying herself when Miss Smith gained a one-hole cushion through 10 holes with a phenomenal putting streak that used but 14 greens strokes. Hanson won 11 with a birdie, 12 and 13 in par and halved 14 in regulation despite an out of bounds second shot.

Louisiana Tech Scores In Every Period To Beat S'Eastern Okla.

Bulldogs Humble Visiting Savages At Ruston, 40-6

Ruston, La., Oct. 13 —(Special) — Scoring in all four quarters, the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs overwhelmed the Savages of Southeastern Oklahoma State College of Durant here Saturday night by a score of 40-6. Tech made 18 first downs and Southeastern six.

Midway of the first quarter, Cotton Hildreth swept 13 yards around his left end to score for the Techmen, and Ed Michael converted the extra point from placement. The scoring developed from a Southeastern punt that went out of bounds on the Savage 32. Gene Kencht gave the drive impetus with a 17-yard dash around the right side of the line.

Knecht followed with a touchdown on a seven - yard sprint around right end and Michael booted the extra point. Figuring in the movement were a 12-yard pass from Jim Brown to Joe Strother and a 12-yard plunge by Michael.

Tech counted in the second quarter as Bud McMichael's 75 yard run enlivened the proceedings. Michael kicked the extra point.

In the last 35 seconds of the first half, Knecht passed 26 yards to Hildreth, who caught the ball in the end zone for the Bulldogs fourth touchdown. Michael, for the fourth consecutive time, made the conversion from placement to give the Techmen a lead of 28-0.

Southeastern's Bill McCarson intercepted a pass on Tech's 44 and James Bowers carried the ball to the 29 for the Savages deepest penetration of Bulldog territory early in the third quarter but the spurt bogged down. Michael tallied for the Techmen on a run from the 21 - yard line in the third but failed to kick the extra point. A 25 - yard pass from Brown to Gerald Mardis, placing Tech on the 22, set up the play.

Southeastern was in possession on Tech's 13 as the third quarter ended.

On the first play of the fourth quarter, the Savages fumbled on Tech's 13 and Charley Russell recovered for Tech. Then James Oliver fumbled and Southeastern recovered.

Presently Don Townsend passed from the three to Andy Musgraves in the end zone for a touchdown for the Savages. Don Parham's try for the extra point failed.

Following a successful passing barrage by James Fenner to Jimmy Mardis, Maurice (Red) Rawls scored for the Bulldogs on a running play from the Southeastern nine. Michaels conversion attempt was wide.

Michigan's Powerhouse Smashes Indiana, 33-14

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 13 —(AP)—Michigan's Big Ten champions made a sparkling league debut today by smashing a penalty-riddled Indiana team, 33 to 14.

A crowd of 61,100 watched the Michigan team, with a new finesse, rack up its first win of the season in convincing fashion with a touchdown in every period and two in the fourth.

Michigan, scoring on drives of 69, 89, 74, 59 and 34 yards, handed the Hoosiers their second loss in three outings. Penalties nullified three Indiana scoring opportunities.

MARYLAND WHIPS GEORGIA, 43 TO 7

Bulldogs Completely Outclassed In Submitting To Trouncing

Athens, Ga., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Maryland, 10th ranked team in American football, launched a campaign for higher recognition tonight by turning loose a split "T" attack with five great backs who ran completely away from a good Georgia team, 43-7.

Maryland, a Southern conference team, had a back for every job in quarterback Jack Scarbath, left halfbacks Bob Shemonski and Chester Hanulak. Right half Ralph Felton and Fullback Ed (Mighty Mo) Modzelewski.

What passing Maryland found necessary to open up Georgia defenses was done well by Shemonski and Felton. The Mighty Mo was the man for line bucking and Hanulak, plus Ed Fulerton, was ready with the long runs.

"If you'd been with me in Korea you'd know Defense is our job, too!"

A message to you from Marguerite Higgins, war correspondent and author of "War In Korea"

Dear people, please believe me . . . I've been through Korea and there I've seen your young men fighting and dying on the battlefield. I've seen the unbelievable courage and pathetically brave humor of young Americans who should be playing games on football fields and tinkering with old cars in the driveway and garage. Instead, they were fighting the most brutal of wars far from home and youth and security . . . the security they are buying for you.

When they have given so much, surely all of us can afford to lend a little. Surely we can do our little job for defense in the hope that by making America strong this cannot happen again.

This month brings you a chance, through our government's big Defense Bond Drive, to do your part here at home in defense of the things these boys fought for in Korea. So support the Defense Bond Drive and buy that extra bond this month. You will be helping to build America's power to produce. And your financial independence, through bonds or other forms of saving, will keep your country strong. That's important—because today peace is only for the strong.

There is no safer investment in the world today — U. S. Defense Bonds!

The U. S. Defense Bonds you buy give you personal financial independence

Remember that when you're buying Defense Bonds you're building a personal reserve of cash savings. Money that will some day buy you a house or educate your children, or support you when you retire.

CLEMENT PASSES PROVIDE TULANE WITH 20-14 EDGE

Greenie Fumbles Help Holy Cross To 2 Touchdowns

By James Saggus

New Orleans, Oct. 13. —(AP)— Tulane absorbed all the offense vaunted Holy Cross could dish out and struck back with Sophomore Quarterback Pete Clement's passing for a 20-14 victory over the eastern Crusaders here today.

Clement passed for two touchdowns and set up a third after Holy Cross lost its punch in the second quarter.

Holy Cross' Coach Dr. Eddie Anderson cost his team a touchdown when he walked onto the field to protest a 15 - yard roughing penalty that had put the ball on the Holy Cross 13. His action drew a 12-yard penalty to the Holy Cross one for unsportsmanlike conduct. Right Half Roy Bailey of Richmond, Va., bucked it over and Tommy Comeaux failed to convert.

That was the touchdown that put Tulane ahead 13-12. Holy Cross got both of its touchdowns off Tulane fumbles while Tulane drove 90, 80 and 56 yards. The winning touchdown came in the third quarter on a 10 - yard pass from Clement to End W. C. McElhannon.

The loss would appear to work to end consideration of Holy Cross for the Sugar Bowl. The Sugar Bowlers are reported in the market for an eastern team for the New Year's Day gridiron game.

Holy Cross recovered a fumble on the kickoff on the Tulane 19. The Crusaders took it to the one on two plays and Halfback Mel Massucco plunged over for the touchdown. Tackle John Feltch missed the try for point.

Tulane fumbled again on the first play after the kickoff and Holy Cross recovered on the Tulane 32. Fullback Bob Doule ran over from the 13 and Feltch again missed the conversion try giving Holy Cross their 12 points by touchdowns.

Tulane warmed up its offense late in the first period, driving 90 yards to score on Max McGee's 22 yard run, Clement's 13 - yard pass to McElhannon and a 15-yard penalty. Clement passed to Bailey for eight yards and the touchdown. Comeaux converted.

The second Tulane touchdown came in the second quarter and was set up by Clement's 56 - yard pass to McElhannon. Holy Cross was penalized 15 yards to the 12 for roughing and it was then that Dr. Anderson walked onto the field and Holy Cross was penalized to the one for unsportsmanlike conduct.

Tulane pulled a neat play to set up the final touchdown in the third period. The Greenies line up in punt formation but the ball went to the short man in the backfield, Fullback Ronnie Kent, who ran for 12 yards for a first down on the Holy Cross 33.

Clement passed to McGee for 12 before his touchdown toss to McElhannon.

Comeaux's conversion was good. He missed after the second touchdown.

Holy Cross got back in the game in the fourth period when Halfback Ellsworth Kingery took a punt and was tackled in his end zone.

Holy Cross recovered two Tulane fumbles deep in Tulane territory in the closing minutes but couldn't get its offense working.

Score by quarters:

Holy Cross	12 0 0 2—14

Harben, Cronin Call For Rematch With Curtis Brothers In Tag Bout

Relay Scramble Features Tuesday Mat Card At Kallio's

"Colonel" George Harben and Pat "Big Boy" Cronin screamed "foul" after their defeat at the hands of Jack and George Curtis last week at Gus Kallio's Arena and challenged for a rematch Tuesday night.

In the third and deciding fall of last week's match, all four matmen were locked together with each Curtis holding one leg of each of the other two. The Curtis' rocked back and forth in the hold and pulled the villainous pair apart at the seams until the referee broke the hold.

Cronin and Harben, however, claim that they never surrendered and that the referee took it upon himself to award the match to the other pair. Acting very bitter about the whole thing they told Kallio they wanted the return bout.

Last week's defeat was the second in a series of defeats for Harben by the Curtis brothers, and the match was supposed to be his revenge bout, but he didn't seem to get very far with it. Although he and Cronin, a Jackson, Miss. matman and part-time referee, did do some better than Harben, who hails from Stone Mountain, Ga., and Rube Wright, who lost one match against the Curtis' with Harben, they couldn't come across with a win.

The villainous pair, Harben and Cronin, gave the Curtis brothers a hard time during the match and actually did better, on a whole, than did the Curtis'. Combining brute force and a lot of shady tricks they had the brothers in trouble almost the whole time during the match, but lost out on a surprise wrestling trick of the brothers in the last two falls.

George and Jack, however, are a hard pair of matmen to beat in the ring. Using both wrestling skill and roughhouse tactics whenever they are necessary, the boys usually come out on top of any fray in which they are combined.

Tuesday night's brawl should be an exceptionally good one, with the rowdy Cronin and the gigantic Harben feeling hurt about what they claim was a wrong decision by the referee and the Curtis brothers still angry at the villainous tricks of the other pair.

There will also be two short time-limit falls between matmen from the different teams in addition to the tag team match, which will be the main event. The show will get under way at 8:15 o'clock.

BEAR FIELD GOAL BEATS ARKANSAS

Brocato's Boot Gives Baylor 9-7 Verdict Over Porkers

Waco, Tex., Oct. 13.—(AP)—C. O. Brocato, a little known linebacker, booted the first field goal he ever tried in college to squeeze Baylor past Arkansas today, 9-7.

Larry Isbell, Baylor's brilliant quarterback, fired 31 yards to End Stanley Williams for a vital six points in the second quarter, and the try for point never got off the ground as Francis Davidson fumbled the snapback.

Brocato kicked the three-pointer hard and high from a slight angle at the six, in the final period without knowing it would provide the margin of victory. Arkansas had not come near touchdown land at the time.

A Baylor fumble, recovered by Arkansas End Bob Linebarier on Baylor's 37 started the Razorbacks goal - ward in the waning minutes. Sophomore Lamar McHan shot a 17 - yarder to End Pat Summerall and hit the other end, Bill Jurney, for 18 more.

Left Half Dean Pryor raced through his right guard from the two standing up, and George Thomason kicked the extra point to pull Arkansas within two points of the Bears.

Three minutes remained in the game, and the Baylor crowd of 25,000 sat paralyzed when Arkansas got the ball again and surged from its 43 to the Baylor 34 on the passing of McHan.

An interception in the end zone by Baylor's "Red" Donaldson saved the day and Baylor had won its Southwest Conference opener and three in a row.

Arkansas absorbed its second league defeat, and thus was virtually eliminated from the race.

Score by quarters:

Arkansas	0 0 0 7—7
Baylor	0 6 0 3—9

Arkansas scoring: Touchdown, Pryor. Conversion, Pryor.

Baylor scoring: Touchdown, S. Williams. Field goal, Brocato.

DELHI TRIUMPHS OVER OAK GROVE

Class B Powerhouse Storms Over Tigers, 34 To 0

Oak Grove, La., Oct. 13.—(Special)— Delhi High School's contenders for the Class B grid crown showed their strength here Friday night by shellacking the Class A Oak Grove Tigers, 34 to 0.

A Bear fumble and a coffin corner punt by the Tigers' Jess Smith set the visitors back to their two in the game's opening minutes but the Bears dug out of the hole and from then on the outcome was never in doubt.

Norman Derouen's 18 carries for a total of 116 yards were a major factor in the Bears racking up 268 yards on running plays and earning 16 first downs to their hosts' 25 yards on runs. Delhi made 84 yards on four completed passes of eleven attempted while the Tigers got 32 yards on its three completions of six attempts.

Quarterback Milford Andrews ran from the 20 for the first Bear touchdown when he found no pass receivers in the open.

Pat Patterson smashed across from the four for the second Delhi tally.

Still in the first half, Derouen circled right end for five yards and the third Bear touchdown.

Late in the third period Bobby Hartley caught a pass from Andrews in the end zone for another score.

The final Bear touchdown came in the last quarter when Andrews heaved a long pass to End Wendell Robbins and he jogged across the goal line.

Quarterback Andrews earned four points after touchdowns on his five place kicks attempted.

Aussie Carpenter Gets Rich Daily Double Pay

Sydney, Oct. 13 —(AP)— A Sydney carpenter, H. Hurst, held the only ticket today on a daily double combination at Randwick racecourse that paid odds of better than 12,000 to one.

Johnny Zero won the mile and one-half Tattersalls Cup at 16 to 1 and Val Ali at 200 to 1 won the next race, the 10 furlongs Novice Handicap.

The doubles payoff was $6,990 for a 55-cent ticket.

West Point Gets 3rd Loss In Row

West Point, Oct. 13—(AP)—The full extent of the disaster which struck Army's football forces two months ago became evident today when the Dartmouth Indians previously humbled by Fordham and Penn, vanquished the immature Cadets, 28 to 14.

The Big Green, featuring two hard-running halfbacks named Collins, Tom and Dick, ripped through and over Army's weak defenses for touchdown in each quarter and appeared to have the victory sewed up by even a more one-sided margin until the closing seconds when one of Coach Earl Blaik's new crop broke loose on a spectacular 97-yard gallop.

The clock showed absolutely no time left when Bob Mischak, a sophomore end, gathered in a kickoff on his own three and went all the way, right down the middle, on the longest solo jaunt in the history of Army's home field. The closing gun sounded after the ensuing kickoff.

This was Army's third straight defeat this season.

JENA TROUNCES WINNSBORO, 27-6

Two Great Runs By Gene Southern Nullified

Jena, Oct. 13 —(Special)— Jena High School slammed Winnsboro High School here last night 27-6 to make Jena's homecoming night a real thrill.

Jimmy Coleman and Neal Thompson taking to the air for four completed passes out of five tries.

Eugene Southern, the jinxed star of the Winnsboro team, galloped across the Jena goal line three times in the game only to be called back twice for penalties. Southern, whose bad luck during the game was astounding, galloped 100 yards from his own goal line the first time Winnsboro took possession of the ball but was called back on a clipping penalty.

Supposedly feeling somewhat discouraged about the situation at this point, the Winnsboro team allowed Jena to score 20 points during the first half of the game. Southern gathered in Jena's second half opening kickoff on his own 40 and covered 60 yards this time, only to be called back again on an offside penalty.

Finally, late in the third quarter he managed to make his score good on a 39-yard run.

Coleman, who collected two touchdowns and an extra point during the game, trotted 52 yards for his first score and Thompson completed a 22-yard pass to Manchester, who also scored twice for Jena, as the two outstanding plays for the Jena team.

Manchester made the other two points of the game on a safety.

VOLS WITHSTAND AERIAL SHOWERS

Tennessee 42-14 Victor Over Little Chattanooga

Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 13. —(AP)— Hal Ledyard, a passer with the marksmanship of a frontiersman, gave Tennessee a real scare today, but the Volunteers had too many weapons and defeated Chattanooga, 42 to 14.

Ledyard, 180 - pound quarterback, put on one of the finest exhibitions of passing ever seen on Shields - Watkins Field.

His bullet - like tosses completely befuddled Tennessee's secondary for three quarters. But in the final period, two fell into Vol hands and one was run back for a touchdown. The interceptions were the first against Ledyard in five games.

He fired 29 times and 14 of his aerials found their mark for 179 yards. And his passing opened up Tennessee's defense to allow his backfield mates to romp through the big Vol line for 77 net yards.

Freshman Jimmy Wade grabbed one of the two Ledyard passes that backfired and raced 34 yards for a touchdown. This was late in the final stanza after the issue had been settled.

Passes set up both Chattanooga touchdowns. Ledyard's favorite targets were Ends Rufus Evans and Billy Brown. Brown caught the tosses that put the ball in scoring position both times. Fullback Earl Dukes plunged across from the one for the first Chattanooga touchdown in the second period. Halfback Dick Hostetler went seven yards for the other.

Gen. Bob Neyland, Tennessee's veteran mentor, said he had "never seen a finer T -quarterback than Ledyard."

Score by quarters:

Chattanooga	0 7 6 0—13
Tennessee	14 7 7 14—42

Chattanooga scoring: Touchdowns - Dukes, Hostetler. Conversion - Medich.

SPARTANS BARELY STAVE OFF UPSET

M. C. S. Comes From Behind To Beat Marquette, 20-14

East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 13.—(AP)—Michigan State's "tony" backfield pulled one out of the fire for Coach Biggie Munn today by scoring two touchdowns in the final quarter to quell an upset-hungry Marquette football team 20-14.

The speedy young sophomores and freshmen did all the scoring after Marquette took a 14-6 half time lead over the surprised Michigan State team.

Quarterback Jim Leahy made both the Marquette touchdowns with passes to End Jim Tobias in the end zone. And for a while it looked as if Michigan State, No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, was in for a humiliating beating.

Michigan State's only score in the first half came in the second quarter when Billy Wells, a sophomore back, ran 69 yards through the Marquette defense for a touchdown.

Michigan State started its victory drive from its own 14 in the final quarter and scored with three minutes and five seconds gone in the frame. Leroy Bolden, a freshman, contributed a 34 - yard run for the longest yardage as M. S. C. worked down to the Marquette 40.

Quarterback Al Dorow threw a long gambling pass to Wells that traveled about 50 yards and Wells, in the clear on the Marquette 14, pulled it down and scooted over.

A 50-yard pass from Dorow to End Paul Dekker set up the winning tally with less than eight minutes left. Bolden went over from the Marquette 13.

Marquette struck its big blow for an upset try by scoring three minutes and 32 seconds after the opening kickoff. From State's 14, Leahy connected with his end zone pass to Tobias and Marquette was ahead and all fired up to knock off the Spartans.

Score by quarters:

Marquette	7 7 0 0—14
Michigan State	0 6 0 14—20

Marquette scoring: Touchdowns —Tobias 2. Conversions — Leahy 2.

Michigan State scoring: Touchdowns — Wells, Bolden. Conversions — Serr 2.

Northwestern Fashions 21-7 Win Over Gophers

Minneapolis, Oct. 13 — (AP) —Chuck Hren, elusive, hard-plunging fullback, was the big gun of the Northwestern attack today as the Wildcats handed Minnesota, his home-state team, a 21 to 7 lacing.

Hren counted two of the Northwestern touchdowns and contributed important yardage as Northwestern outclassed the green Gophers in the opening Western Conference game for both teams before 52,444 fans. Walter Jones, Wildcat safety man, plunged over for Northwestern's third score.

Only a series of gambling desperation passes that put them in position to send left half George Hudak over for a touchdown with but two minutes to play kept the Gophers from a blanking.

Gold Cup Taken By Counterpoint

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—C. V. Whitney's Counterpoint won the $53,700 Jockey Club Gold Cup today at Belmont Park, beating out C. T. Chenery's Hill Prince in a photo finish in the two mile event.

The pictures showed a head difference between the two horses, who fought it out in the stretch after Hill Prince had led most of the way. Kiss Me Kate was third.

Counterpoint, leading contender for three-year-old honors, was timed in 3:21 3-5 seconds, just four-fifths off the track record set by Market Wise in 1941. The winner, a son of Count Fleet, paid $10.70, $2.70, and $2.30.

County Delight was fourth.

TEXAS MEASURES SOONERS, 9 TO 7

Once - Mighty Oklahoma Takes 2nd Straight Defeat

Dallas, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Texas hammered the spell of once mighty Oklahoma for a 9-7 victory today in a game of breaks, useless long runs and freak happenings.

The Longhorns who scored a safety and turned an Oklahoma bobble into a touchdown, were almost swept off the field for a period by a vicious Sooner ground game, then made it all up with a mighty defensive show in the last half.

A crowd of 75,349 shook the Cotton Bowl as Texas broke Oklahoma's string in this colorful southwestern rivalry.

The Sooners had won three straight over Texas when they came here today.

Texas played without the services of its great running back Gib Dawson, whose father died suddenly in Dallas this morning. But Carl Mayes, who took over for Dawson, was one of the bright lights in the Longhorn victory.

Oklahoma, national champion last year, thus suffered its second defeat in two weeks. Texas A. and M. last week beat the Sooners, 14-7.

T. Jones was the heart of the Texas attack, his quarterbacking, passing and running leading to the Longhorn touchdown and almost getting two more.

In the fourth period, after a Texas drive of 90 yards stalled on the Oklahoma two, Oklahoma tried a pass from behind its goal line. Billy Vessels caught it but was hit on the one and so badly injured he was carried from the field on a stretcher. At the same time Eddie Crowder, Oklahoma quarterback, ran into a goal post and hurt himself slightly. The goal post was knocked down.

All the scoring was in the first half with the safety coming early in the opening period. Bobby Dillon knocked Frank Silva down in the end zone as the Sooner back tried to run out a wild backward pass from Crowder.

A recovered Oklahoma fumble set up a Texas touchdown later in the first period. Joe McDonald pounced on the ball when Silva dropped it on the Oklahoma 21. A 16 - yard sprint by T. Jones set up the score, made when Carl Mayes hammered over from two feet out. June Davis kicked the extra point and Texas led, 9-0.

Then in the second period occurred an amazing Oklahoma recovery. The Sooners hadn't netted a single yard in the first period and appeared to be getting nowhere when Bob Raley intercepted a Crowder pass on the Oklahoma 49, and, with Jones running and passing, pushed to the Sooner four. But Jim Weatherall and Ed Rowland tossed the Texas ball carriers for repeated losses and Oklahoma took over on its six. With Buck McPhail, Dick Heatly, Billy Vessels and Crowder battering the line and sweeping the ends, the Sooners rushed to a touchdown. Crowder made it with a two - yard sneak over guard. Weatherall kicked the extra point.

Score by quarters:

Oklahoma	0 7 0 0—7
Texas	9 0 0 0—9

Oklahoma scoring: Touchdown, Crowder; Conversion: Weatherall.

Texas scoring: Touchdown, Mayes; Conversion: Davis. Safety, Silva (tackled by Dillon in the end zone).

ISTROUMA ROLLS ON IN 'AA' BALL

Indians Maul Byrd; Ouachita, Terrebonne, Jennings Win

Istrouma—top ranking Louisiana double-A football team—took a big stride toward the state playoff but seventh ranking Terrebonne almost stumbled from the picture last night.

Istrouma of Baton Rouge, ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press' weekly poll and defending state champions, swallowed Byrd of Shreveport 27—0.

But highly regarded Terrebonne of Houma, who figure in state honors conversation, had to battle all the way before finally whipping Sulphur, defending champions of the southwest district, 26—25.

Istrouma is a strong favorite repeat as southeast district titlist. Terrebonne and undefeated Jennings, 19—7 victors over Catholic High of Baton Rouge Thursday night, are the southwest favorites.

They meet Nov. 2 in an affair that may very well decide the situation.

In the four other double-A games, Lake Charles dropped Lafayette from the unbeaten ranks with a 27—0 victory; Ouachita edged Haynesville 18—0 in a battle of weak northern teams; Baton Rouge beat Bogalusa 13—7 in the first southeast district game, and St. Aloysius and Fortier fought to a 7—7 tie in a game between two weak New Orleans elevens.

In other games Thursday night, the outcomes read like this:

Holy Cross 35, Redemptorist 6; Bossier City 46, Springhill 6; and Bolton of Alexandria 7, LaGrange of Lake Charles 26.

The Istrouma-Byrd game turned out to be an aerial affair with Istrouma holding the upper hand, completing eight of 15 passes for 140 yards while Byrd completed only six of 25 for 78 yards.

Istrouma halfback Dick Jamison set the pace early in the game. He scored on the opening kickoff on an 80 yard run. Istrouma pushed right back to score when Halfback L. W. Alexander tallied on a 20—yard pass.

Larry Grissom tallied a third quarter pass and Jamison went over again in the fourth. Hardy Cannon converted three of four times.

The Terrebonne-Sulphur thriller made goose pimples stand out like hen eggs.

Terrebonne took a 14—0 halftime lead on a six yard dash by Bob Kimball and a 27—yard march by Tommy Strait. Strait converted twice.

In the third period, Sulphur marched 61 yards to the nine from where Curtis Gros went over. But Terrebonne tackle Alvin Aucoin intercepted a Sulphur lateral and made it across from the 20.

Sulphur bounced back with two scores to almost win the game. Leroy Johnson passed to John Scofield for 30 yards for one touchdown and J. D. Doucet stole the ball and galloped 55 yards for the final score in the game. But the rally fell one shy.

Lake Charles maintained its long standing superiority over Lafayette.

Since the series began way back in 1928, Lake Charles has won 15, tied two, and lost none. And Lafayette didn't come close to breaking that record last night.

Lake Charles scored in every period to out-rush Lafayette 190 yards to 97. Lake Charles racked up 11 first downs, Lafayette seven.

Glen Hathaway tallied twice for Lake Charles, once on a 32 yard dash and then again from the eight. A pass, Jerry Lewis to Larry King was good for 37 yards and a score in the third.

The final touchdown resulted from a five-yard buck by Francis O'Bryan, Lewis converted twice for Lake Charles.

It was a 62—yard run late in the fourth period that gave Baton Rouge its 13—7 win over Bogalusa.

Quarterback Don Dedon sparked the push and set up the score with a 17—yard pass to Left Halfback Ronnie Quillan to the one. Quillan then smashed over for the score.

Bogalusa scored the first time it touched the ball 1:55 seconds after the game opened. Fullback Derl Burr returned a punt 77 yards. Buddy Smith converted.

Baton Rouge tied up the game in the second period. Quillian recovered a Bogalusa fumble on the 28. He plunged the final four yards to tally. Don Turner booted the extra point.

It was the first southeast district game of the year.

Ouachita found little trouble in ripping holes in Haynesville's line. Norman Goza passed from the one to Charles Dortch for a tally in the first period. Frank Mobley then busted over right tackle for 25 yards.

In the final period Gene Muckelroy went over from the three to cap a 58-yard drive.

Fortier came through with a third quarter touchdown to tie intercity rival St. Aloysius 7—7. Nickie Blount scored for St. Aloysius in the first period and then converted. William Harrison tallied Fortier's touchdown and also converted.

OLE MISS FALLS TO VANDERBILT

Commodores Push Over 27 Points In Last Quarter

Memphis, Oct. 13 —(AP)—All-America candidate Bill Wade's fabulous passing pulled Vanderbilt from behind in the last quarter here today to give the Commodores a 34-30 victory over Mississippi in a thrilling Southeastern Conference game.

Vanderbilt scored 27 points in the final period to surpass their opponent's 20-7 lead that looked for all the world like a favored Mississippi win.

Wade completed 17 of 32 passes. He threw one touchdown aerial and ran for another score. Halfback Dick Foster teamed with Wade for offensive honors, scoring two touchdowns.

Vanderbilt scored first late in the first period, Foster jogging 12 yards around the Ole Miss right end. Foster then kicked the first of four points after touchdown.

The second quarter was scoreless, but turned into a rough and tumble match after Ole Miss Halfback Dick Westerman was injured and carried from the field on a stretcher.

Penalties were common.

Mississippi caught fire in the third period as senior Quarterback Jimmy Lear ran for two touchdowns, both on short plunges of one and two yards. Of two tries, the brilliant signal-caller kicked one extra point.

The Rebels fired up for another touchdown on the second play of the fourth quarter.

The score came on a 17-yard pass from Lear to End James Slay. Lear's kick was good to put Ole Miss ahead, 20-7.

But that was all for the Rebels. Vandy recovered a fumbled pass by Slay and the tide was turned right at mid-field.

Wade took over and went into the air, connecting for gains on a series of short passes, then pitching a 28-yard pass to Halfback Billy Duncan who grabbed it on the 20 and fought his way over to stun the sun-baked crowd of 19,710.

Midway of the fourth period, Wade dropped back to fire a pass, but couldn't find a receiver. He elected to run and ate up 15 yards for six more points.

Foster's kick put the Commodores ahead, 21-20.

Vandy's End Bob Hines recovered an Ole Miss fumble on the Rebs 41 to start another scoring drive. Wade fired two passes to put the ball on the three. Foster swept right end for the score with six minutes to go.

Then with five seconds left, Vandy's Center Bob Farris intercepted a Rebel pass on the Vandy 33 and climaxed the thrill-packed fourth quarter with a 67-yard jaunt to pay dirt. Foster's kick was good, and the game ended Vandy 34, Ole Miss 20.

Olympic Motif Will Be Feature Of Sugar Bowl

New Orleans, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Officials of the Sugar Bowl announced today that a colorful pageant heralding the Olympic year of 1952 will highlight the pregame and halftime program at the 18th annual Sugar Bowl football classic here on New Year's Day.

The idea for the Olympic motif for the New Year's Day pageant developed from a request of the U. S. Olympic Association and the National Collegiate Athletic Association for assistance in publicizing the 1952 Olympic games throughout the nation.

Thrilling Stock Car Events Open Louisiana Delta Fair At Tallulah

Colorful Destruction Race To Be Presented 1st Time

Tallulah, Oct. 13. — (Special) — Sunday afternoon the scream of tires, the roar of throbbing power-packed engines, and the crash of cars out of control, will signal the opening of the Louisiana Delta Fair here, with at least 22 experienced and capable stock car speedsters vieing for prize money in the opening day stock car program.

Such nationally recognized driving experts as "Red" Dowdy, Dallas, Tex., speedster; Ralph Dyer,

Shreveport's racing police officer; Buck Barret, Jefferson, Tex., daredevil, and Claude Crenshaw, handsome Monroe thrillster, will be hard pressed by less popular but equally talented throttle - benders, for first place winnings.

Tomorrow's opening day stock car program will be highlighted by the nerve-chilling added attraction, the fantastic, spectacular, "destruction" race.

In the "destruction" race, every one of the death-defying daredevils entering will have only one driving motive — that is to wreck the other cars in the running. Only one winner is paid in the spectacular event, and all of the entrants will be trying to avoid wrecking their own cars, while forcing all other cars out of the running.

The program will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon, with the bulky field taking their time trial runs over the local half-mile oval. Immediately after the time trials, the speedsters will compete in a pair of 10-lap dashes and two 15-lap runs before the feature 35-lap marathon event.

Then climaxing the day's thrill-a-minute excitement will come the "destruction" race. All together, a full afternoon of the best that the auto racing sport can provide.

Illini Manhandle Syracuse, 41-20

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 13. —(AP)— Powerful Illinois manhandled Syracuse today, 41-20, for its third straight win in a manner calculated to impress all visiting Big 10 scouts.

Piling up a 41-7 lead in the first three periods, Illinois ran up an impressive total gain of 416 yards in its first wrestle with Syracuse in 41 years.

With the first string backs resting, Syracuse scrapped back to score twice in the final quarter, restoring some semblance of a contest to this intersectional game.

Johnny Karras, Illinois' hope for All-America honors, and Don Stevens, his halfback running mate, teamed up on the Syracuse Orange in the early blasting. Karras bulled 76 yards in 15 carries for two touchdowns and also caught two of Don Engels' passes. Stevens smashed 100 yards in 13 trips, scoring once.

Score by quarters:

Illinois	7	20	14	0	—41

Illinois scoring — Touchdowns—J. Vernasco, Karras 2, Wodziak, Stevens, D. Tate. Conversions — Rebecca 5.

Princeton Shades Quakers, 13 To 7

Philadelphia, Oct. 13. —(AP)— Princeton punched over two second period touchdowns on Dick Kazmaier's passing and then stood off a sophomore - sparked rally today to squeeze past Pennsylvania, 13-7, and extend football's longest current winning streak to 16 games.

Relaxing after All-America Kazmaier set up one score and pitched to another in four minutes just before the half, the unbeaten men of Nassau were half scared to death by a fierce Quaker comeback in power football game witnessed by 60,000 fans.

With Penn's great passer, Glenn (Bones) Adams, on the sidelines with a leg injury, two sophomores —Chet Cornog and Jet Varaitis— roused the dozing Pennsylvania giant to a 64-yard touchdown drive in the third period and barely missed what would have been a tying or winning score.

In the fading minutes, Cornog overshot Billy Deuber, who was in the clear on the Princeton 30. Not a Tiger was within 20 yards of him.

FERRIDAY UPSETS COLUMBIA ELEVEN

'Red' McNew Steers Bulldogs In Class B Triumph, 21-0

Ferriday, La., Oct. 13.—An underdog Ferriday High School Bulldog eleven displayed anything but fear for the heretofore undefeated Columbia High School Crimson Tide, in a pigskin thriller at Melz Field here Friday night decidedly outplaying the Tidesmen, 21 to 0.

Paced by the tricky maneuvering of Bulldog Quarterback "Red" McNew and his backfield aides plus a magnificent defensive forward wall — the Ferriday team roared back after a scoreless first half to count twice in the third quarter and once in the final period for their glorious upset of the powerful Tide.

It was the Ferriday field-general himself McNew, who set the stage for the Bulidogs initial six-pointer when he leaped high into the air and literally wrested a pass from a Columbia receiver.

McNew returned the interception some 20 yards and then broke out with a passing attack of his own. He immediately hit Frederick Stuart for a 31 - yard gain before he handed off to Bobby Marks for a one yard touchdown plunge. Stuart ran the extra point when an attempted kick by Everett Westbrook backfired and the locals held a 7 to 0 lead.

After having a beautifully executed scoring play called back - the play was a 45 yard run made by Stuart on a reverse play from a punt - McNew and Stuart combined to crash right back into scoring territory again.

On a dipsy - do dash by Stuart that returned a Columbia punt 46 yards to the latter's 19, the inspired Ferriday charges continued the terrific pressure on the favored visitors.

Marks raced 13 yards around right end and Stuart skipped the remaining six for Ferriday's second TD. Westbrook booted the extra point and F. H. S. led 14 to 0 when the third quarter elapsed.

Still hustling all the way, Ferriday pulled out one of its tricks and tallied its final touchdown. Versatile Stuart took a pitchout from McNew and in turn passed to Green, who went all the way, 69 yards in all for the third touchdown. His run was made possible by a key block by Jackie Wilkins.

It was a thoroughly aroused Ferriday eleven that outplayed the highly favored visitors throughout the contest. In the first half the home town lads racked up seven first downs to Columbia's three and threatened to score several times.

Cornell Smothers Harvard, 42 To 6

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 13 —(AP)— Cornell thundered to two touchdowns in the first period today, then went on to play good, bad and indifferent football the rest of the way to smother Harvard, 42-6.

From the moment Bob Engel sprinted around left end for 27 yards immediately after Cornell took the opening kick-off on its 27 the course of the battle was mapped.

Cornell continued what Engel, injured on the play, had started, passing and sprinting and plunging until Stu Merz drove over from the one foot line after 3:19 minutes of play.

Cornell added another score shortly afterwards in the quarter and added one in the second, two in the third and one more in the last frame.

Rice Owls Roll Over Navy To Tune Of 21-14

Houston, Tex., Oct. 13—(AP)— Rice smashed Navy, 21-14, tonight on the pin-point passing of Dan Drake and the wonderous catching of big Bill Howton.

Howton snared two touchdown passes and two others that gave him 132 of the 157 yards the Owls gained passing.

Drake connected on 7 of 10 passes, his scoring pitches to Howton covering 74 to 21 yards respectively.

MUSTANGS NUDGE OUT NOTRE DAME

Fred Benners' Passing Fires S. M. U. To 27-20 Win

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 13.—(AP)— Fred Benners, a human windmill, hit on 22 passes in 44 attempts for 336 yards and four touchdowns today to pilot Southern Methodist over bewildered Notre Dame 27-20.

The 6 - foot 3-inch senior, who lives only several blocks from the Dallas school campus, shattered all of his own aerial records in unharnessing the most furious passing game ever fired at a Notre Dame team.

The Irish, unable to pierce the S. M. U. defense that shielded Benners like he was a hunk of uranium, bowed to their first defeat in three starts this season.

The Mustangs were up in the air from the start and did not call more than a dozen actual running plays in winging to their first victory in four games with the Irish. The scored was identical, only reversed, of the great Notre Dame 1949 triumph, the last time the two intersectional rivals met.

But the young Irish made a battle of it with a last quarter touchdown on a passing attack of their own. It kept the crowd of 58,240 on its feet and added more thrills for the millions of television fans watching on a coast to coast hookup.

In all 89 passes were tried by both teams.

S. M. U. wheeled into a 13-6 first quarter lead, was ahead 20-13 at the half and then boosted it to 27-13 in the third period.

Benners previous single game records were 39 attempts against Texas last year, 20 completions against Texas and Ohio State in 1950 and 306 yards gained against Ohio State, last year.

In the first half, S. M. U. called only one play for an actual run as Benners struck on 12 tosses out of 23 for 224 yards.

COTTON

New Orleans

New Orleans, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Most months declined in cotton futures here today under long liquidation and increased hedge selling. Closing prices were steady, 75 cents a bale lower to 50 cents higher.

Trading was active in the short Saturday session. The October position advanced on short covering prior to last notice day, Oct. 17. Some of the selling resulted from continued ideal picking and ginning weather in the belt and unfavorable textile reports.

Middling 15-16ths inch spot cotton declined 50 cents a bale to 36.30 cents a pound. Local spot sales amounted to 19,960 bales.

New York

New York, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A slightly easier price structure prevailed in cotton futures today. An accumulation of hedge selling orders over the holiday accounted for much of the softness. Traders were also expecting further hedges on Monday. The volume of business, however, was small. Trade dealers bought but this demand was limited to scale down orders. The 1951 October delivery ruled independently steady. This was due to covering by shorts prior to expiration of trading in the spot month at noon next Wednesday.

Futures closed 5 to 85 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

SPOT COTTON

New Orleans, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Spot cotton closed steady, 50 cents a bale lower. Sales 19,960. Low middling 32.30; middling 36.30; good middling 36.80. Receipts none. Stocks 193,288.

New Orleans, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The average price of middling 15-16-inch spot cotton at ten designated southern spot markets today was 45 cents a bale lower at 36.42 cents a pound; previous day 36.51; week ago 36.31; month ago 34.67; year ago 38.29; average for the past 30 market days was 35.77; middling 7/8-inch average 35.13. Sales at the ten markets today totaled 86,752 bales.

New York, Oct. 13. —(AP)— The stock market edged up today in fairly active trading with steels standing out.

There was nothing spectacular in the two - hour session, but good progress was made all around.

Gains extended to around a point among leaders —with few going higher — and losses were in the smaller fractional range.

The volume of business came to an estimated 760,000 shares as traded a week ago.

Utilities held steady, rails narrowly mixed, motors quiet and mixed.

GRAIN

Chicago, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Private wires emphasizing damage to the upcoming wheat crop in Argentina, plus the prospect of large sales to Spain next week, sent wheat prices spiraling upward on the board of trade today. Corn also showed some strength. The rest of the market was firm.

Wheat closed 2 1/8-2 5/8 higher, December $2.49-$3.48 3/4, corn 1 3/8-1 3/4 higher, December $1.77 1/4-3/8, oats 1 to 1 1/2 higher, December 88 1/8-1/4, rye (new style) 1 7/8-2 3/4 higher, December $1.83 3/4, soybeans 1 to 2 cents higher, November $2.85 1/2-3/4, and lard 3 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, Oct. $16.32.

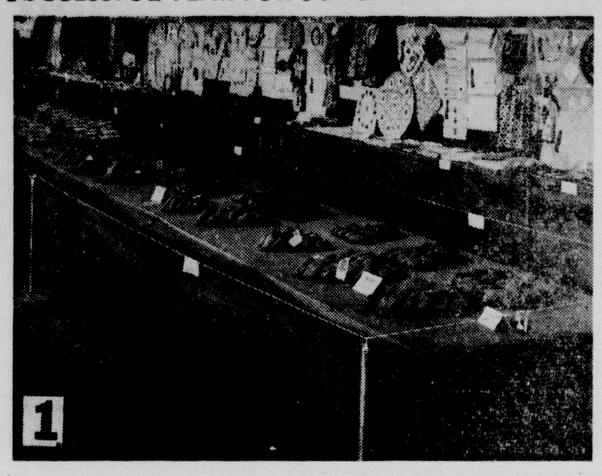
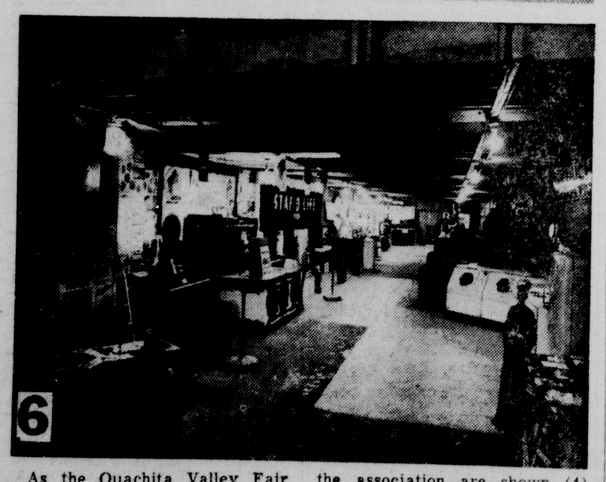
SUCCESSFUL YEAR FOR OUACHITA VALLEY FAIR





As the Ouachita Valley Fair drew to a close Saturday several of the more attractive booths and commercial displays were photographed. The sweet potato booth (1), sponsored by the West Monroe Lions club held some of the prize potatoes of Ouachita parish. The corn exhibit (2) was sponsored by the West Monroe Kiwanis. The Monroe Kiwanis sponsored the pantry exhibit (3). A special award by the West Monroe Businessmen's Association was a Jersey heifer to the best all 'round 4-H clubber. Members of the association are shown (4) awarding the heifer to the winner Mary Lou Meachum, of Calhoun. One of the more impressive commercial displays (5) at the fair this year was that of Thomas Keller, manufacturer of concrete products. An overall shot of the commercial exhibits building (6) shows the vast array of wares shown by various progressive merchants of the Twin Cities. These are a few of some of the best exhibits in the history of the fair. There were many more.

Ouachita Valley Fair Is Ended Here; Was Success

The 1951 Ouachita Valley Fair is history. The fair grounds will be taken over today by showmen, stockmen and exhibitors, who will be clearing out the last remains of one of the most successful fair extravaganza's in the history of Ouachita parish.

As the fair closed last night, fair officials expressed thanks and appreciation for the "splendid cooperation of exhibitors, fair workers and all others who helped make the fair one of our best."

"A fair of the caliber we had this year don't just happen," commented John H. Birdsong, fair association secretary - manager. "It takes the kind of work and interest we had to do it," he said.

"We appreciate, too, the efforts of the many civic clubs and businessmen," Birdsong said. Many of the civic clubs sponsored farm and home exhibits and paid prize money for various projects.

Several Twin City business groups erected some of the most impressive displays at the fair.

"I think we had a fair this year that everyone who attended enjoyed," Birdsong said. "I'm glad to have been a part of such a successful event." Birdsong has been manager of the Ouachita Valley Fair for many years and has been a driving force in building the association to what it is today.

Tom E. Hicks, another veteran of the fair association and its present president, endorsed Birdsong's comments and added that he was impressed by the "representative type of people who came to see our fair." The fair "attracted some of the most important people in Ouachita parish," Hicks said.

"We have tried to bring a good clean fair and the reception we got from the people proved our success," the fair president said.

The results from judging in the home demonstration and farm booths was announced yesterday, revealing eleven first place, eight second and five third place winners.

Home demonstration booth awards were: Cheniere, Sterlington, Fairbanks, Sardis, and Lapine, first place; Watson, Lakeview, Lamkin and Drew, second place; Swartz, Thrifty Homemakers and Liberty won third place.

Farm booth winners: Claiborne, Progressive, Liberty, Thrifty Homemakers, Cadeville and Okaloosa, first place; Cypress, Watson, McClendon, and Eureka, second place; Lapine and Pine Grove, won third places.

Ouachita and Calhoun F. F. A. Booths both won first place awards.

LAKE PROVIDENCE

Mary Ethel Watts, Monticello F. H. A. member has been chosen a candidate for state treasurer. Her name was submitted to the state nominating committee along with her qualifications. Their decision permits her name to be placed on the state ballot.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Watts, Monticello High School faculty members, Mary Ethel is in her third year of F. H. A. work.

The F. H. A state convention was in Alexandria, Oct. 12 and 13, and election of officers was at a business meeting, Friday night, at Hotel Bentley.

Betty Delony, older daughter of Rep. and Mrs. Vail M. Delony of Lake Providence, a freshman at L. S. U., has been elected president of pledges of Tri-Delta sorority.

Mrs. Ben Childers, Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. Rosa Hughes, Tyler Tex., are at Highland plantation for a visit with their brother, Mr. John Phillips and niece Miss Janie Haller.

October meeting of Moses Shelby Chapter D. A. R. has been set for Thursday, Oct. 18, with Mrs. J. W. McDaniel the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Folk of Tallulah were in Lake Providence Sunday, the guests of Mrs. Folk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Bell. It was a happy occasion for all as Carol Sue Folk's first birthday was celebrated in a big way by her grandparents.

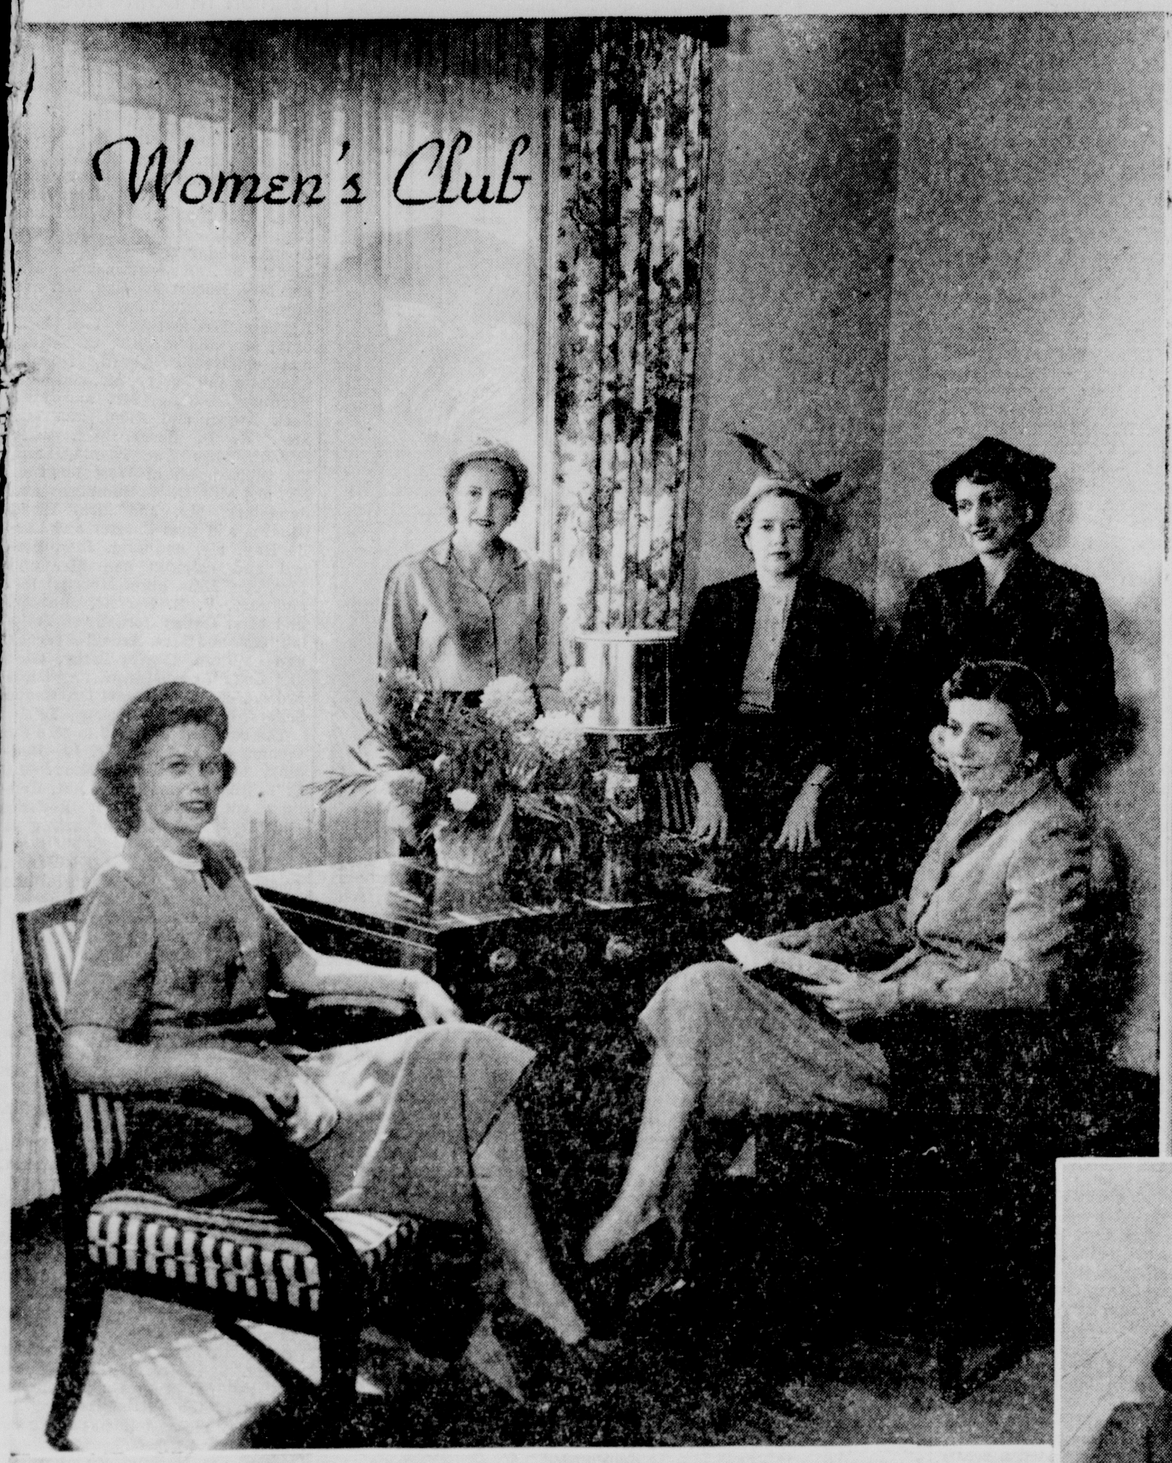
Women's Club



This is the time of year when women's organizations throughout the Twin Cities again turn their attention to nine months of hard work. Women's organizations play an important part in the life of a community and without their financial help or volunteer workers, many would suffer. These groups supply the needy with food and clothing and provide toys for children at Christmas. On the lighter side are the clubs which make it possible for musicals or other types of programs to appear in Monroe.

Typical of these organizations are a few shown on today's page. Upper left, officers of the Reader's Clique meet to discuss their Christmas project. Left to right: Mrs. Raymond John, Mrs. Ray Updegraff, Mrs. Louis Peters, Mrs. Fred Parrish and Mrs. Ivy Jordan. Upper right, Pilot Club members, left to right: Mrs. Ellen Thompson, Mrs. Anna Mae Breece, Mrs. Alyene Newsom and Mrs. Hazel Garlington, discuss the Tuesday night appearance of Pauline Frederick, noted commentator, being sponsored by the club. Right center, Junior Charity League members will sponsor a silver tea with proceeds to be used for underprivileged children. Left to right, Mrs. Corbin Turpin, Mrs. William Husted, Jr., Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. T. Arthur Grant, Mrs. Morgan Simonton, Mrs. Leo McStravick, Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson and Mrs. Credille Calhoun. Lower left, outstanding musical events will be brought to the Twin Cities by the Twin City Concerts, Inc. Working on the committees are, left to right, Mrs. Melba Liner, Mrs. Louise Massey, Miss Mamie McNeil, Mrs. Emma Lou Perkins and Mrs. Blanche Gates. Lower right, Altrusa Club members discussing their project are, left to right, Miss Bernice McCoy, Mrs. Abbie Leckie, Mrs. Earlene Adams and Miss Mary Benoit. (Staff Photos by Leon Noland, Jr.)

News From The Public Library

In last week's column I told you about some of the new books of fiction recently added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Today I want to tell you about some of the new books of general interest. Many of you will stop right here saying to yourself "I am only interested in fiction." However, if you will read this column all the way through, I am sure that you will find at least one and probably more titles that will be of great interest to you.

There are many people in this community who are interested in painting as a hobby. They will certainly want to see "Water-color for beginners" by Francis Russell Flint. Another book of interest to workers in the fine arts is "Enameling, principles and practice" by Kenneth F. Bates. This book contains beautiful plates as well as directions for the enameling process. Antique lovers are numerous in Ouachita Parish and they always welcome a new book on the subject. Two were added last month."Field guide to early American Furniture" by Thomas H. Ormsbee and "How To Know American Antiques" by Alice Winchester.

Oil and gas fields around Monroe make books on this subject especially interesting. Two new books have recently been added to the collection of the library. They are "Natural Gas Economics" by Joseph A. Kornfield and "Fifty Years of Oil in the Soutnwest" a compilation made by the Oil and Gas Journal.

Teachers will be interested in "The Art of Teaching" by Gilbert Highet and "The Workshop way of Learning" by Earl Clarence Kelly. A beautiful book of interest to all those who love the old South is "Songs of the Confederacy" by Richard Barksdale Harwell.

Are you engaged in the cattle business? If you are you will surely want to see "Special Report On Diseases of Cattle" published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Are you a fisherman? A Most interesting new book is "Dry-fly trout fishing" by William W. Michale.

Do far-away places appeal to you? There are a number of new books for the armchair traveler. "My Turkish Adventure" by Pamela Burr is the everyday experiences of an American woman in Turkey. "White Man Returns" by Agnes Newton Keith is the third volume by the author of "Land Below the Wind" and "Three Came Home." The scene of this book is North Borneo. It is beautifully written and is one of the best books to appear in a long time. "Seven Leagues to Paradise" by Richard Tregaskis is the account of a voyage around the world, written by the popular correspondent who gave us many interesting books during the war.

Humorous books are always popular. "I'm a Lucky Guy" by Frank Bunker Gilbreath continues the story of the family of "Cheaper by the Dozen". "How to Protect yourself against Women" by Charles Morton continues a great deal of interesting humor. "The fall of the sparrow" by Jay Williams is a humorous book on a serious subject. "How to get from January to December" is the last volume we will have from the pen of Will Cuppy. "How to Catch Fishermen" by Ed Zern is another book of humorous material and cartoons dealing with the sport of fishing.

Religious books and books of practical psychology are always popular and the library has a number of new titles in this field. "God in Education" by Henry Van Dusen deplores the lack of God in modern education. "Self Understanding" by S. Hiltner is a book that should help each of us know more about ourselves. "Life Starts Today" by Evelyn Wells is a book of hope for the bewildered. "How To Live With Yourself" by Murray Banks is another book of self help. "The Conduct of Life" by Mumford Lewis is a practical book of personal ethics. "The Anatomy of Happiness" by Dr. Martin Gumpert is another most significant book. In this world there are many people who are afraid. "Understanding Fear" by Bonaro W. Overstreet should be of help to all of them. All parents who have teen-age sons should read "Understanding Your Son's Adolescence" by J. Roswell Gallagher. Donald Laird has written a book of immense value to employers and salesmen, in fact to anyone who deals with the public. It is called "Sizing up People."

These books may all be borrowed from your branch of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. It is your library, so use it.

LOVELY BRIDE

Mrs. Gladden Saunders Walters, was Miss Betty Marie Zeringue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marks F. Zeringue, of New Orleans, before her recent marriage in that city. Mr. Walters is the son of Mrs. Fritzie King, and the grandson of Mrs. Johnnie Smith Elbert of this city.

'Old Fashion Fish Fry' Held Friday At Bayou House

Irene Reid entertained on the lake edge patio of her home "Bayou House" Friday evening with an "old fashioned fish fry" honoring Mr. and Mrs. Dick Bright of Dallas, Tex., and Mr. Ted Bennett of San Antonio, Tex. Fried fish, hush puppies, salad and refreshments were served to the honorees and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Meredith and Miss Tid Lindsey.

Farmerville Garden Club Has October Meeting Recently

The October meeting of the Farmerville Garden Club was held on Thursday afternoon in the lovely home of Mrs. J. L. Davidson with Mrs. Ralph Harper and Mrs. M. C. Albritton as cohostesses. The club president, Mrs. Ralph Gulley called the meeting to order. The club invocation was repeated in unison by the club members. A cordial welcome was extended by the president to Mrs. M. E. Harper of Pineville.

Specimen flowers were judged with the following awards being made: Hibiscus - blue ribbon, Mrs. A. C. Dykes; red ribbon, Mrs. A. C. Dykes. Roses - blue ribbon, Mrs. W. B. Sohr; red ribbon, Mrs. A. C. Dykes. White double althea - blue ribbon, Mrs. Ralph Harper. The honor yard winners were Mr. and Mrs. Dewey L. Barr. In the colored contest George Darby and wife won the honor.

The program for the afternoon was demonstrations on flower arrangements with Mrs. Fred Preaus, Miss Faye Baughman, Mrs. George M. Edwards and Mrs. Dewey L. Barr participating. These ladies brought flower arrangements to meeting and then demonstrated how they made the arrangements. Mrs. Fred Preaus used Golden Rod. Mrs. Fred Preaus, Purple Lupine. Miss Faye Baughman used, Pepper. Miss Faye Baughman, Mexican daisies. Mrs. G. M. Edwards used Dahlias. Mrs. G. M. Edwards. Lupine. Mrs. Dewey L. Barr used Marigolds.

A report was given by Mrs. G. M. Edwards on plants to be planted now to have spring flowers. For the November meeting each member was requested to bring different type arrangements and out of town guests will be the judges. Lovely refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the program.

A. L. Smith P.-T. A. Members Attend District Meeting

Members of A. L. Smith P.-T. A. attending the fifth district conference held recently in Columbia were Mrs. Grant Boardman, Mrs. William Wilson, Mrs. Mary Jones, Mrs. Harvey Johnson, Mrs. C. W. English.

The meeting was held at the Columbia High School with Mrs. C. H. Hudson, fifth district director, presiding. Mr. W. F. Lafferty, mayor of Columbia and Mr. D. E. Sikes, principal, extended a hearty welcome to the group.

The A. L. Smith P.-T. A. will be host at the spring meeting of the fifth district.

Mrs. Hubert Trichel Fetes Recent Bride At Dinner Party

Mrs. Neil Andrew Campbell Honored At Bridal Event Before October Marriage

Among the wedding courtesies extended Miss Alice Maude Chilton, whose marriage to Neil Andrew Campbell was solemnized recently was a dinner party given by Mrs. Hubert Trichel, Friday evening, October 5, at the Rendezvous.

A pink and white color scheme was effectively carried out in the place cards and table decoration. The candlelit table was centered with a bowl of pink radiance roses. On each end of the table, crystal candelabra, containing tall pink tapers, were flanked by roses. Original place cards of white adorned with pink rosebuds marked the place of each guest.

Miss Chilton was lovely in a costume of deep purple velvet, accented by rhinestones on the bodice and collar. She wore black velvet accessories. Her corsage, a gift of the hostess, was white gardenias.

Mrs. Homer S. Chilton, the honoree's mother, and Mrs. A. V. Narverud, Mr. Campbell's aunt, were each presented a corsage of pink asters by the hostess.

A delectable four-course dinner was served to the hostess and the following guests: Miss Alice Maude Chilton, Mrs. Homer S. Chilton and Miss Betty Lou Alpha, all of Monroe, Mrs. A. V. Narverud of Howard Lake, Minn. and Miss Camille Narverud of Theif River Falls, Minn.

The hostess presented Miss Chilton with a piece of silver in her chosen pattern.

Alice Maude Chilton Becomes Bride Of Neil A. Campbell

Couple Exchange Vows In Autumn Ceremony At First Baptist Church

The beauty of autumn was reflected in the floral arrangements which marked the candlelight service uniting in marriage Miss Alice Maude Chilton and Mr. Neil Andrew Campbell.

In a double - ring ceremony the couple exchanged their wedding vows on Sunday, October 7 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the First Baptist Church of this city.

The Rev. James T. Horton, pastor, was the officiating clergyman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shields Chilton of Monroe, and the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Roderick A. Campbell of Sacramento, Calif.

Elegant simplicity characterized the beautiful setting for the occasion. The altar held floor standards which overflowed with specimen white chrysanthemums, and interspersed were wrought iron seven - branched candelabra from which cathedral tapers burned to enhance the effectiveness of the scene.

Pre-Nuptial Concert

While the wedding guests were assembling, Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton played soft organ music. The selections included "Romance" by Mendelssohn, "Andante" by Tchaikovsky, "Liebestraume" by Liszt and two Chopin preludes. As the bride's mother entered, she played Chopin's 'Only One Love." She also accompanied Mrs. J. Norman Coon, who sang "Because," "Oh, Promise Me," and at the close of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer."

Besides the wedding marches, special music included another organ number, "Claire de Lune" which was played during the nuptial service.

Lighting of the candles by the bride's two cousins, Mr. Ernest Sanders, Jr., and Mr. Thomas Sanders, both of Lafayette, was a pretty ceremony.

"The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin announced the entrance of the wedding party which formed a picturesque scene about the altar. The bride had as her matron of honor, Mrs. Hubert Trichel of this city, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul Jantz of DeRidder, Miss Camille Narverud of Thief River Falls, Minn., cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Betty Lou Alpha of Monroe.

All wore identical gowns of hunter's green brocaded taffeta. The closely fitted bodices featured shirring and smart broad stoles which ended in graceful effects in the front. The waists were joined to long full skirts, long pointed mitts of matching taffeta and Juliet caps with smart bows on either side completed the charming effect of their costumes. All wore single strands of pearls and carried beautiful bouquets of pink asters flecked with shades of orchids and tied with broad satin ribbons of the same hue.

Bridal Gown

Entering with her father who gave her in marriage, the bride was classic in a gown of handsome blush satin. The basque featured a nylon off - the - shoulder yoke joined to the satin by dainty roses of the same material. The gathered skirt fell in graceful lines to form a court train. Her finger tip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of satin studded with orange blossoms and rhinestones, and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and tuberoses encircled in illusion frills and tied with wide satin ribbon of white and blush pink.

For something old, she wore a gold heirloom necklace which had belonged to the bridegroom's mother. It had originally been a possession of the British royal family and had reached this country by way of Canada. For something new the bride wore earrings of peals and gold filigree, a gift from the bridegroom. For good luck, she placed in her shoe a penny which she had carried the year the couple met.

Mr. Hubert Trichel of this city served the bridegroom as best man. The groomsmen were Mr. Paul Jantz of DeRidder, Mr. William R. McCoy of Monroe and Mr. James Sanders of Lafayette, cousin of the bride.

Wedding Reception

Following the ceremony, a reception was given by the bride's parents in the Cameo Room of the Virginia Hotel.

The bride's mother was gowned in light blue lace. The dress was designed with a bodice accenting a square neckline and shirred three-quarter - length sleeves. The floor-length skirt fell in graceful folds. She wore a rhinestone necklace and earrings and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Allen Narverud of Howard Lake, Minn., aunt of the bridegroom, was wearing a long blue crepe gown. The "V" neckline was outined in beads that were repeated in the tunic. She chose a rhinestone bracelet and matching earrings and an orchid.

Also in the receiving line with the wedding party was the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Chilton, who was gowned in handsome black crepe with which she wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bride's table, overlaid with a beautiful handmade lace cloth, was centered with the wedding confection of three tiers and surmounted by bride and groom figurines. Fluted white net encircled the cake which was embossed in delicate shades of pink roses and green lilies of the valley. Silver trays held individual cakes and mints embossed in pink roses.

Presiding at the bride's cake was Mrs. William Sanders of Lafayette, aunt of the bride. She chose a teal blue crepe dress with matching bolero trimmed in gold embroidery. She wore pearls and a corsage of white asters

From a crystal bowl at either end of the table lime frappe was served by Mrs. Lenora Eshelman, Mrs. D. E. Martin, Mrs. W. L. Rothermel and Mrs. Michael Schuster.

Mrs. Eshelman wore a handsome long gown of golden brown studded with rhinestones. She chose a rhinestone choker and a corsage of orange mums.

Mrs. Martin wore a floor - length dress of becoming red lace with a bolero of matching taffeta. Her corsage was of rosebuds which reflected the hue of her gown.

Mrs. Rothermel was attractive in a dress of electric blue crepe featuring a sequin trimmed waist and long skirt which fell in soft folds. Her corsage was of white asters.

Mrs. Schuster was wearing a dress of pearl gray embroidered chiffon fashioned with a bodice and long, full skirt. She chose a corsage which featured pinks.

Assisting in serving were: Mrs. Nathan Waldman of Kilgore, Tex., Miss Doris Roe, Mrs. Robert Hardin, Miss Marian Simmons, Miss Ella Pearl Sutton, Miss Rosemary Collingan, Miss Carolyn Swain and Miss Julia Ann Warren, all of this city.

Mrs. Waldman was attractively gowned in white rayon net over taffeta. Gold metallic threads which ran through the net and a gold band at the waistline were pretty features of her costume with which she wore a stole.

Miss Roe was wearing a delicate green nylon net frock over matching taffeta. The bodice was joined to a long bouffant skirt, and she wore a gold pendant with a diamond.

Mrs. Hardin wore an identical gown of yellow, and she chose a strand of pearls with matching earrings.

Miss Simmons was wearing a floor - length frock of pink taffeta with closely fitting bodice and full skirt. She wore matching pearls at her neck.

Miss Sutton was dressed in rose, fashioned with a bodice of satin and bolero. The skirt was of net over satin, and she used a crystal necklace and earrings.

Miss Collingham's orchid dress was designed with a satin bodice and net skirt over taffeta. She wore a stole with the strapless gown and used rhinestone jewelry.

Miss Swain chose rose taffeta for her frock. The waist featured double folds at the neckline and it was joined to a hooped skirt. Her necklace and bracelet were of rhinestones.

Miss Warren was wearing a changeable taffeta accented by pocket effects on the sides. She wore a rhinestone necklace and matching earrings.

Those who assisted in serving wore white asters and fern in their hair.

Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. E. G. Touchstone who chose a white leaf blouse and black crepe skirt. Her jewelry was of rhinestones and her corsage was of pink asters.

Also extending courtesies was Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl, who was wearing a black dress fashioned with a crepe bodice accented by sequin trimmed yoke and a full floor - length skirt of nylon net over black taffeta. She wore a strand of pearls and corsage of pink asters.

After a honeymoon in New Orleans, the couple will make their home in Howard Lake, Minn., where Mr. Campbell is associated in business with his uncle, Mr. Allen Narverud.

The bride is a graduate of St. Matthew's High School, Northeast Louisiana State and Bish Mathis Institute. As a college student, she as associate editor of the Pow Wow, Northeast State newspaper, and she held membership in the Wig and Mask Club, Baptist Student Union and the Economics History - Sociology Club.

Since her graduaton she participated in various organizations. She served as president of the Business and Professional Girls of the Y. W. C. A. from 1949-50, and has held the office of secretary-treasurer of the Business and Professional Women's Club. She also is affiliated with the Pythian Sisters.

Mr. Campbell is a graduate of Howard Lake High School where he was a member of the debating team. He was with an engineering unit in the army specialized training program, a select group of young men stationed at Northeast State during 1943-44 for army schooling. He is active in the American Legion, the Shriners and the Knights Templar.

LOVELY OCTOBER BRIDE

Mrs. Neil Andrew Campbell, was Miss Alice Maude Chilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shields Chilton, before her marriage October 7 at the First Baptist Church. The bridegroom is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Allen V. Narverud of Howard Lake, Minn.

Miss Lili Pons Is One Of World's Best-Dressed Women

Concert Gowns Of Metropolitan Opera Star Who Will Appear In Monroe, Considered Beautiful, Famous

The greatest coloratura of her time is also one of the world's most excitingly dressed women. Lily Pons, who is to appear in Monroe, La. at the Neville High School Auditorium during the 1951-1952 season of the Twin City Concerts, Inc. series, is one of the most famous artists in all of operatic history, but her French sense of what is chic and tasteful in clothing might well have made her renowned as one of the world's best-dressed women—even if she had never sung a note!

Tiny Miss Pons has a great deal of common sense happily coupled with her native chic. She buys clothes of fine quality and workmanship. Her personal wardrobe always boasts one or two "basic" dresses that can be changed or brightened with varied accessories. In spring the "backbone" dress, as Miss Pons calls it, will be of a dark sheer fabric and in winter it will be of a light weight wool.

Tailored clothes, with fine detail but no frills, comprise the major part of the star's daytime wardrobe. Her concert gowns are beautiful and famous. She wears the classic full-skirted bouffant dresses that lovely women have found flattering since the days of La Pompadour and Marie Antoinette. These "robes de style" are both practical and charming. They know no drastic change of fashion and certainly no opera star looks more appealing than the petite diva curtseying to her audience in great swirling skirts of satin or lace.

Like songs or paintings, many of the gowns in Lily Pons' wardrobe have names. Take the black wool dinner dress that Nina Ricci, the elegant Parisian dressmaker, recently created for Miss Pons. It is called "Citronelle," and has long sleeves, a yoke of chartreuse covered with black braided balls, and a long, very full skirt. "Plume d' autriche," which Maggy Rouff designed, is in black and white taffeta, off the shoulder, with full peplums over the hips and a full skirt.

Maggy Rouff has also made La Pons a black satin afternoon dress which has white lace inserts in the sleeves and on a small high collar, and with a black taffeta petticoat edged in white lace which shows under the skirt. Nina Ricci, whose specialty is fine embroidery and workmanship and an original use of beadwork, has designed an evening gown in pale mauve satin brocade, with flowers slightly off the shoulder or on one side and a flower petal trim around the neckline in sequins and beads. Miss Pons wears fingerless mittens with it and a long, fine, wool jersey cape, mauve in the style of an old time domino.

The latest in costumes for Miss Pons to wear at the Metropolitan is an elaborate and strikingly unusual gown for her role of Gilda in "Rigoletto," done by the famed American designer, Valentina, after drawings by Christian Berard.

Lily Pons has only one weakness, or "faiblesse," as she puts it, and that is a love of hats. "I cannot help it," she admits disarmingly, "but I adore craz-zee chapeaux." Even if hats were impossible to find, Miss Pons would make them out of bits of pieces, and judging from the chic of the lady in question, she would have no trouble changing last year's hat into next year's creation.

She is always the last word in fashion, Miss Pons tries to have a different hat for each city, and she invariably turns up with a new and puzzling fur piece over a striking outfit from Maggy Rouff, Balenciaga or Nina Ricci of Paris or Valentina of New York—set off of course by her tiny, specially-made, size three shoes.

Millsaps School Is Represented At The Fifth District Meeting

At fifth district P.-T. A. meeting which was held recently in Columbia, the Millsaps School unit was represented by the president Mrs. Clyde H. Jordan and the vice-president Mrs. Carl Metcalf.

Members in attendance at this conference had the privilege of hearing an address by Mrs. J. H. Stringer, state president of P.-T.A.

A panel discussion, "The Techniques of Study Group Organization," was led by Mrs. C. H. Hudson, fifth district director. This proved most beneficial as questions with recommendations for solutions of problems of various units were discussed.

Miss Hilda Blaine Is Bride Of Charles Roddey

Wedding Of Young Couple Takes Place At Methodist Church In Darling, Miss.

A lovely wedding of October was that of Miss Hilda Blaine and Mr. Charles Roddey which was solemnized, Sunday, October 7, at 4:00 o'clock in the evening at the First Methodist Church in Darling, Miss.

The Rev. T. T. Williams, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Tunica, Miss., officiated in the impressive double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Blaine of Darling, Miss., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Roddey of Monroe.

Forming a beautiful setting for the exchange of nuptial vows were slender pink cathedral tapers burning from myriad of candelabra against a background of southern smilax. Magnolia leaves and southern smilax were tastefully arranged along the choir rail with baskets of lavendar chrysanthemums.

Preceding the ceremony a concert of organ music was rendered by Miss Olivia Watkins of Belen, Miss., who accompanied the soloist, Mr. Charlie Goodwyn of Crenshaw, Miss., as he sang "At Dawning" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told." The traditional wedding marches were used before and after the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a wedding dress of beige-pink imported Chantilly lace with sculptured bodice and bouffant skirt. It featured a low rounding neck and matching hat with an off-the-face lace veil. She carried a bouquet of white dwarf gardenias, tuberoses centered with a white orchid, tied with tiny white satin streamers.

Mrs. William Atkinson of New York, sister to the bride, was matron of honor and the bride's only attendant. She wore a lovely gray taffeta model with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of lavender chrysanthemums.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was his father, Mr. O. C. Roddey.

The ushers were Victor Blaine, of Darling, Miss., brother of the bride, Lon Huer of Monroe and Charlie Reynolds of Houston, Tex.

Mrs. Blaine, mother of the bride, chose a brown crepe model with a purple orchid corsage. The groom's mother, Mrs. Roddey, was wearing a becoming orchid crepe dress trimmed in satin with an orchid corsage.

The bride's table, overlaid with cutwork cloth, was centered with the embossed three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. A picturesque press-glass punch bowl was placed at the far end of the bride's table and surrounded by asters and entwined with greenery.

Presiding at the punch bowl was Miss Jerry Crane who was assisted by Miss Betty Roddey. Assisting in serving the wedding cake was Miss Martha Roddey. Mrs. Ed Brown presided at the bride's book.

The bridal couple left on a wedding trip to New Mexico. For traveling the bride was wearing a navy blue suit with gray accessories. A white orchid completed her ensemble. The couple will make their home in Artesia, New Mexico.

The bride is a graduate of Darling High School. She is also a graduate of Missippi State College for women. The groom is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and received his B. S. degree from Louisiana State University and a master degree in chemical engineering from M. I. T. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and O. D. K.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Thayer, Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Roddey, Monroe; Miss Betty Roddey, Shreveport; Lon Huer, Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Land, Jr., Monroe, Miss Martha Roddey; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown, Starkville, Miss., and Miss Jerry Crane, Iuka, Miss.; Miss Olivia Watkins, Belen, Miss.; Charlie Goodwyn, Crenshaw, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. L. Q. Dunn and son, Lamon Dunn, Vance, Miss.; Mrs. Florence Blaine, Vance, Miss.; Charlie Reynolds, Houston, Tex. Mrs. William Atkinson, New York City.

MISS DAISY RAE COOPER WEDS DON ROYCE GUYON

The Stone Ave. Methodist Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Daisy Rae Cooper, daughter of Mr. T. E. Cooper, and the late Mrs. Cooper, of Harrisonburg, La., to Sgt. Don Royce Guyon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leory Guyon, which was solemnized September 14 at six o'clock in the evening.

The bridal vows of the impressive ceremony were exchanged before an altar decorated with white gladioli. The Rev. I. L. Yeager officiated.

Mrs. Udell Rodriquez, organist, rendered lovely prenuptial selections, and accompanied Mrs. Floyd Bradley who sang "I Love You Truly". The traditional wedding marches marked the beginning and end of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Boyd Hughes, was lovely in a white faille with fingertip veil of illusion. Her bouquet was of white gladioli.

Miss Edith Miller, maid of honor, was wearing a pale lavender dress with bouquet of lavender asters and tiny lavender corsage in her hair.

Mr. Daniel Ford served the groom as best man.

Mrs. Guyon, mother of the groom, was wearing a beige crepe dress with black accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Griffith. Lovely arrangements of gladioli were placed at vantage points.

The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli and mums with the tiered wedding confection.

Assisting in the serving courtesies were Mrs. Alex Tradewell, Mrs. Geuldin Duncan, and Mrs. Howard Griffith.

The bride is a graduate of Harrisonburg High School and St. Francis School of Nursing. T. Sgt. Guyon attended Ouachita Parish High School and enlisted in the air corps in September, 1950.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Griffith, Jr., of Dallas, Tex., Mrs. T. E. Cooper, Miss Mildred Cooper of Harrisonburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Hughes and Lewis of Tallulah.

Presbyterian Women To Have General Meeting In Sibley

The women of the Presbyterian Church are planning a most interesting general meeting for all circles on Tuesday, October 16 at Camp Alabama, Sibley, La.

The women are to leave Monroe Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. Each taking a lunch and driving to the Pan Am station in Choudrant. From there turn right and drive for five miles to Camp Alabama.

The meeting will be held at the O'Neal Memorial chapel situated on the beautiful lake.

The program on "Church Extensions" will be in charge of Mrs. Mill King's circle. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon with Mrs. Sam Wilder's circle acting as hostesses.

Alabama Church in Sibley is known throughout the Southern Assembly as the Presbyterian church which has sent out more ministers and missionaries than any other church in the assembly.

Camp Alabama was built primarily for youth meetings and has 9 cottages which were recently constructed by many Presbyterians of Louisiana as memorials to their loved ones.

The women will make a tour of this camp after the meeting. Mrs. C. A. Brown, president, and Mrs. W. B. Matthews, general chairman, are in charge of the Alabama meeting.

Hooray! Whoopee! And Rah! Rah! Rah!
We're in! We've made it! Here we are!
Brand new from floor to roof and ceiling,
And rammed chock full of friendly feeling.

It took forever to get us in—
But, gee, its got just everything:
Do your banking from your car,
Or come inside and see who's thar;

Or, if you find the doors shut tight
Night chute will hold it over night;
Safety Boxes behind big door—
Time lock, thick steel—who'd ask for more?

Soft lights—White Marble—conditioned air—
Separate books—courtesy—everything's there.
And here's the finest thing for you—
Your parking troubles now are through.

Hully gee! Oh me! Oh my!
Kiss that parking job goodbye!
No more milling 'round and 'round
To see can space for car be found.

There's room to park and space galore—
No meter—no cop—to check you o'er.
And so, although it took so long,
We're in to stay "as time goes on."

We feel our worries now are past—
Louisville Branch is done at last!
Whoopee! Hooray! And three times Rah!
We're in! We've landed! Here we are!

Modern—strong—beautiful too—
Make it your own—
'Twas built for YOU.

Mrs. A. T. Givens Hostess At Review Club Meeting

Little Theatre Director Stocker Fontelieu, Guest Speaker, Discusses The Art Of Play Reading

The Review Club held its opening fall meeting in the home of Mrs. A. T. Givens, Monday, October 1. At a short business session presided over by the president, Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Jr., two new members were elected, Mrs. D. W. Moore, Jr. and Mrs. W. M. Inabet.

The Review Club was privileged to have as a speaker the inimitable director of the Little Theatre, C. Stocker Fontelieu. Mr. Fontelieu discussed "The Art of Play Reading." He reminded his listeners that to read a play with understanding we must know something of the physical theatre—what its limitations are and what compensations it offers. To have a clear understanding of the setting of a play we must project ourselves into the theatre. We must remember when we pick up a script that we are reading something meant for an actor not a reader. Descriptions and stage directions are for the benefit of the actor. It is essential, therefore, that the italicized print be carefully read.

Dramas are written to be performed, and it may be argued that the appreciation of a play gained from reading it is not quite the same as that gained from seeing it performed. This is true. But in reading a play we are only doing what the actors must do before they can help the dramatist interpret it for us. For the performance of a play gains over a mere reading of it largely in terms of the aid in interpreting the play which good actors and good set designers may render us. If we have imagination, therefore, the lack of such aid in helping us visualize and interpret the play should not be a crippling handicap.

Mr. Fontelieu then illustrated the points he had made by describing the setting of several plays, reading the directions from the plays and then showing pictures of the sets as conceived by the designers—concrete evidence of imagination at work. These plays were Arthur Miller's "The Death of a Salesman," Maxwell Anderson s "Winterset," and John Van Druten's "Voice of the Turtle."

Following a discussion delightful refreshments were served by the hostess to Mrs. C. B. Braun, Mrs. F. C. Breese, Jr., Mrs. J. K. Brothers, Jr., Mrs. E. P. Cudd, Mrs. W. T. Davis, Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr., Mrs. DeWitt Henry, Mrs. J. C. Loftin, Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. J. P. Noel, Mrs. Lea Thompson, Mrs. Corbin Turpin, Mrs. L. N. Waddell.

Miss Tacoma Bradford Is October Bride Of George Scalfano, Jr.

Lake Providence, La., Oct. 13.—(Special)—Miss Tacoma Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lane Bradford, of Lake Providence, became the bride of Mr. George P. Scalfano Jr., son of the late Mr. George Scalfano and Mrs. Scalfano of Alexandria, La., in a double-ring ceremony at the Baptist parsonage at eleven Saturday morning, Oct. 6. Rev. C. A. Martin, pastor of the local church, officiated at the sacred and impressive ritualistic ceremony.

The bride was chic, wearing a two piece suit of pheasant miron wool with double peaked collar and rhinestone ornaments on left shoulder and hip line tab on right. Her blouse was of gold crepe, appliqued in flowers. The off face hat was of brown and gold and accessories were in brown.

The bride was graduated from Lake Providence High School, Whitworth College, Brookhaven, Miss., and Louisiana College, school of business administration, Pineville.

The groom attended Louisiana State University and Louisiana College.

Mr. and Mrs. Scalfano will make their home in Alexandria where the former is employed by the Borden Milk Co.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Virginia Scalfano and Frank Scalfano of Alexandria and Joe Bradford of Ruston.

The St. Paschal's Mother's Club Has Monthly Meeting

The St. Paschal's Mother's Club held their regular monthly meeting Wednesday at the school cafeteria with an attendance of thirty members and a guest, Father Odo.

New and old business was discussed. Father Odo discussed the new by-laws and constitution that was recently adopted by the club. A majority vote rendered the discussion decision the constitution stand as written, with only minor changes.

Plans for a Halloween party to be held in the school cafeteria Monday October 29 at seven o'clock were completed. A special attraction at the party will be the ponies.

Delicious sandwiches, cookies, and iced drinks were served by Mrs. Menuet, Landers and Mrs. Jowers.

MANGHAM LITERARY CLUB MEETS IN HOME OF MRS. REESE BOIES

Every member of the Mangham Literary Club was present to enjoy the regular monthly meeting held in the home of Mrs. Reese Boies, with Mrs. Theo Jones as co-hostess.

The topic for discussion is one that vitally concerns each of us - "Concerning Youth."

The leader for the night, Mrs. Raymond Gieger, presented Mrs. Edmund Williamson whose subject was "What you, as a parent, can do." Mrs. Williamson began with a word of warning to all club members. She cautioned them to always watch their year book and be sure to know when they were on program, stating that she had failed to do this and had not realized she had a part until she arrived at the meeting. However the club members feel that, if they could render an impromptu talk as interesting as the one given, preparation would be unnecessary. She said that we, as parents, can do much to develop the character of our children by being firm but understanding parents. She brought out the fact that our children need planned recreation, plenty attention at all times, but not to the extent that their self-reliance suffers. She also urged parents to be active P-TA workers thus developing a parent-teacher-child relationship that would be beneficial to all three concerned.

Mrs. Bob Bell, Jr. gave an interesting talk from the Rotarian on the subject "We Can Do This."

She said in part, "We can spread among youth that integrity, honor, character are still the supreme quality in manhood. We can help to build so firm a foundation of right-thinking and clean living that when temptations attack their resistance is strong enough to withstand. The youth of the world must be taught that service must be above selfish desire, if the game of living is to be played in a man's way. During the formative years we can teach unselfishness.

Our youth should be taught that wealth should be regarded as an opportunity for service and that business is greatest and most successful which does most for the happiness and self-respect of all who are connected with it."

The club collect wa read in unison and the club dismissed.

A refreshing salad plate and coffee was served the members by Mrs. Boies and Mrs. Jones.

Girl Scout News

It is our firm belief that there is no place in scouting where it is more thrilling to work than as leader of what we call "Fly-Up" troops. These girls, who have usually been Brownies for a year or two, have fulfilled Tenderfoot requirements already and start the new school year working on second class rank and other badges and planning to acquire that long-wished - for green uniform.

Such an eager group is Troop 10, which is starting the year's work under the leadership of Mrs. W. A. Lewis and Mrs. O. M. Fletcher. At their first meeting, in which they made tentative plans for the year's activities they included first of all (wouldn't you have guessed?) several out of door days, firebuilding, outdoor cooking, troop camping in the spring, first aid, arts and crafts, community service, city-wide scout events, games, singing, international friendship.

With the backing of an interested troop committee, Mrs. C. R. Simpson, chairman, Mrs. J. W. Young, Mrs. A. C. Lea, Mrs. T. C. Rowland, Mrs. Jack Knowles and Mrs. J. E. Higgins, this should be a happy and busy year for both grown-ups and girls.

Hip! Hip! Hooray! We have electricity at camp now, which means that we can use the refrigerator that Mr. F. H. Scott gave us and maybe soon the cooking stove that Mr. J. M. Gilstrap of Trenton Appliance gave to the Scouts. Thanks a million from the girls and leaders to these good friends and to Mr. Dave Agnew and to Mr. Sidney Jackson for their work in getting everything wired and connected.

First to use the camp after these recent improvements are sixteen girls who went to camp yesterday with Mrs. N. L. Huckabee and Miss Annis Klie. The group includes Ann Flinn, Elizabeth Leigh, Dottie Dawson, Neva Lyons, Martha Ann Williams, Yvonne Huckabee, Lynn Theus, Beverly Rushing, Sara Lee Peters, Marie Nelson, Jo Ann Bradley, Donna Rose Hildabridle, Margie Chisholm, Katie Singleton, Jolna May.

No, it isn't too cold for camping. With plenty of blankets and warm clothes, cooking over open fires, going on hikes, playing games can all be more fun than in hot weather. We'll let you know next week how the camping trip turned out. We know it was lots of fun and that the girls learned a lot more about working together and camping skills.

Girls! Why have so many of you decided you want to prune spring blooming shrubs? Weigelias, spireas, forsytheas and bridal wreath seem to be the subjects for the slaughter. If you prune them now, you'll get your spring blooms. Spring blooming shrubs flower on wood that is one year old. So wait, please. Prune them after they bloom next spring. I'll tell you in March more about their pruning.

Mrs. Robert Warner wants to prune her evergreens. December is a good month, then you can use the greens for Christmas decoration. Your broadleaf evergreens can be made to spread by cutting the top shoots. Or—if you want upright growth prune the spreading branches.

Saw Frances Albright with the duckiest hat. Seems the new winter styles were just made for her. By the way — on February 11 (a long way off) Euna (that's Mrs. Spielman) and I are going to have a specialist here to train us and leaders on making and renovating hats. I need six leaders to take that training with me. Only six can take the course which will last all day. If you are interested please call me.

Mrs. Katherine Taylor wants advice on curtains — "Shall I make or buy? Must I use straight or tie backs?" she asks. All those questions will be answered on Tuesday morning, October 23 at the demonstration at the agriculture building, West Monroe. The time is 9:30. Those who have been calling about curtains (and anybody else) mark that date on your calendar.

Mary Peterson, we'll get to that slip cover class on Thursday October 25. This is an all day class, from 8 o'clock until we finish the chair. All who are interested call me at 3-2251. Only ten can work in a class. It is not necessary to call about the drapery demonstration. Just come if you're interested.

If you're interested in building a compost heap, talk to Jane Ernest. She has one made according to "the book." Vegetation and leaves composted now will give you leaf mold for your beds next summer. That's fine organic matter that's cheap.

Good-bye — I'll see you in this same column next Sunday.

CHOUDRANT

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Gains and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kirkham all of Jonesboro, La., and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McDanell and daughter, Linda, of West Monroe, La., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Newsom Coon, Thursday and Friday.

Mr. W. R. Hammett of Choudrant, La., visited relatives in Okaloosa, recently.

Monroe Literary Club Has October Meeting

Miss Frances Flanders, Guest Speaker, Reviews 'The Riddle Of MacArthur'

The Monroe Literary Club met Wednesday with Mrs. W. T. Ellis, club president, and Mrs. S. H. Wilson as hostesses. Mrs. J. E. Baugh read the Club Collect to open the meeting, and Mrs. J. W. Womack called the roll. Each member answered roll call by giving the title of a published article or book written about General Douglas MacArthur.

It was voted by the club to ask each member to bring one or two books to the next meeting, to be sent to the Marion Library in Kansas City, which was so sorely damaged by flood waters.

Mrs. D. A. Altick, program chairman, introduced Miss Frances Flanders, the guest speaker. Miss Flanders, who is so interested in, and helpful to local club circles, gave a splendid review of John Gunther's book, "The Riddle of MacArthur." In this informative review, Miss Flanders explained social and economic conditions in Japan during the MacArthur regime. She said in part, "General MacArthur was the real ruler of Japan, not Hirohito. Under his command, 2,200 Americans ruled 83 million Japanese. When MacArthur took over the far eastern command, 60 per cent of the economic holdings in Japan were in the hands of 8 families. Democracy being impossible under these conditions, the general bent his efforts toward breaking this monopoly, and was tremendously successful."

In describing the personality of General MacArthur, Miss Flanders stressed his amazing personal courage, his supreme ego, and magnitism, his photographic memory and fine sense of balance, his sharp intellect, and his love of the dramatic.

Miss Flanders' visit to the Monroe Literary Club is anticipated with pleasure each year, and this book review was particularly fitted to the club's study of world conditions.

Mrs. C. T. Pifer was welcomed as guest of the club.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following members and guests: Mrs. C. E. Coe, Mrs. J. W. Womack, Mrs. E. W. Lockhart, Mrs. A. M. Kite, Mrs. J. E. Baugh, Mrs. Guy DuPriest, Mrs. D. A. Altick, Mrs. W. T. Ellis, Mrs. S. H. Wilson, Mrs. C. T. Pifer, Miss Frances Flanders, and Mrs. C. D. McAdams.

DOROTHY DIX

Suspicious Wife

Nothing To Lose, Much To Gain By Trusting Husband

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 23, married, and very much in love with my husband. He is very good to me but in spite of everything I fear I am losing my faith in him. I am expecting a child in three months and my husband has been going out on pay nights with other men from the office, drinking. The other night he left the house to cash his check and have a few drinks. I waited for a while, then decided to go for a ride, picking him up on the way. When I got to the tavern, I looked in and saw him with his arm around a girl. I returned home, and when he arrived, I asked about the girl and he said it was someone he had known long ago, and she didn't mean a thing to him. I haven't had a moment's peace since. He assures me it won't happen again, but I am torn with jealousy. Should I believe in his good intentions and let the incident pass, acting as though it had never occurred?

DOROTHY DIX

CELESTE

ANSWER: For the sake of any happiness you expect to get from your marriage, you'd better get the whole affair off your mind and follow your own suggestions for future conduct. Look at it this way: You've nothing to lose by believing your husband and relying on his assurance that this girl meant nothing to him. On the other hand, the sure way to get him out of the house every night is to keep nagging.

DON'T BROOD ABOUT IT

Brooding isn't going to do either you or your baby any good. Stop it! Of course in your physical condition you are bound to magnify all troubles, but you must adopt a more sensible mental attitude or spoil completely what should be for both you and your husband a very happy period.

If you are jealous or suspicious by nature, these faults must —and can be—overcome. You may be left alone many evenings with a new baby. Don't turn each such occasion into a session of worry and doubt over hubby's whereabouts or activities. Suspicion is a growth that spreads and multiplies like a weed. Kill the first faint outcroppings, and the scourge is conquered. Foster it with further doubts and it kills every bit of carefully nurtured love.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have two daughters, one single and one married. Recently I remarked to the single one that I had only been in the other daughter's home three times in a year for dinner. She answered that was all I could expect. I guess I'm a little hurt, as I always did so much for the girls. Now all they want is for me to sew for them and never visit for a meal. I guess we older mothers just must take a back seat, give and do, expect nothing and we won't be disappointed.

I. F.

ANSWER: A mother should be a welcome guest in a married daughter's home at all times—provided, of course, she isn't a troublemaker. She should be doubly welcome when she does the family sewing, as you do, and helps with the baby tending. A girl who would have any other thought is callous. Your daughters don't realize what an asset they have in a mother who can and will do the odd jobs that accumulate in a family. Theirs is a rare privilege, and one that should certainly be recognized by giving you a warmer welcome to their homes.

Small Furs Add Dash To Costume

By Gaile Dugas
NEA Woman's Editor

New York,—(NEA)—Fun fashions in fur are fine and they add a flip to any wardrobe. But they should be inexpensive. If they're done in rabbit, they are. And the smaller they are, the less they can cost.

A little shrug jacket in chinchilla rabbit, the king of rabbit furs is (left) mostly sleeves. Designed by Furbelows' it's dashing over a short white evening dress. Or, it can go over a suit or coat in place of a stole or even see service as the ultimate in luxurious bed jackets.

An at-home costume designed just for fun (right) by Harold Rubin turns out to be a practical fashion, too. A purple wrap-around skirt in rabbit fur is lined with turquoise wool jersey and worn over matching turquoise leotards. But the skirt can serve as a lap-robe for at-home lounging, as a robe in the car, as a knee-warmer at chilly spectator sports.

CLAIBORNE P.-T. A. IN HOST ROLE

Plans To Have Open House; Interesting Meeting Held

Ehthusiastic plans were formulated at the regular meeting of Claiborne P.-T. A. held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. for open house, an occasion when the public will be invited to inspect the new school plant. Mrs. Bernie Emery, president, Mrs. Leon Owens, hospitality chairman, Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, publicity chairman, Miss Marguerite Norris, principal, will be members of a committee to work out details for reception which will be held Nov. 11, at 3 to 5 o'clock. All former principals are invited to help receive the guests, and parents.

Mrs. H. B. Ramsey, treasurer, and Mrs. Mack Avants, finance chairman, stated that the fun festival held Oct. 5 was a financial success. In discussing the future needs of the school it was announced that due to increased enrollment, other equipment would be needed to place Claiborne school on the approved list. This budget was taken under consideration and will be voted upon at the next meeting.

Mrs. M. L. DeFreese reviewed the new procedure course recently sent out by the state association. Ten members enrolled in the course. The following members represented the P.-T. A. at the fifth district conference held in Columbia recently: Mrs. Bernie Emery, Mrs. Fred Riser, Mrs. Harold Traylor, Mrs. J. C. Dickerson, Mrs. Willie Lindsay.

Mrs. Orie Hatten developed the monthly program around the theme, "Developing Healthy Personalities." Mrs. J. D. Purvis led the group in community singing.

The membership chairman reminded the parents and teachers of the time for the first installment of dues which is Nov. 15. It was decided to award a room prize not to exceed five dollars to the grade that secured the highest percentage of membership by that time. Mrs. Riser asked the cooperation of the room mothers in this drive.

Copies of the National Parent-Teacher were passed out and the merits of this magazine were told. Mrs. Harold Traylor, the chairman was urged to secure 50 or more subscriptions so that Claiborne P.-T. A. might be placed on the honor roll.

Mrs. Bernie Emery took a room count for attendance and the sixth grade, Mrs. Luna Hattaway, teacher, won the count.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Leon Owens, hospitality chairman.

Frank Smith, relief pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds, is the only Smith in the major leagues this year.

WEDDING ATTENDANTS

SELMAN GRADE 6 IS ENTERTAINER

Gives Variety Program Before Delighted School Audience

Sarah Dyson was the announcer when Mrs. Paul Bauer's sixth grade entertained at assembly program, Selman School Friday, October 12, with a variety program. Gail Fleming, Ann Winchester, Patsy Shirley, Wayne Savell and Dale Hubbard dramatized Joaquin Miller's poem, "Columbus." Daisy Young, Melvin Blackley, Bobby Keith, Gary Jalovec, George Brown, Wayne Coon and Raymond Osterland told the story of Columbus. Wendy Abrams, Linda Boatright, Patsy Shirley and Eunice Forbito dramatized "The Gold Scissors."

"Orange Colored Sky," a tap dance was rendered by Ann Winchester. Wendy Abrams accompanied the girls quartet on the ukulele as they sang "Way Down Upon the Swannee River." The quartet was Linda Boatright, Gail Fleming, Sarah Dyson and Patsy Shirley. Ann and Janelle Winchester entertained with a tap dance.

The chorus, composed of the following students, Wendy Abrams, Melvin Blakley, Linda Boatright, George Brown, Wayne Coon, Sarah Dyson, Dale Hubbard, Eunice Forbito, Gail Fleming, Bobby Keith, Cedric Norred, Luvenia McIntosh, Carroll Myers, Dorothy Oliveau, Raymond Osterland, Mary Kaye Petty, Wayne Savell, Patsy Shirley, and Daisy Young gave three numbers, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" which they dedicated in the memory of H. Clyde Cook, Sr., our former principal; "Home on the Range," and "I've Been Working on the Railroad."

CALHOUN

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boyd and children of Sterlington were recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Boyd.

Mrs. Janie Jimerson of Winnfield spent several days in the home of Mrs. W. F. Jones.

Mrs. Cecil Dopson and children of Houston, Tex., were recent guests in the home of Mrs. Dopson's mother, Mrs. Bill Barnes.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Don't Go Overboard; It May Be Costly

By Oswald Jacoby

West doubled four spades in the hand shown today because he did not like the sound of the bidding. The opponents had crawled up to their game contract with great uncertainty, so there was a fair chance that they were overboard, and practically no chance that either of them could afford a redouble.

If West had opened a heart, South would have been set without any trouble. Not being clairvoyant, West opened the king of diamonds. He then continued with the queen of diamonds, and South ruffed.

At this point the contract was cold if South merely played it properly. But South was sure that West had the king of trumps for his double, and he wanted to cure West of the annoying habit of doubling.

South therefore finessed dummy's jack of trumps. The finesse succeeded, and South thereby lost his contract.

Declarer quite properly took dummy's ace of trumps next but then had the problem of getting back to his hand to draw the rest of the trumps. He couldn't afford to ruff another diamond, since that would reduce him to the same number of trumps as West; and West would be able to lead still another diamond when he got in with the king of trumps. South therefore had to get to his hand with the ace of hearts to knock out West's king of spades.

Now West could lead a heart, and East had two heart tricks to set the contract. Of course West was not cured of doubling by this fortunate result.

After ruffing the second diamond, South should have led a trump to dummy's ace, disdaining the finesse. He could then overtake dummy's jack of spades with his own queen, forcing out West's king. Nothing could prevent him from regaining the lead with the ace of hearts to draw the rest of the trumps. Then dummy's clubs would furnish enough tricks to make the contract with an overtrick.

CARD Sense

CARD SENSE CUT

Q—With East - West vulnerable, the bidding has been:

West, 1 Heart; North, Pass; East, Pass; South, ?

You, South, hold: Spades Q-J-9-7-2, Heart 3, Diamonds K-J-8-4-3, Clubs A-10. What do you do?

A—Bid one spade. The hand is strong enough to reopen the bidding, but it is ill suited to defensive play. If you reopen with a double, your partner may make a doubtful penalty pass. If you reopen with a suit bid, and your partner subsequently doubles the opponents, he knows that he cannot expect an ideal defensive hand from you.

Today's Question

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-9-7-2, Heart 3, Diamonds K-Q-J-8, Clubs A-10. What do you do?

OUACHITA SENIORS' OFFICERS

OUACHITA HIGH SENIORS ELECT

Bob Curry President And Spencer Edmiston Vice-President

The senior class of Ouachita Parish High School has completed election of class officers after a week of campaigning.

Bob Currey emerged victorious as senior class president. Spencer Edmiston was chosen vice-president; Violet Venable, secretary; and Billy Fleming, treasurer.

Bob, a football player, is also a member of the choir. He was class president during his sophomore year, while serving his home room in the same capacity.

Spencer is secretary and treasurer of his home room. State champion cornet soloist in '48-'49, he has been a member of the band for five years. He was a delegate to Pelican Boys' State, and served as treasurer of his freshman home room.

Violet is parliamentarian of the Lionettes and vice-president of her home room this year. A member of the Honor Society and Y-Teens, she was vice-president of the junior class last year and was a representative to leadership conference this summer.

Billy, track letterman and football player, was treasurer of the 1951 junior class. He served as a home room officer his freshman and junior years.

In recognition of requests from students, the sponsors, Miss Grace Carter and Miss Ellen Fontenot, and I. C. Strickland, principal, agreed to change the method of electing officers of the senior class.

This year's election by popular vote was the first in many years, since heretofore election has been by home room officers who served as electors.

Citizens Slow To Qualify For Various Parish And Ward Posts

Harrisonburg, La., Oct. 13.—(Special) — Catahoula candidates remained slow in qualifying this week, and by Thursday afternoon only 13 candidates had qualified for 41 parish and ward offices.

How many more will qualify before the deadline at 5 p. m. next Tuesday, and how heated the contests will become before the primary election next January 15, remains to be seen. But so far, all has remained unusually quiet on the political front.

Those who had qualified by Thursday with Judge Jesse C. McGee, secretary of the parish Democratic executive committee, were:

For sheriff, Fred V. Fairbanks, incumbent.

For clerk of court, W. R. Richardson, incumbent.

For assessor, G. O. McGuffee, incumbent.

For police jury: ward 3, John W. Haygood, incumbent; ward 4, James D. Guinn, incumbent, Walter B. Huffman, and J. M. Crawford; ward 5, Emmitt Haygood, incumbent; ward 6, D. W. Manning, incumbent, and Jason Bass; ward 7, Frank R. White, incumbent.

For constable: ward 1, Dan N. Kelly, incumbent; ward 6, H. P. Brooks, incumbent.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking... without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme... because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women...smooths out lines and wrinkles...firms up the skin ...makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

WARD MAY HAVE TO LOSE JUROR

Catahoula Census Figures Said To Show Loss In Past 10 Years

Jonesville, La., Oct. 13.—(Special)— Possibility that ward 6 of Catahoula parish will lose half of its representation on the police jury and school board is being discussed this week.

The matter came up when the parish Democratic executive committee received the 1950 U. S. census figures and a proclamation from Gov. Earl Long calling attention to a provision that wards containing 5,000 persons are entitled to two police jurors and two school board members.

The federal census figures, which have been generally questioned by Catahoulans, show 4,317 as the population of ward 6 and 11,834 as the parish population.

Many residents of Jonesville and ward 6 are insisting that the population has increased considerably since 1940, rather than decreasing as indicated by the census.

They point out that the census was taken at a time when many families had moved temporarily to the hills because of high water and had not returned home and were not counted as residents of the ward.

Wedon T Smith, secretary of the police pury, has asked the attorney general in Baton Rouge for a legal opinion on the matter.

If the attorney general rules that the federal census figures deny ward 6 the right to two representatives on the police jury, or if nothing else can be done to straighten the matter out, ward 6 will have one third the parish population with only one seventh of the representation.

New Slacks: For the Trim

By Gaile Dugas

New York —(NEA) —The way that a girl looks in slacks depends, first, on her figure and second, on the slacks she chooses. It should, by now, be clear that some girls can't wear slacks, no matter how much they like them. But the girl who can wear them should shop for them carefully and watch for cut, for expert tailoring, for fabric that won't give.

Fortunately, there's a good choice of slacks that are flattering to the figure that's youthful, no matter what the age. This means slim and trim, without excess fat, with no bulges in the wrong places.

Both college girls and girls-with-a-paycheck are lovers of slacks. They look well in the country or on leisure time, are welcome changes from dressy clothes.

Light gray flannel slacks (left) by Pendleton are precisely tailored, beautifully cut. They are worn with jacket in gray and long-sleeved shirt in red. Both shirt and jacket have easy, open-throated collars.

Shades of Sherlock Holmes descend gently (right) on hat, vest and slacks by White Stag. In plaid wool, they're worn with simple, long-sleeved white blouse.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By Oswald Jacoby

Here Are Signals To Your Partner

"You have often referred to partnership understanding," writes a New Orleans Canasta fan, "but you haven't described the various signals that create this understanding. Can you do so?"

Gladly. I can't cover them all in one article, but I'll describe a few and write about the rest another time. Here are the signals that apply before your side has completed its first canasta.

1. Adding two wild cards to a base of four natural cards. This play demands that your partner complete the canasta as soon as he can. If he had a natural card, he must put it down and if he has a wild card, he must use that. Your play indicates that you are able to meld out as soon as the canasta is completed, for otherwise you wouldn't dream of squandering two wild cards just to bring the meld up to the six-card level.

2. Adding one wild card to a base of five. This play is very similar to the play just described, but is not quite so strong. It is a strong request, out not an absolute demand, that your partner complete the canasta as soon as possible. The logic is that you have a good reason to add a wild card in this way, but you might do so on speculation whereas you would never use two wild cards except with a sure thing.

3. Adding one wild card to a base of four. This indicates that you are very anxious to make a canasta in a hurry. Hence have a fine play for a fast o Your partner should make canasta if he can; should add wild card or a natural card if cannot complete the canasta. course, if he can do the trick w some other meld, he should that instead.

4. Putting down a new me when you have no base. This dicates that you want to help y partner win the discard pile you have a large number of car in your hand) or that you want get a base and a canasta as so as possible (if you have only normal number of cards in yo hand).

When you are asking for a bas you indicate that you will be a to complete the canasta with w cards if only your partner c supply a base. The signal is a c mand if you use two natural car and a wild card; but a strong quest rather than a demand if y use three natural cards.

5. Melding more than necessa at your first meld. You have very fine play for out and y want your partner to make a ba as soon as possible.

OCTOBER BRIDE

Mrs. Ray White, the former Miss Virginia Rose Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Patton, of Bosco, before her marriage October 8. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim White, also of Bosco.

MISS VIRGINIA ROSE PATTON IS BRIDE OF MR. RAY WHITE

In a ceremony marked by simplicity Miss Virginia Rose Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Patton, of Bosco, was joined in marriage to Ray White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim White, also of Bosco.

The marriage was solemnized at the bride's home on October 8 at eight o'clock in the evening in the presence of relatives and close friends. The Rev. W. E. Spencer officiated.

The bride was lovely in an ankle-length blue dress of embra nylon tulle over taffeta. Her accessories were black.

Miss Gerelene Lambert, a close friend of the bride, served as maid-of-honor. She wore a grey garbardine suit with grey and red accessories. Mr. Bennie White served his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. The bride's table was overlaid with a linen cloth and was centered with the tiered wedding cake. After the bride and groom cut the first piece of cake Misses Charlotte Brooks and Louise Tidwell completed the serving. Mrs. Alice Lambert presided at the punch service.

The couple left on an undisclosed wedding trip and upon their return will make their home in Bastrop where the groom is employed.

LEON COLE, FAMOUS ORGANIST, TO PLAY AT P.-T. A. BENEFIT

Mr. Leon Cole, dean of southern organists, will give a concert at Lida Benton School on Thursday night, October 18 at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Cole is very versatile. His engagements include weddings, banquets, picnics, personal appearances and concert work, having recently given a concert of the works of Bach at the Monteagle Sunday School assembly and hardly a week passes that he does not bring smiles of joy to the bedridden patients at veterans' hospitals all over Tennessee and Kentucky. He originated the Sunday afternoon summer series at Centennial Park, Nashville, Tenn., which is now in its 15th year. Thousands flock to the park Sunday after Sunday just for the enjoyment and entertainment his music affords. Mr. Cole is one artist who seems to derive as much pleasure from his work as his audience. There is not a community in middle Tennessee where he plays that every man, woman and child does not know and love him for his winning personality, wit, and the understanding he gives through his music.

Mr. Cole received his musical education at the Birmingham Conservatory of Music. He has composed a number of well loved tunes, his latest being "Doodie-Doodle-Bug" that catchy tune he played at Centennial Park. He is an old-timer at broadcasting, having been a member of WSM staff for a number of years.

People of Monroe are eagerly anticipating the opportunity of hearing Mr. Cole at Lida Benton. Rarely does a more talented and entertaining figure appear on a local stage. Mr. Cole's style of concert is informal and his audiences always feel a part of the numbers he renders.

A nominal fee is being charged for the benefit of the Lida Benton P.-T. A. Prices of fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for school children.

MARION

Rev. and Mrs. B. G. Carnes of Wilmore, Ky., were the week-end guests of Rev. and Mrs. Eddie Brock. Reverend Carnes preached at the 11 o'clock service at the Methodist Church.

Students home from La. Teach for the week end included Mary Margaret Griggs, Sue Melton, Dorothy Jean Gilbert, Anne Melton, Murphy Oliver, George Sehon, Wayne Medlin, Clyde Brasher and Kenneth Bowen.

Mrs. T. D. Reppond, Miss Anne Love, Mrs. E. H. Maroney and Mrs. B. K. Watson attended the rose festival in Tyler, Tex., last week.

The Baptist Church, which has been without a pastor since May, has called the Rev. Keith Babb of Warren, Ark. He accepted the call and he and his family, have moved in the parsonage.

Is The Catholic Church A MENACE TO DEMOCRACY?

Every now and then a false rumor about the Catholic Church gets into circulation and—for a time—fools a lot of people.

Usually such rumors die out when fair-minded people learn the truth. But some of them pop up again like "ghosts" out of the distant past, to deceive people who have not heard them before.

The one most prevalent today is that American freedom is in danger from "the anti-democratic program of the Roman hierarchy." This, to some people, will sound new and alarming. Actually, there is nothing new about it.

Catholics of a century ago heard the same "alarm"...that the Church was hostile to our form of government—that she was anti-republican in spirit and influence—that she would disregard our free institutions and deprive us of our self-government.

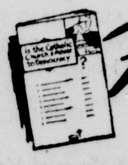
Even those who do not understand the teaching and practices of the Catholic Church will have to admit the falsity of this rumor... for the evidence of a hundred years contradicts it in every particular. The Catholic people always have stood shoulder-to-shoulder with their non-Catholic fellow-citizens in building and defending our liberty and free institutions.

The rumor of today...like the rumor of a hundred years ago... does not claim that the Catholic Church is harmful to men's souls. It does not claim that the Church endangers the salvation of mankind. Its entire objection is that the Church is hostile to our political and social institutions.

In this there is a remarkable resemblance to the "alarm" sounded against Jesus Christ Himself.

"If we let this man go," said the Savior's critics, "the Romans will come and take away our name and our nation."

Some think that Catholics should get their blood pressure up and reply angrily to these rumors. This is not necessary. We know that the American people of all faiths ...with their traditional sense of justice... will boot this ghost back into its closet without our help.



Free But if you would like to know the Catholic attitude toward democratic freedom, our form of self-government, and the rights of the State and the individual, write today for free pamphlet on the subject. Just ask for Pamphlet No. KC-21.

Grammont and Catalpa Streets

Ernest Duncan Holloway, minister.

A congregation meeting is called for today, Sunday, October 14, at the close of the orning worship. Dr. O. M. Anderson, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Bastrop, is the guest preacher. He will moderate the congregational meeting. The purpose of the meeting is to consider the resignation of the pastor, and to concur in his request for a dissolution of the relationship between minister and people, if the way be clear. "More Light on God" is the theme of the evening hour of worship. The text is one of the striking of holy writ: "And God said unto Moses, I am that I am."

The church school attendance is good. Will you attend this Lord's day that the goal set may be reached? With your presence we will have 300 plus.

A hearty welcome awaits you at all hours of worship.

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

By William E. Gilroy, D.D.

A puzzling and embarrassing incident in the Bible is the story of Abraham's lapse from truthfulness in representing his wife, Sarah, to be his sister, when they were confronted with danger in Egypt (Genesis 12:10-20).

The incident is so at variance with everything else that is recorded of Abraham, a record remarkable in every way, that one can only regard it as the sort of lapse that does sometimes occur in the lives of men whose general character and action are on a high plane.

It seems strange to think of a man of faith and courage, a peaceful and magnanimous preventer of strife between his herdsmen and Lot's, and the utterer of a high and beautiful prayer, resorting to a cheap lie. He lied out of fear for his own life and gave no thought to the fate of Sarah.

It was a lapse in the life of a good man, not at all indicative of the high character in which everywhere else Abraham appears. The case of Jacob, Abraham's grandson, is very different.

Jacob, in his early life, at least, does not appear as a good man, lapsing into a temporary act, or character, of weakness or evil. In contrast there is in him something fundamentally bad. He is a schemer and trickster, mean and selfish. A glimmering of something better appears in his romantic love for Rachel, and he does ultimately give every indication of having become a better man.

But no glossing over of the evil in the early life of Jacob can make him better than he was. The evil in him was deep, underlying his trickery and vicious scheming. Yet that early evil makes the transformation in his character all the more significant.

Two things, I think, stand out boldly as we consider Abraham and Jacob. One, as we think of Abraham, is that no man should be judged by any one incident, or phase, of his life. Even good men may lapse and fail at times, and should be judged only by their whole record of character, purpose and achievement. And the other, as we think of Jacob, is that no man's character, however evil, is necessarily fixed. Even a bad man may become a good man.

The experience of passing from badness to goodness, from death unto life, as the Apostle John defines it, we commonly associate with the saving power of the Gospel. But Jesus did not invent or originate the Gospel. He proclaimed, and gave effect to, what is in the eternal nature of God and man. He spoke of Abraham as seeing His day, and in seeing it being glad. So Jacob, in the experience of life, and in the providence of God, may be thought of as similarly anticipating the day of the Gospel.

His wrestling with the divine messenger (Genesis 32:24-30) is the widely accepted symbol of man seeking God's blessing and a better way. But the evidence in the transformation of Jacob I find in the incident of his returning, wealthy and prosperous, to face the possible, and just, vengeance of Esau, whom he had wronged. Esau appears nobly in that incident. But Jacob, by thinking only of others and their safety, sheds his selfishness and redeems his tarnished past.

Our Children

NO FAULTFINDING

Anybody can find fault. It is as easy as drawing one's breath, but far less helpful and healthy. It can so easily become a habit that one should be most careful about indulging in it. Such a habi will cost friends breed an atmosphere of dislike and resentment, do nobody any good and many people harm.

Before pointing out a fault in someone's actions, work or attitudes, it would be well to consider whether or not it is your duty to do so. Self - appointed critics are rarely helpful and usually resented. We are not our brothers' keepers in that respect but in quite the opposite. Being another's keeper means being his friend and rarely does a friend find it necessary or wise to find fault. What he does is to encourage, praise whenever possible, build up the strength of his friend and prove his affection for him in terms of service.

Parents and teachers need to make this a matter of common practice and withhold fault - finding whenever possible. It is remarkable how much of a child's mistaken behavior can be overlooked with profit to all concerned. A child breaks the point off his pencil during a lesson. He either dropped it or chewed it, maybe deliberately borke it. A gesture indicating where another may be had is all that is necessary. No remarks. No hard looks. A youngster steals cookies beyond a healthy limit. They make him sick. That's a more powerful lesson than any scolding or punishment could provide.

Mary Jane chews gum in the presence of an elderly guest. John Henry keeps his seat when a lady enters the room. Peter talks with his mouth full. Mary Lou does not hang up her coat. A calm reminder, a private admonition will be more helpful than a sharp criticism in a hard voice tinged with anger and impatience. Corrections can be made in friendly fashion and so rouse no feeling of resentment.

To some people the sight of a child unleashes a spirit of faultfinding. That only makes a bad matter worse. Hold back the criticism and search for something kindly, something that will bring the child's shoulders up, tilt his head and lift his spirits. He needs that lift.

Of course he needs correction. That must be done in affection, in privacy, between two friends. Affection kindles the desire to earn it while resentment hardens the heart. Hold to the better way and arrive sooner with better grace.

An obedient child is liked by everyone and requires little training on the parent's part if training is started in babyhood. Dr. Patri tells how to guide children in obedience in Booklet No. 301. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3 - cent stamp to him, c-o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Pastor's Resignation Will Be Discussed

Dr. O. M. Anderson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Bastrop, will occupy the pulpit of the Monroe First Presbyterian Church this morning. Following the service at 11 a.m., there will be a congregational meeting held when action will be considered in connection with the resignation of the pastor Dr. Ernest Duncan Holloway.

A good sized attendance of all concerned is desired at this meeting.

John Morelli, Brandeis University football guard, has the hobby of upholstering.

Sodality Spends Mont Meeting In Prayer, Irish Unconquered

Fire Prevention Week was served at St. Matthew's wit daily, brief practice drill, sometimes with two drills a Students participated seriously this annual precautionary m ure sponsored each fall by nat al and city officials.

Sodality members spent t monthly spiritual meeting prayer beginning with a pilg age from the school to the sh of Our Lady of Fatima which erected in the sisters' chapel of St. Francis Sanitarium. There rosary was recited, led by S Hays, and a short mental pra period was conducted by the m erator, Sister M. Dorothea, D. . . . Sodalists observed the fe of the maternity of the Bles Virgin Mary, Thursday, Octo 11, by attending eight o'clock mass, and receiving holy c munion in a body . . . first meeting for the aspirants the Sodality was held on Octo 8 in room 301 with vice - pref Rosina Lisotta, presiding. Pl were drawn for the studies of aspirants, and the qualification quisites for aspirants desiring be received on December 8.

Various impressions of stude at St. Matthews's were voiced cently. In regard to the Fight Irish and their battle with the L berjacks of Clarks, La., Thurs night at Brown Stadium, Nick C ti had this to report: "Spectat said that that was a game long be remembered. A hard bat A good game!" And Ralph N man who scored a touchdown the defeated Irish. "The Lumb jacks were expected to beat Irish by about 30 points but Fighting Irish held the heavily vored Lumberjacks down to points, while the Irish made points." Mona Lee Ticheli outli the work of the Matthuettes: "T i. an organization of girls. Th purpose is to help promote sch spirit.

They do this by cheering at football battles and other gam They also participate in parad along with other city schools. Th president is Maria Maggio and th vice - president is Betty Eber Marcie Ann Renaud is their s retary - treasurer. There are th ty - eight members in the squ and each is vitally interested doing a perfect piece of work all for the good of the schoo

Speaking in praise of the adva tages derived from knowing a f eign language, Joan Miller state "If one plans to go to college knowledge of foreign langua might be compulsory. In any eve such a knowledge proves to mighty useful." French, Spani and Latin classes are held at Matthew's in an effort to meet needs of the pupils who are a bitious in these fields . . . Rega ing the usefulness of the typi instruction received at the scho and the trying experiences som times associated with learni the art of the keys, Ethel Lee La dreaux says: "As everyone kno it is very good to know how type. Typing is always handy. B it is plenty hard to learn. Spe tests are the things that challen us when sister gives a test, a . . have to concentrate in a roo with so many people in it. B that is part of our training. O teacher, Sister Laurentia, D. C tells us encouragingly that t work will come easier as tim goes by. We hope so, anyway . . . Thus it is at the Parochi School across the way. The bo and girls come and go, their hear and minds are acquainted eac day, and they continue to grow the beauty of their heritage.

Worried over your future?

"Is there anyone who isn't?" Before you say that . . . look around you. At certain folks you know in your community. At famous ones you read about as well. The ones who seem to have a kind of strength, an inner confidence, a point of view that makes them seem so sure of where they're going. It can't be just coincidence that these are the men and women who—go to church!

For nothing can take the place of church in your life—in anyone's life.

By turning to religion, by reaffirming their faith, new thousands every day are gathering new strength, new hope, new courage.

Families, finding themselves through faith, are being brought closer . . . becoming real families, strong against the world, happier, more tolerant among themselves.

Young folk, finding themselves through faith, are learning the true values that make them want to spurn the false.

Men and women of the workaday world are gaining a new sense of "the balance of things" . . . the inner security that brings success to work as well as to life . . . by finding themselves through faith.

Can you honestly say that things have been better for you, going it alone? Or wouldn't you rather join these neighbors . . . and find a happier, more successful life—through faith!

Find yourself through faith

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes, A cross or critical word or look from one you love is like a knife in the heart. We enjoy hearing gossip about the troubles of our married neighbors, but the same troubles at home disrupt all the unity of emotions, and lower faith in oneself and lessen the hold on the other's love. It decreases our sense of personal worth (the most precious of our feeling of importance — the deepest hurt human nature can receive.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. Kurt Lewin, late eminent psychologist, said, (paraphrased): "Democracy encourages and safeguards the differences and inequalities between individuals and groups because it promises tolerance to all but the intolerant. Democracy guarantees the right of individuals and groups to be different and express their own personalities and opinions." Communism and Nazism are precisely the opposite. They make men slaves.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes, but apparently a lot of the ideas are wrong. Columbia University has published a carefully weighed map of the average New orker's ideas of the "West." Here are some highlights: "Indiana (my home state) was until recently an Indian Reservation!" "So you're moving to Indianapolis. I'll give you a letter to my niece in Minneapolis" (600 miles!) "He entered the Marathon Swim from Los Angeles to Hawaii." (Some swim!) "He's moving to Dallas to be near his mother in El Paso!" (500 miles!) But then no doubt us "Westerners" are just as big ignoramuses about the "East."

HUNGRY THRONG BEGS FOR FOOD

Meador Tells Of Hungry Kiddies And Aged Folk Seeking To Eat

Cpl. Huey Meador, 21, a licensed Baptist minister and acting chaplain in the Korean war, has returned for a short leave and is now visiting his mother, Mrs. Mattie Meador, 2404 Polk street, Monroe. He tells a distressing tale of starvation and privation of the people of Korea.

Little children, old men and women are to be seen on all sides he said and they are in many cases starving to death. They search refuse piles where men in arms have cast tin cans after their contents have been removed. These desperate people hope to find a scrap of food remaining, he said.

They beg food of the army and it is pitiful to be forced to be unable to provide aid. Many a time, Meador said he gave of his own rations for the need was so pressing he could not resist.

Meador said that the people are hungry for temporal food and equally hungry for spiritual food. He endeavored to do what he could to make them realize that they can secure spiritual help if they will earnestly seek it.

Meador was participant in a number of bloody battles. He told of how our men were trapped at the big reservoir when 12,000 were surrounded by 150,000 of the enemy. Our men were able by a miracle, he said, to fight the way out and casualties were far lighter than anticipated.

Meador will preach Sunday night at McClendon Baptist Church and a week from Sunday night at Ridge Avenue Baptist Church. He said that he had conducted a great revival at McClendon Church several years ago, and that Ridge Avenue Church is his home church. He was licensed to preach through efforts of Rev. Tom Mitchell, Ridge Avenue pastor, in 1946, and he later studied in Acadia Baptist academy. He entered armed service Sept. 6, 1949 and after training in camp at Paris Island, he was sent to Korea Aug. 14, 1950.

3 QUARTETS WILL GIVE PROGRAM

Neville High School To Be Scene Of Exciting Night Program

Three leading quartets will move into Monroe Thursday night, October 25 for a great music program. They are the Famous Statesmen, the Rangers Quartet and the Blackwood Brothers Quartet which will be head at Neville High School auditorium.

The Statesmen are from Atlanta, Ga., and are among the busiest groups in the south with two 30 minute radio programs on big broadcasting stations. The Rangers are stationed in Fallas, Tex., and are heard daily over the Liberty Broadcasting System. The Rangers have toured the U. S. for 20 years. The Blackwood Brothers are from Memphis, Tenn., and have two daily programs over a network that originates in that city.

The appearance here will be the first time that they have all appeared together west of the Mississippi.

This is the first appearance of these three quartets together west of the Mississippi river and it promises to be a battle of song when the three first tenors "Cat Freeman" of the Statesmen, "Denver Crumpler" of the Rangers and "Dan Husky" of the Blackwood Brothers meet. These boys are said to be the three highest first tenors in the nation. It will be a battle between "Big Chief Wilks" of the Statesmen, "Jimmy Jones" of the Rangers and "Bill Lyles" of the Blackwood Brothers. This program is beng sponsored by the Monroe Gospel Singing Club and all proceeds above expenses will go to sponsor the Gospel Singing School here next summer.

HESKETH TELLS OF CONVENTION

Recreation Leader Was Recent Participant In Boston Nat'l Congress

Jack Hesketh, director of the Monroe Recreational department, has just returned from Boston, Mass. where he attended the 33rd national recreation congress which was attended by 1,200 registered delegates.

"Recreation in Rural Areas" was the subject of one of the addresses, he said. The speaker stressed the fact that city people are now moving into the country and that there is a merging of two problems, that of the city and country. It was urged that rural recreation centers should be planned ahead of time to take in large areas instead of having small community setups.

Speaking on "Good Human Relations Through Employe Recreation," William S. Simpson, of Raybestos Manhatten, Inc., declared, "You can hire human energy for mechanically operated machines, but you can not hire enthusiasm or good will and initiative. This must come from good employe relations of which recreation is a major activity. In his business, the company yearly makes award to the employe who has done the most for community welfare.

"Defense Emergency Problems for Community Recreation - Military Personnel" was discussed. It was shown that providing recreation for personal and armed forces is highly essential. The serviceman is a displaced individual and must be treated as such and made to feel that he is being well provided for along all lines.

The most lively session of all was the one on "The Place of Citizen Boards in the Park and Recreation Movement." There was a highly interesting panel discussion. A tax expert from Boston was not hostile to boards but he was not for them. He was thinking in terms of pressure groups so that he was fearful lest taxes go up. The man who really received attention was the city manager from Portland, Maine, who declared he did not believe in any kinds of boards and that all city functions should be directly in charge of the city manager. I asked if he meant he would abolish school, library and recreational boards if in his power so to do, and he said he certainly would endeavor along that line. He might as well have dropped an atomic bomb at this point as the whole assembly was against him except the tax man and five recreational delegates.

One of the major problems discussed concerned "Recreation Personnel Policies and Practices," how we are to compete with industry for personnel. The discussion centered itself on methods to compete and fair play was one of the solutions.

Other subjects given attention were those entitled: "Midget Players, A Giant Problem;" "Nights Out for Young Adults;" "A New Horizon for Older Persons."

A tour of Boston was included in the program and the large football field that all high schools use for their games was inspected. It was a donation and cost three million dollars.

The weather was bad with rains almost daily. Almost every state was represented and some foreign countries, notably Japan.

PERMA-STONE OPENING HER

Will Be Host To Public At Louisville Ave. On Monday

The Perma-Stone of Monroe, Louisville avenue, will throw open its doors to the public for inspection on Monday.

This new business enterprise has been awarded an exclusive franchise for this construction which covering houses with a material that cannot easily be distinguished from stone.

The firm is composed of W. Davis, P. M. Brown and R. Meadows, all of whom have had extensive experience in Texarkana, Tex. in this work and come to Monroe , for they feel there is a great opening here in the building of homes all over with the new lifegiving Perma-Stone.

The company states that it is possible to make an old house new again with a luxurious, rugged appearance found in the most expensive stone construction to be had through Perma-Stone.

The house so protected will be transformed at little cost and will be made fireproof as well as beautiful.

The public will be entertained at the company Monday when many details of the new construction will be explained in detail.

COMING TO PARAMOUNT

Alice visits an enchanting world and has many fantastic adventures in Walt Disney's musical all-cartoon musical feature film "Alice In Wonderland" which opens a four-day engagement at the Paramount Theatre Wednesday. Shown in connection with "Alice" is "Nature's Half Acre," another true life adventure of Disney's, wherein real life miracles happen before your eyes.

In The Armed Services

Private First Class Felix V. Eppinette, U. S. marine corps, for service set forth in the following citation:

"For heroic achievement with operations against the enemy while serving with a marine infantry company in Korea on 2 March, 1951. This private first class displayed outstanding skill, courage and confidence in the performance of his company. On one occasion while attacking numerically superior enemy forces in the vicinity of Hoengsong, Korea, his platoon was pinned down by accurate fire from a strong well entrenched enemy machine emplacement. Though subject to direct enemy small arms, mortar and machine gun fire, he fearlessly moved to an exposed position in order to fire his rocket on the enemy placement. After firing his rocket launcher he then with complete disregard for his own personal safety, retrieved a friendly machine gun whose crew had been killed or wounded and put it in action against the enemy. By this initiative and aggressive action he completely neutralized the enemy machine gun emplacement, thereby enabling his platoon to continue their advancement and setting an example with the highest traditions of the U. S. naval service."

The foregoing was awarded with authority to wear the combat 'V' by G. C. Thomas, major general U. S. marine corps saw that Eppinette was awarded a Bronze Star medal.

Pfc. Felix V. Eppinette is son of Mrs. Fred Eppinette, Route 1, Rayville, La.

Movie Premiere Is Offered As Prize

Some lucky person somewhere in the world will have a movie premier in his or her home.

Paramount has announced something unique in world premieres will be staged for "My Favorite Spy" the new comedy starring Bob Hope and Hedy Lamarr. A contest has been launched to choose the lucky person whose own home will be the scene of this most unusual premiere. The award will be made to the person who writes the best letter explaining, "Why I would like to have "My Favorite Spy" premiered in my home."

The premiere, which will take place early in December, will be conducted with all the fanfare of a major Hollywood opening, complete with the searchlights and Bob Hope in person to be the host at a dinner for the winner, in the winner's home.

The contest is open to everyone in the United States and foreign countries, and Hope has personally invited servicemen stationed overseas to participate.

All letters should be mailed to Bob Hope Contest, Hollywood 38, Calif., and postmarked no later than October 30, 1951. The entries will be judged and the winner selected by a panel of celebrities.

Human Drama At Paramount Today

An unusual human drama woven around the career of a young tennis queen is presented in "Hard, Fast and Beautiful" which opens today at the Paramount Theatre with Claire Trevor and Sally Forrest in the starring roles.

Miss Trevor excellently portrays an ambitious and greedy woman who urges her talented daughter on to professional tennis fame so that she herself can live in luxury on the profits. The Ida Lupino production distributed by RKO Radio, also deftly exposes the schemes by which unscrupulous promoters take financial advantage of their young victims, and offers an interesting sidelight on some phases of tennis promotions.

A clever newcomer, Miss Forrest, scores as the pretty net champion, who finally realizes her mother's real objectives. Carleton G. Young offers a polished performance as a promoter. Robert Clarke, as the heroine's admirer, and Kenneth Patterson, as her ailing father also turn in fine work. Ida Lupino's direction keeps the action mounting to a dramatic concluion. Collier Young produced the screen version of the John R. Tunis novel. RKO Radio distributes.

Comedian Errol Dies Of Attack

Hollywood, Oct. 12.—(AP)— Leon Errol, famed rubber-legged comedian, died of a heart attack today. He was 70 years old.

The comic entered Good Samaratin Hospital for a checkup yesterday, complaining of chest pains.

A native of Sydney, Australia, Errol came to this country in 1911. He had a long successful career in the Ziegfeld Follies, and later came to Hollywood where he made more than a score of movies over a period of 20 years.

He started his film career in two-real comedies, immediately popular. Thereafter he made six of the two-reelers each year, and played featured and star roles in bigger films.

Some of his best-remembered roles were with the late Lupe Velez in the "Mexican Spitfire" series.

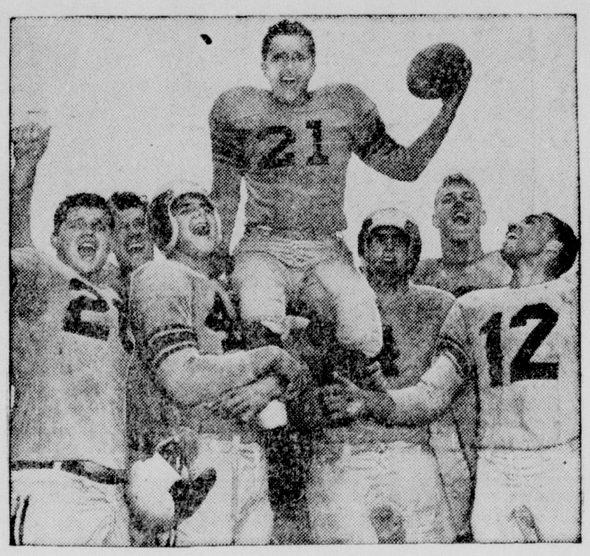
Errol celebrated his 50th year in show business this year.

SHOWING AT TEM TODAY



JOHN DEREK IS "SATURDAY'S HERO," a bigtime college football player in the Sidney Buchman production co-starring Donna Reed at the TEM Theatre. It's a Columbia picture.

'Saturday's Hero' Vivid Lowdown Of Football's Body - Building System

John Derek, Donna Reed Starred In Story Of Young Athlete

A goodly percentage of Hollywood's population recently spent months playing football, talking football and dreaming football — and all this when the rest of the country was watching baseball scores! The reason: the filming of "Saturday's Hero," Sidney Buchman's new production for Columbia Pictures, starring John Derek and Donna Reed at the Tem Theater.

"Saturday's Hero," based on Millard Lampell's novel, "The Hero," and written for the screen by Lampell and Sidney Buchman, is no run-of-the-gridiron football picture. It tells the realistic story of a young high school athlete, played by Derek, who jumps at the offer to play football for a tradition - bound eastern college. He quickly discovers that he is regarded only as one of the "kept men" in bigtime college football.

U. S. Senator J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, former president of the University of Arkansas, has said of "Saturday's Hero" that it is "a graphic portrayal of schocking practices as I know them!"

Producer Buddy Adler and director David Miller are said to have succeeded admirably in bringing this realistic story to the screen on a realistic and grandiose scale. Literally hundreds of California's finest football players overran the Rose Bowl, Pomona College, the Los Angeles Coliseum and other assorted stadia for the filming of the football scenes, under the technical advice of former U. S. C. players Mickey McCardle and Paul Cleary. A new camera technique was used for closeups of the players during the most gruelling moments of the game. Some 10,000 extras were paid to watch John Derek buck and weave his way to touchdowns on the field.

"Saturday's Hero" is the first football picture since 1931 to give movie fans more than a quick look at the game of football. Red Grange, the Galloping Ghost, made the first real football film, "One Minute to Play" in 1926. The same year, Richard Dix's "The Quarterback" was a serious attempt to dramatize football. "The Drop Kick," starring Richard Barthelmess, filmed in 1927, was another full exposition of the national game. Then in 1931, there was "The Spirit of Notre Dame." After that, there were plenty of pictures supposedly about football, but all of them were rah-rah films into which a few feet of football had been inserted to move the plot along. Now at long last, "Saturday's Hero" comes along to delight both football fans and moviegoers alike.

TO HONOR GRAND MASTER

Monroe Rebekah Lodge No. 66 will hold the regular meeting in the Woodmen Hall, Monday at 8 o'clock. Noble Grand Mildred Batten will preside. At 7 p. m. there will be a covered dish supper in the dining room to honor C. C. Woolfey, grand master of Louisiana. All Rebekahs are urged to attend.

The Chicago White Sox players were ordered to take physical and dental examinations before departing for their homes at season's end.

Preacher Roe is Brooklyn's first southpaw 20 - game winner in 19 years. The last lefty to do the trick was Watson Clark in 1932.

Disney's 'Alice In Wonderland' Opens At Paramount Wednesday

'Nature's Half Acre,' Another Disney Film, Also On Program

Walt Disney's "Alice in Wonderland," the all-cartoon musical wonderfilm, and "Nature's Half Acre," another real life miracle, open four-day engagement at the Paramount Theatre Wednesday.

Walt Disney, who always can be depended upon to provide the utmost in delightful, spellbinding entertainment, excels all previous efforts with his all-cartoon musical, "Alice in Wonderland," which opens Wednesday at the Paramount.

Designed for laughing purposes, "Alice in Wonderland" is pure escapist entertainment. Disney has faithfully brought the spirit of the famed Lewis Carroll nonsense tale to the screen with all of its fanciful delights. From the moment Alice starts down the tunnel in pursuit of the elusive White Rabbit until she concludes her fabulous adventures, the story moves swiftly and is completely absorbing and hilarious.

All of the creatures of Carroll's facile imagination come to life on the screen. Little 12-year-old Kathryn Beaumont scores as the voice of Alice. Other off-screen voices which bring an astounding reality to various characters include those of Ed Wynn, for the Mad Hatter; Richard Haydn, for the Caterpillar; Sterling Holloway, for the Cheshire Cat; Jerry Colonna, for the March Hare; Bill Thompson, for the Dodo and the White Rabbit, and Verna Felton, for the raucus Queen of Hearts.

Disney's pictures are always distinguished by the introduction of numerous new hit tunes. Currently he offers "All in the Golden Afternoon," "The Unbirthday Song," "Very Good Advice," "I'm Late," and "In a World of My Own." Mack David, Al Hoffman and Jerry Livingston wrote "The Unbirthday Song" and Sammy Fain and Bob Hillard wrote other captivating songs mentioned.

For Walt Disney's third True-Life Adventure, "Nature's Half Acre," fifteen naturalist-cameramen were required to cover the field of insect, bird and plant life for a dramatic presentation of battle for survival in the grass root jungle. Bee and beetle, spider and wasp, mantis and butterfly, ant and moth and many others in a living kaleidoscope of startling tints and shapes, loom up under the magnifying lenses as strange monsters. The picture, in print by Technicolor, and with a musical background is released via RKO Radio.

The PHANTOM

By LEE FALK and WILSON McCOY

YOU'VE PASSED ALL THE TESTS BUT ONE! UNARMED, YOU MUST FACE THE CHAMPION OF THE JUNGLE, IN A FIGHT TO THE DEATH!

TO PROVE HE IS THE PHANTOM, THE PHANTOM MUST REPEAT ALL THE FEATS DONE BY HIS OWN GRANDFATHER YEARS BEFORE.

WHO IS THE JUNGLE CHAMPION?

NO MAN OF OUR TRIBE. WE'VE SEARCHED THE JUNGLE TO FIND THE RIGHT MAN. OUR WARRIORS ARE APPROACHING HIM NOW--THE HERMIT GIANT!

"NO ONE HAS EVER SEEN SUCH A MIGHTY MAN! HE PUSHES OVER TREES FOR FIREWOOD, KILLS GREAT BEASTS WITH A CLUB - NO MAN CAN STAND AGAINST HIM!"

WE'VE COME ON A PEACEFUL MISSION!

THE CANNIBAL DELEGATION APPROACHES THE HERMIT GIANT!

FLASH GORDON by Mac Raboy and Don Moore

LEAVING THE MARTIAN PIRATE TOXO SECURELY BOUND IN THE CABIN, FLASH AND DALE KEEP A CLOSE WATCH ON THE STRANGE ROCKET SHIPS THAT HAVE SUDDENLY APPEARED OVER THE DRIFTING SPACE ISLAND. "IF THEY'RE FROM MARS," FLASH SAYS, "WE'LL HAVE TO TRY TO FIGHT THEM OFF. THIS SPACE ISLAND WOULD GIVE THEM A PERFECT BASE FROM WHICH TO ATTACK THE EARTH!"

AS THE ROCKETS SWOOP BY, FLASH GETS A SWIFT GLIMPSE OF AN EARTHMAN AT THE CONTROLS. "DON'T SHOOT," HE SHOUTS TO DALE, "THEY'RE FRIENDS." IN A FEW MOMENTS THE RESCUING ROCKETS PUT OUT MAGNETIC MOORINGS TO LINK THEM TO THE SPACE ISLAND.

WHEN THE RESCUE ROCKETS HAVE DRAWN CLOSE, THEIR LEADER HAILS FLASH. "WHAT HAPPENED? HE ASKS. "YOU'RE OFF COURSE--HEADED FOR MARS!" FLASH STARTS TO ANSWER, THEN STUMBLES FORWARD. SENSING THAT THE SPACE ISLAND'S OXYGEN SUPPLY MUST BE EXHAUSTED, THE RESCUE CAPTAIN HURRIES ABOARD.

UNDER THE EXPERT MINISTRATIONS OF THE ROCKET PILOTS, FLASH QUICKLY REVIVES AND TELLS OF TOXO'S RAID ON THE SPACE PLATFORM. AFTER A SHORT CONFERENCE, THEY DECIDE THAT THE RESCUE PARTY WILL BEGIN REPAIRS ON THE SPACE PLATFORM WHILE FLASH SETS OUT FOR MARS IN ONE OF THE ROCKETS.

"I WANT TO KEEP WATCH ON THOSE MARTIANS," FLASH EXPLAINS. "MAYBE WE CAN HEAD OFF A NEW RAID." ONE OF THE EAGER YOUNG ROCKET CREWMEN PLEADS TO JOIN THE DARING MISSION. "OKAY, LINC," FLASH SAYS. "YOU'RE IN! LET'S LOAD UP AND GET GOING!"

READER'S DIGEST Reported The Same Research Which Proves That Brushing Teeth Right After Eating with

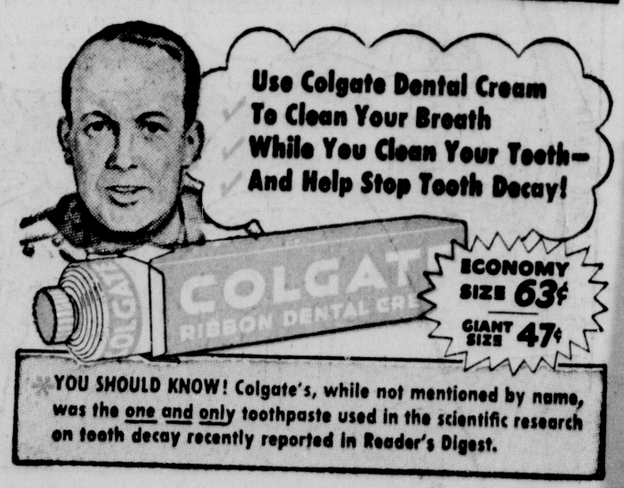
STOPS TOOTH DECAY BEST

Most Thoroughly Proved and Accepted Home Method Of Oral Hygiene Known Today!

Reader's Digest recently reported the very same research which proves that the Colgate way of brushing teeth right after eating stops tooth decay best! The most thoroughly proved and accepted home method of oral hygiene known today!

Yes, and two years' research showed the Colgate way stopped more decay for more people than ever before reported in all dentifrice history! No other dentifrice—ammoniated or not—offers such proof—the most conclusive proof ever reported for a dentifrice of any type!



YOU SHOULD KNOW! Colgate's, while not mentioned by name, was the one and only toothpaste used in the scientific research on tooth decay recently reported in Reader's Digest.
